Sackett Buys Printing Plant

PORTLAND, April 5 (AP) — Sheldon F. Sackett, who has expanded his newspaper holdings from Coos Bay to Seattle and Vancouver, Wash., intends to start another daily in Portland —perhaps this fall.

Sackett announced last night the purchase of the Metropolitan Printing company here for approximately $1,000,000. He said he would use its printing facilities to change his recently acquired Portland Sun from a weekly to a daily.

Because of the plant's previous commitments, however, the change-over will not come for several months, he added. It would be the third daily in Portland.

Sackett said ex-U. S. Senator Hugh Mitchell of Washington would become editorial director of the Sackett newspapers—the Coos Bay times, and the recently acquired Vancouver, Wash., Sun, Seattle Star and Portland Sun.

Wheat Shows Gain On Today's Market

CHICAGO, April 5 (AP)—Strength in May wheat featured an otherwise dull grain market today. While most wheat deliveries eased, the May contract was firm on trade reports that the army quartermaster corps will buy a large quantity of flour in the near future.

Corn moved indecisively most of the session but oats displayed a firm undertone.

Wheat closed 2 cents lower to 2¼ higher, May $2.48¼-½, corn was ½ lower to 1 cent higher, May $1.75¾-1.76, and oats were ¼-½ higher, May 87-87¼.

Cascade

CASCADE SUMMIT, April 4 —James Vaughn of Cruzatte has been confined to his home suffering from a severe case of influenza. His temperature registered 104.

Lowell Hall returned to Eugene to join his family after spending a week at Cascade Summit making up the quarterly post office report. Hall was a former owner of Summit lodge and postmaster here. He has turned the post office over to the new owners.

The early spring people here had hoped for has been despaired of as snow has fallen for several days. The depth is now 36 inches, which is an average depth for this time of the year.

One man here, who on April 1 was called on the phone and given to understand it was the Pot o' Gold program and that he would have received a thousand dollars had he been listening to his radio, which he had already admitted he hadn't, later decided that as the Pot o' Gold program is not on the air on Tuesday evenings it must have been an April Fool's joke.

Mary Maxwell of Klamath Falls has been a guest at the Elmer Adkison residence here.

Midland

The Midland Victory club met at the home of Mrs. Charles Gray in March with a stork shower for Mrs. Louis Paddock who was in the hospital with flu.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Caroline Huff April 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Casebeer and children are visiting with Mrs. Casebeer's family in Midland, Mrs. Katie Phipps and family. Mr. Phipps passed away last week.

Mrs. Lyle Loomis is in Hillside hospital suffering with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Simmons have moved to Bend where Simmons is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burke and family who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Mistler have moved to the housing project at the former navy base. They are now living in one of the quonset huts.

Average supplies of food energy in this country are expected to be at least as high in 1947 as in 1946.
