Beef Over Money Ends In Battle

A beef over money in a doughnut shop resulted in a couple of broken ribs for E. G. Thomas, Klamath Falls painter, who was patched up at Klamath Valley hospital and then returned to pay for his cup of coffee.

Thomas and a second man whose name was not learned, engaged in an argument at the doughnut shop counter and before they were asked to carry on their differences out of doors, managed to spill a considerable amount of coffee on the walls. The quarrel thickened and Thomas wound up with injuries. Police said they had no report of the altercation.

Car Thett Leads To Suspended Sentence

Newton James Lewis, 20, and Russell Burton Hicks, 18, held in the county jail since Monday in connection with a car prowl, were given suspended sentences of 90 days each yesterday afternoon by Acting Justice of the Peace Lamar Townsend.

Carl Shaver, 21, arrested with the other two boys, has been released on bail. He has employed an attorney and apparently intends to stand trial. The charge is petty larceny. A fourth boy, only 17 years old, is in custody of the juvenile office.

THEFT

The California-Pacific Utilities service office on Riverside was entered forcibly last night, but as far as can be determined this morning nothing was taken, according to Deputy Sheriff Jack Franey.

The prowler pried open a back door with a pinch bar, then broke out a pane of glass to get in, and on the inside pried open a box of tools.
