Wocus Pumice Tile Plant Features Curing Process

Among the numerous pumice tile plants that have developed in the Klamath area in recent years and which now constitute a considerable industry, is the Crystolite Products company set-up at Wocus, where an efficient gravity method is used in introducing raw materials into a processing machine. The plant also features a live steam plan of curing its products.

Present capacity of the plant is approximately 3000 units per day, but production is nearer 1500. Particular features of the tile being produced, according to Mrs. Dorothea Buck, co-owner of the plant, are the wide range of sizes offered, the strength given by the curing process and the low cost of construction through use of the pumice tile units.

Enlarging on the process utilized in the manufacturing procedure, Mrs. Buck explained that the plant is located so near a Southern Pacific railroad siding that raw materials are unloaded directly into the plant, which is built below the track level. By this means valuable time and labor is not spent in expensive re-handling of the raw materials.

Following the forming and vibrating operations the new tile are cured for a period of 24 hours in a kiln into which steam is injected. The temperature is kept at 110 degrees and the humidity at 100 per cent of saturation during the curing process. After the steam treatment, the tile is given a 12-hour dry-heat cure, during which time the temperature is held at 90 degrees and kept circulating. Mrs. Buck said the 36-hour process is equivalent to a 28-day open air cure.

According to Mrs. Buck the tile is periodically inspected to insure uniform grading. Only by making a superior product, and keeping it that way, said Mrs. Buck, can the pumice tile industry establish itself permanently in the economic life of the Klamath area.

POTATOES

CHICAGO, July 10 (AP-USDA)—Potatoes: arrivals 132; on track 326; total U. S. shipments 946; supplies moderate; demand fair for best, slow for others; market about steady; Arizona Bliss Triumphs $4.60; California Long Whites $4.40-4.65 (all washed and U. S. No. 1 quality).

There were 2 per cent fewer crews on U. S. farms in 1947 than in 1946, but the 1947 cows supplied 3 per cent more milk.

Corn Futures Leap Ahead

CHICAGO, July 10 (AP)—Corn futures leaped as much as 6 cents a bushel today on the board of trade, and wheat was up more than 4 cents a bushel at times in heavy trading. Oats were influenced by the advances and gained more than a cent in some cases.

September, December and May corn reached new seasonal peaks. July corn, however, due to setbacks in the previous two sessions, remained below its recent all-time peak of $2.17¼.

Mill and commission house buying, and reports of increases in flour prices, were bullish influences in wheat.

Wheat climbed further near the end of the session and closed 3 to 5 cents higher than the previous finish, July $2.30½-¾, corn was up 2⅛ to 4⅛ cents, July $2.13½-¾, and oats were 1⅝ to 2⅛ cents higher, July $1.00⅝-½.

MARKETS and FINANCIAL

Buyers Pick Up Market

NEW YORK, July 10 (AP)—Buyers returned to the stock market today and put up steels, motors, textiles and a wide assortment of special issues fractions to 2 or more points.

Considerable hesitancy ruled during the morning after yesterday's first reaction in ten straight sessions. Offerings were notably timid and trends began to harden around midday with the metals in front. Dealings quickened on the revival, slowing later as quotations waved. There was another bulge in the final hour but volume was moderate. While many pivotals did little or nothing on the comeback, plus signs were numerous at the close. Transfers for the full proceedings remained in the neighborhood of 1,000,000 shares.

Highs for 1947 were registered for St. Regis paper (on talk of resumed dividends), Acme Steel, Phillips Petroleum and A. O. Smith.

In the advancing division were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngtown Sheet, American Woolen, Wyandotte Worsted, Lowenstein, Consolidated Natural Gas, Publicker Industries, Union Bag and Paper, Chrysler, General Motors, American Telephone, Western Union "A", Electric Power and Light, Kennecott, American Smelting, U. S. Rubber, Deere, Philip Morris, Santa Fe and Northern Pacific. Extra or increased dividends lifted Waukesha Motors, Colgate-Palmolive and American Stove.
