Prisoners Flee Jail; Two Killed

CANON CITY, Colo., Dec. 31 (AP)—One more convict was killed and another was wounded today as armed men pushed through snow and subfreezing cold in search for desperate prisoners still at large after a bloody escape from the Colorado penitentiary last night.

The score stood: two convicts shot to death, two wounded, four recaptured, four still at large.

Orville J. Turley, 54-year-old Denver murderer, was slain and Richard F. Heilman, 24, a kidnaper, was wounded in the head and one arm when officers poured a hail of fire into a trailer house nine miles east of Canon City.

Earlier, John Klinger, 43, a robber, was shot and killed by police in downtown Canon City. R. L. Freeman, 23, a Pueblo Colo. kidnaper, was wounded in the leg before surrendering in the mountains.

Woman Wounded

A woman and a prison guard were seriously wounded and four other guards were mauled brutally after the dozen convicts broke to freedom from cell block No. 6—the isolation section for the prison's worst inmates.

Still at large this morning were James B. Sherbondy, 28, an Eagle county murderer; Harold Hathaway, 27, Pueblo robber; Ernest La Vergne, 31, Denver robber, and John Smalley, 35, habitual criminal from Denver.

C. L. Robinson, a workman, was alone in the trailer dwelling when Turley and Heilman walked in, first telling him: "We're the law." Both carried guns.

"Later they told me they were escaped convicts." Robinson said, "and that officers were close behind them. They said they were just interested in getting some food and didn't threaten me.

"Then some officers closed in on the place and I hit the floor."

Heilman's wounds were believed not serious.

One of the recaptured felons, A. B. Tolley, 21-year-old slayer, told newsmen he and another prisoner sawed their way out of their cells and then freed the others: "Them saws are all over the joint," he declared.

The prisoners lashed out against Guard A. C. Clark, 53, when he unlocked the cell block and stepped in at 5:30 last night. Knocking Clark insensible with an iron pipe, the convicts turned on three other guards as they ran to his aid.

Within minutes after the break, police received reports of four cars being stolen. However, all were recovered within a few hours in the Canon City vicinity and the fugitives were believed to be on foot now.

From one of the cars, the convicts obtained a six-shooter revolver and a quantity of shells.

Clothing Goes To Yule Ship

The Christmas Ship committee expressed gratification today on the amount of clothing handed in by Klamath residents for shipment to Europe and advised that more clothing can be used and accepted at Salvation Army headquarters on Klamath avenue up to 5 p.m. New Year's Day.

One shipment of food and clothing has gone from Klamath Falls to Portland and Seattle for loading on the Christmas ship, and still another shipment will leave here. Fred E. Fleet, chairman, and Earl Kent, Jaycee coordinator, said today that they hoped to be able to duplicate the first shipment and they stressed the donation of money, no matter how small, was acceptable for the rest of the week. Money may be dropped in receptacles at either bank or in the Klamath theatres, or may be left at Mayor Ed Ostendorf's office in the city hall.

Trucks Barred From Streets

NEW YORK, Dec. 31 (AP)—Non-essential truck and passenger car traffic was barred from New York City's snow-clogged streets today as milder weather moved into the area, speeding the giant task of removing last Friday's 25.8-inch record snowfall.

The embargo on unnecessary vehicular travel was clapped on "until further notice" yesterday by Police Commissioner Arthur W. Wallander as the largest snow removal force in the city's history—31,111 workers and 2607 pieces of equipment—fought the huge drifts still impeding normal operations.

The forces were augmented in the wake of a weather bureau forecast that a new, but possibly light, snowstorm was swinging toward the metropolitan area.

Instead, the outlook was for rising temperatures and an accompanying thaw.

The commissioner's order excepted taxis and physicians responding to sick calls.

Separation Causes Voltage Shortage

A separation between The California Oregon Power company and Pacific Gas and Electric lines in the vicinity of Castella, below Dunsmuir, Calif., resulted in low voltage affectations here shortly before 11:30 a.m.

Copco officials said that the separation would affect anything sensitive to voltage such as radio stations, transmitters, teletype machines and Western Union equipment. Home radios and utilities were not affected.

JP Ponders Assault Case

CHILOQUIN, Dec. 31 — Justice of the Peace Lloyd Peters took under advisement the case of Lorenzie Edwards, 22-year-old negro charged with assault with intent to kill after a four-hour preliminary hearing yesterday.

J. C. O'Neill, attorney for Edwards, asked Judge Peters to either dismiss the case for insufficiency of evidence or to reduce the charge to a lesser degree of assault.

Judge Peters delayed any action for at least 24 hours.

Edwards, held in the county jail in lieu of $5000 bail, is accused of cutting Clarence Hamilton, 17, with a pocketknife at a Chiloquin dance hall November 16.

Wallace Move Helps Demos

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 (AP) — A return of democratic party machinery to "regular" control in key political states was forecast by Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) today as the result of Henry A. Wallace's independent bid for the presidency.

Sparkman, who headed the congressional speakers' bureau in the 1946 campaign, said he believes Wallace's third party campaign will have the "healthy effect" of increasing democratic activity.

"To many times in the past we have been inclined to go to sleep, resting on the assumption that some groups outside the party organization would provide the votes we needed in vital states," Sparkman told a reporter.

"In some places the violently vocal left wing, which was in the minority, was allowed to get hold of the party machinery. Wallace's entry will cut these elements off and the regular democrats can take over again. It's a purge we should welcome."

Where any third party ticket would get its official start, however, remained in doubt. Some pointed to the organization meeting of the Progressive Citizens of America, scheduled for January 16 in Chicago, as a possible base for this take-off.

With or without a formal ticket, Wallace seemed likely to get on the ballot in key states. If he gets the ALP endorsement in New York, he will need no further action there.

In California, Wallace supporters would need petitions signed by only 27,597 persons, or the registration of an equal number of voters on his ticket, to get on the ballot.

Courtright On Leave

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31 (AP) — B. G. Courtright, 60, superintendent of the Klamath, Ore., Indian Agency, has asked for and received a 60-day leave with pay, William Zimmerman Jr., acting commissioner of Indian affairs, said Tuesday.

Courtwright's vacation started December 26. Zimmerman said there have been reports that Courtwright may be transferred, but as yet no decision has been made. Courtright has been with the Indian service 40 years and is eligible for retirement.

Indian bureau officials said the question of the return of E. R. Fryer to his prewar position as superintendent of the Navajo agency and the recall of the present superintendent, James Stewart, to Washington still is under consideration. A decision, they said, is likely by the end of the week.

Children Hurt In Snow Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31 (AP) — An artificial snow party in Golden Gate park turned into a near riot Tuesday, and 30 children and two adults were treated for injuries caused by icy snowballs.

Park emergency hospital at the park treated the victims who were struck by the snowballs, or fell on the slippery grass, in this city where it seldom snows.

Hospital attendants said some of the children's injuries were rather severe. Many were hit on the head and several in the eyes. Injuries to the two adults were described as "rather serious."

Thousands of children, many of whom never had seen snow before, had gathered to witness the artificial snow scene. About 10,000 of them got into violent snowball fights almost immediately and even bombarded a police patrol car which arrived in attempts to restore order.

Warren Doubts Wallace Chances

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Dec. 31 (AP) Every American citizen has the right to start a third political party in this country but, Governor Earl Warren, a candidate for the republican nomination, said Tuesday he does not believe enough voters will desert the major parties to make Henry Wallace's movement successful.

Further, he said, a multiplicity of parties is detrimental to democratic processes.

"If every leader who can not lead in his own party endeavors to destroy it by such means we would hardly be working toward the national unity that is so essential in these times. x x x"
