Grain Market Doesn't Hold Early Bulge

CHICAGO, (AP)—Only small price changes were recorded in grains on the board of trade today after the market failed to hold onto an early bulge.

Cold weather and prospects for exports this week brought buying into all cereals during the first few hours.

Wheat closed ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, December $2.54 ¼-⅜, corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, December $1.78 ¼-½, oats ¼-½ higher, December 93 ¼-⅜, rye (new style) ¼-1 ¼ lower, December $1.99 ⅛, soybeans 1 ½-2 ¾ lower, November $2.94 ¼-¾, and lard 17 to 25 cents a hundred pounds lower, November $14.50.

NSLI Checks Mailed Out

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The treasury department said today that through November 1 it mailed out 4,783,007 checks for the second national service life insurance (NSLI) dividend.

Payments to date total $396,568.

The veterans administration estimates that it will take some 8,200,000 checks to complete payment of next year.

The dividend is paid on those NSLI policies that have been in effect for at least three months between 1948 and 1951.

Separate checks are mailed for each policy. Policyholders may expect them from three to four months after their policy's anniversary date.

Lakeviewer Heads Antelope Study

LAKEVIEW—Charles H. Rouse, Lakeview, biologist with the U.S. fish and wildlife service, has been appointed to head a special study of the effect of sheep-tight fencing on the antelope population.

The study is to be conducted cooperatively by the bureau of land management, which will bear the cost; the fish and wildlife service, the state fish and game commission of Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota and Izaak Walton league officials.

The study is the result of a long-standing controversy between sheepmen of that area and the Izaak Walton league. The latter contends that the sheep-tight fencing has caused depletion of antelope herds because it prevents the animals from migrating to winter feeding grounds. Antelope, unlike deer and elk, will not jump fences.

Nazi Terrorists Plan Reunion

HAMBURG, Germany, (AP) — The "Waffen SS," Hitler's elite army corps which acquired a reputation for terrorism in world war two, was summoned Friday night to hold its first post-war convention in Hamburg next spring.

The "Waffen SS" was a combat unit distinct from the notorious "Allgemeine SS" which spread terror among the Germans even in peacetime as Hitler's private elite guard and was declared a criminal organization by the international military tribunal at Nuernberg.

SS units conducted forays behind Allied lines in captured Allied uniforms during the "Battle of the Bulge" in December, 1944. Many SS men were convicted of participation in the "Malmedy massacre" of American prisoners of war during the "Bulge."

BRT POLITICS

PORTLAND, (AP)—W. P. Kennedy, president of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen, said his union hasn't decided who it will support in the next presidential election. Kennedy, here for the union's Northwest convention, has been critical of Pres. Truman's attitude toward the union in labor disputes. But Kennedy indicated he might be ready to support Truman now.

Three Booked In California

SACRAMENTO, (AP) — Three men from Klamath Falls, Ore., were held in the county jail today on charges of having concealed weapons in their possession.

They were booked as Andrew G. Preston, 1021½ Main, Chester L. Moreland, 5657 Independence, and Stanley E. Mayfield, who gave a Klamath Falls post office box number as his address.

Sheriff's deputies said they found one pistol behind the rear seat of the taxicab they were driving; a second under the front seat and two boxes of bullets.

Bartender Motorizes His Chair

DETROIT, (AP)—The days of the footsore bartender may be numbered if Mike Krzenmienski has his way.

He's developed a motorized stool for bartenders. Buzzes up and down back of the bar like a mechanical rabbit at a dog track.

And if the idea catches on, he hints, the walking bartender may join the free lunch, sawdust, and "no women" signs in obscurity.

The idea is simple. Mike put wheels on his stool and equipped it with an electric motor and two trick switches. Rails were laid in the floor.

Mike presses one switch with his knee. Burr, the machine runs to the right. The other switch, burr, to the left she goes.

"It works fine," he says. "You can stand up, sit down, turn around — anything. Some people call it a lazy bartender." I call it a lifesaver.

Fire Alarm Will Call Out Voters

CHELSEA, Mass., (AP)—Officials of this large city near Boston are going to do something to awaken the voters' interest in the municipal election tomorrow.

They're going to sound the loud fire alarm whistle every hour on the hour to see if they can get a bigger turnout of voters than anticipated.

Yule Parade Date is Set

November 24—a month and a day before Christmas—has been selected as the date for this year's Christmas parade on Main street, and its scheduled to be one of the most interesting ever held here.

Following the theme "The Miracle of Christmas," the parade will feature giant balloons shaped to resemble toys. The balloons are from the Giant Balloons, Inc., and range in sizes up to 80 feet long and 15 feet high.

No competition in floats is planned this year, and Santa's is the only one planned so far.

Choral groups and bands are being solicited from all schools in the Klamath basin, including Tulelake, Yreka, Weed, Alturas and Lakeview and members of the county school system here.

Bob Robbins is this year's parade marshal.

Ike Planning Flight Back

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Pres. Truman met today for conferences evidently concerned, among other things, with the military situation of the western world.

There were reports the United States was preparing to put forward in the United Nations a "peace plan" calling for a worldwide census of arms, including atomic weapons.

Eisenhower, (who flew home last week from his European defense command at Truman's suggestion,) arrived at the White House 10 minutes early for his meeting with the president.

He had been invited to come for luncheon alone with the president.

The general posed for photographers but had little to say to reporters. He did tell the newsmen he expected to fly back to Europe tomorrow and hoped to talk with them just before leaving.

Dock Strike In 4th Week

NEW YORK, (AP)—The future of New York's vast harbor today was described as imperiled with foreign traders facing ruin, as a result of the longest waterfront tieup in port history.

The report came from the New York commerce and industry association, representing metropolitan business firms, as the wildcat strike entered its fourth week.

The association, declaring that import-export firms are being forced to the wall and compelled to lay off employes, called a mass meeting protesting the "disastrous walkout" for next Wednesday.

Rebel strikers, meanwhile, pushed their drive to prevent a back-to-work vote. Their pickets have tied up piers where more than 100 ships and a billion dollars worth of cargo are stranded.

Tommy Flees Dental Date

MAYWOOD, N.J., (AP) — Tommy Bolger, the police are convinced, doesn't like to go to the dentist.

Tommy, 12 years old and red-haired, had an appointment Friday after school with the dentist. He never got there and didn't go home either.

At 6 p.m. his parents notified police he was missing and a search began.

Early Saturday a bakery driver opened a bread box in front of a store in nearby Saddle river township. Out jumped Tommy and headed for some nearby woods.

The hunt was on again. Police even stopped a train to ask the engineer if he had seen the lad.

Tommy's grandpa, riding around in a car looking for Tommy, finally caught up with him on a highway.

Tommy was treated for exposure at Hackensack hospital after spending the night in the rain.

Seen From Hotel

Geo. N. Taylor

Clank—Clank—Clank. In earlier days it was and the hotel guest heard the rattle of chains and looked out to see the prisoners file from the county jail. With pick and shovel, they were to work out their fines on the roads. Rain and shine — pick and shovel. But all that is nothing as compared to the eternal fate of such as go out at death to meet their sins at Judgement Day and then go on to eternal woe.

Geo. N. Taylor

Calling himself the chiefest of sinners, the Apostle Paul wrote—"For when we were without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly—Romans 5th. Yes, we all have sinned but out of his great Father heart, God gave Christ to die for us. Our part—Believe that Christ's death cleared us forever with God. Believe that by glorious resurrection, Christ came from death and the grave to give us new days and ways—and eternal life.
