Italian Market Ups Grains

CHICAGO, (AP)—Late buying, in expectation that Italy will take around a million bushels of wheat tomorrow, pushed grain prices ahead toward the close of today's board of trade session.

There were also prospects of some export business in corn, which was up more than 2 cents a bushel at times.

Earlier in the session buying in wheat developed on the overnight purchase of 3,700,000 (M) bushels of wheat by Germany and four cargoes of corn by Austria.

At the finish wheat was ¼ to 1½ higher than yesterday's close, December $2.65-65¼. Corn was 1⅛ to 2 cents higher, December $1.89⅛-⅜. Oats were ½ to 1⅛ higher, December 99-98⅞. Rye was unchanged to ½ higher, December $2.01. Soybeans were ⅛ to ¾ lower, January $2.98¾-99 and lard was 20 to 30 cents a hundredweight higher, December $15.75.

Stocks Show Some Gains Today

NEW YORK, (AP)—The stock market moved ahead slowly today with price advances of fractions to around a point.

It was a ponderous movement. There was no vim or vigor behind it. But it was a steady turn for the better.

Activity was nothing to cheer about. The volume ran about 1,200 000 shares, however, a little better than yesterday's 1,180,000.

There was disappointment along Wall street that there wasn't more push to the advance. But the two successive days of moving forward was a definite relief from the week-long slide downward.

Most of the advances were in fractions. But they were well spread through every major category.

The point of more gainers include Cities Service, Northern Pacific, Dow Chemical and American Can.

JACOBY on Canasta

I was disappointed to see the American team lose the recent international Canasta match, but it was very pleasant to see that in this game, as in bridge, important matches of this kind can be held. The contest was not given a great deal of space in American newspapers, so perhaps I can tell Canasta fans a little about it in this column.

The American team consisted of John R. Crawford and Mrs. Andre Lord, both of the famous Regency Club in New York. The English team consisted of Terence Reese and Colin Harding, both very well-known card experts. Crawford, it may be remembered, was my partner in an American championship match almost two years ago.

The contest was held in a large London department store, and was sponsored by the London Times. The players were enclosed in a sound - proof glass cage so that spectators could observe what was going on without distracting the players.

Each player had an official kibitzer at his elbow to write down his hand and each play he made. These notes were sent out, play by play, to a commentator, who was thus enabled to show the progress of the hand on a giant scoreboard which showed all the hands.

As one might expect, the English rules are somewhat different from the American rules, so the rules of the international contest were a sort of compromise. For one thing, the English allow a bonus of 500 points for winning the game. In America there is no bonus at all. The compromise took the form of a bonus of 300 points.

I must say that I think the bonus is a pretty good idea. If the opponents are almost out, it is sometimes a close question whether to end a hand and thus stop them—or to keep the hand alive and thus pile up some modest score of your own. With the bonus, it would pay to end the hand in such close cases. You would hope to get a big score the next time, and the bonus for your own side.

The English also like the rule that you cannot pick up a discard that matches your own canasta unless you have a matching pair in your hand. Many Americans follow this rule also, but the official rule is that you are allowed to pick up such a card. Some like it one way and some like it the other. I prefer the official rule, but the English procedure was followed in the international match.

"HIGH" DUCKS

FRANCOIS LAKE, B. C., (AP) — Fifty wild ducks on a spree were spotted near here by a game warden. The ducks apparently had sampled mash from a bootleg distillery in the woods.

CASE OUT

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A petition by the Columbia river district council of the United woodworkers, asking that it be named bargaining agent for employes of A. R. Tohl, was dismissed yesterday. The union wanted to represent some workers that Tohl, a former logging operator near Idanha, Ore., had hired to build a road.

In The Day's News

From Washington:

Roger Lowell Putnam, the nation's new economic stabilizer the was named by President Truman yesterday to fill the job that Eric Johnston had left) is an industrialist, a descendant of the famed New England poetess Amy Lowell and a NOTED AMATEUR ASTRONOMER.

I expect he'll see quite a lot of stars before he quits his job.

In this column yesterday (commenting on Senator Aiken's suggestion that the Republicans would do well to nominate Senator Margaret Chase Smith as their candidate for vice-president) I remarked that the women certainly couldn't make any worse mess of politics than the men have and expressed a half-cynical hope that more of them get into it.

The more I mull it over, the more I'm impressed by that reasoning. I think I'd like to write a letter something like this to Mayor Dorothy Lee of Portland:

"Dear Mrs. Lee: When the time comes around to run for the office of US senator from Oregon, I wish you'd get into the race. I'm quite sure you have an able mind, and it seems to me that you're sincere. I've much admired your campaign to stop gambling in Portland AS LONG AS GAMBLING IS FORBIDDEN BY LAW IN OREGON. We need clear and sensible thinking like that back in Washington.

"Why don't you give the idea some serious thought?

Mendenhall Girl "Better"

Eleven-year-old Minda Mae Mendenhall was reported today as having made a little additional gain in her fight against death.

Minda Mae is in Klamath Valley hospital suffering from gunshot wounds. She was accidentally shot while playing near her Chiloquin home Saturday afternoon.

Although he termed her condition still "extremely critical," Dr. George Adler said late this morning he was "encouraged" by Minda Mae's slight improvement.

The child was struck in the shoulder, chest and stomach by some 50 bird shot fired from a 16 gauge shotgun. The gun was discharged while being carried by a 13-year-old Klamath Falls boy, Haines McNoise. The boy said the gun went off accidentally.

Dr. Adler said most of the shot passed almost entirely through the girl's body. Fortunately, she did not receive the full charge. Most of the shot struck Minda Mae in the right arm and torso although Dr. Adler said one pellet was lodged against her heart.

The girl is conscious and the doctor said she was resting "fairly comfortably" except when it was necessary to move her.

Substitute Teachers Pay Upped

Elementary and high school boards in joint session last night voted pay increases to substitute teachers.

The pay changes for daily rates: for teachers with less than two years training, from $8 to $8.96; for teachers with more than two years training but less than a bachelor's degree, from $11.58 to $12.97; for teachers with bachelor's degrees, from $12.63 to $14.15.

Mr. Ruth Parrish and Benny Loftsgaard reported on special education. Mrs. Parrish is chief of the department and Loftsgaard instructs in the eighth and ninth grades and high school.

The high school board discussed policy for broadcasting this season's Pelican basketball games. It was decided to try the delayed broadcast . . . Games are to be taped and rebroadcast later by station KFJI. Actual time and number of broadcasts is to be decided later.

Problem of enlarging the Pelican school site was pondered. Engineer Bill Canton submitted a report and sketch outlining the problem. It appeared the board would have to seek additional land either to the north or to the south of the present site.

The Pelican school plot is now two and one-half acres. City School Supt. Arnold Gralapp said under state recommendations the school should have a total of at least six and one-half or seven acres.

The high school board voted to not participate this year in the federal aid home vocational program.

No Home For Wanderer

PORTLAND, (AP) — A self-exiled Romanian, who says he has spent five years wandering the world in search of a new homeland, soon will be on his way back to India unless the federal government changes its mind.

He is Stephen Darie, 24, who was taken into custody last week when he arrived in Portland after stowing away on the ship, the John Owen, on its voyage from India.

The U. S. considers him a deportee and will not let him enter the United States. Since the U. S. will not admit him, other countries also have refused.

The John Owen will leave Thursday with a cargo of grain for India. But the government of that country already has notified ship's officers that Darie will not be permitted to land there.

Yesterday five Portland protestant ministers telegraphed President Truman asking him to take steps to permit Darie to remain in the U. S.

Drunk Driving Charge Filed

A Merrill ranchhand was arrested by state police last night on Oregon highway 39 and was booked at the county jail on charge of driving while intoxicated.

Officers identified the man as Pete C. Bocard, 57, employed at the Irwin Johnson ranch.

Bocard's car, reportedly weaving back and forth across the highway, forced a patrol car to the shoulder of the road.

The arresting officer stated he swung his car around and followed Bocard for half a mile before stopping him.

Bocard was slated for appearance in district court today.

Klamath County Grand Jury Ends Fast Session, Gives New Jail OK Report

Klamath county's grand jury got through its business with a fair amount of speed yesterday and with apparent good reason.

One report compiled by the seven-man panel classified the "present chairs in use in the grand jury room as unsafe" and recommended that "the chairs provided for use of jurors and the grand jury be replaced with new and substantial chairs."

The jury, headed by Sam Ritchy as foreman, also made an inspection of the new city jail and reported favorably on it.

The squat, multi-colored steel and concrete structure was termed "decidedly an improvement over the old city jail . . . fulfills a long needed want and is a great credit to the city of Klamath Falls."

The report indicated approval of facilities for segregation of male, female and juvenile prisoners, and the cell adequate to handle federal prisoners.

The lighing, heating and ventilation features of the new lockup, as yet unoccupied, were seen as adequate and the sanitation setup highly approved.

Before release from further duty by Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg, the jury returned one not-true bill, three open indictments and two secret indictments.

The not-true bill was returned on Frank V. Jackman, on a charge of larceny from a store. Jackman is currently serving a 30-day county jail sentence on petit larceny.

Named in the true bills were:

Marvin Lee Connor on charge of non-support of a minor child.

George Boehmer, larceny from a store, involving theft of a suitcase from J. C. Penney Co., May 14.

Manuelita Forrest, burglary, not in a dwelling, involving theft of $6 worth of ceramics from Murphey's Seed store, 834 Klamath avenue on November 17.

All three will be arraigned in circuit court tomorrow.

Members of the jury besides Ritchey were Tobias O'Keeffe, Elston Balsiger, Lloyd Prock, O. E. Reeder, George Hagelstein and Leon Andrieu.

SAYS BILL FRANCE

"Take it from me as a race official and former driver, there is no stiffer test than N.A.S.C.A.R.'s Grand National Circuit stock car races. On speedways across the nation, the new Nash Airflyte has been proven a winner," says N. A. S. C. A. R.'s president, Bill France. Compare the Nash Statesman. It's the biggest, roomiest car in its price class, yet it delivers more than 25 m.p.g. at average highway speed.
