Ladino Cut Asked By Seed Men

PORTLAND (AP) — The government support price on Ladino Clover should be reduced 15 cents a pound, the Oregon Seed Growers League was told here Monday.

The league's clover committee said the present support price of $1.25 might cause a surplus. The committee urged that the support price be cut to $1.10. The convention will act on the committee's report later.

In other business Monday, growers were told of two possible new clover crop seeds—Romack peas from Georgia and a new rust resistant ryegrass from South America.

Virgil Freed, Oregon State College agronomist, described a new spray, IPC Chloro, which he said would aid in controlling velvet and other annual grasses in fescue stands. The new spray soon will be available commercially, he said.

James Short, Redmond, league president, appointed a committee to investigate a proposed tonnage tax on Oregon grown seeds, the proceeds to be used to advertise the industry.

George B. Davis of Oregon State College reported that rough handling damaged 43.5 per cent of the Oregon potato crop. He said the damage resulted in a grade reduction of 13.1 per cent of the marketable crop.

Chamber Set For Big Meet

Tickets are now on sale for the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting . . . And if early enthusiasm is any criterion, persons wishing to attend had best be about getting their tickets.

Chamber Pres. Arthur (Ricky) Rickbell says the Willard Hotel banquet room will accommodate "about 300." Interest in the meeting is high and Rickbell has said the meeting will "be perhaps the most important in the chamber's history."

The dinner meeting is scheduled for the Willard, Jan. 15, 6:30 p.m.

It is to be a joint meeting of the Senior and Junior Chambers for both men and women. For men unable to take wives or women guests, there will be a special stag table.

Tickets are being sold by directors of both the Senior and Junior Chambers.

Highlighting the program will be talks by Edgar Smith, Portland Chamber of Commerce president, and Hillman Luedemann, vice president and general manager of Pope and Talbot Company and president of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association.

Also on the program is the Jaycees' annual Distinguished Service Award to the county's outstanding young citizen of 1951.

A special five-man committee is now trying to decide on the recipient of the honor. The person selected is to be known only to the committee until the moment of actual award presentation at the banquet.

This year has been dubbed Klamath's "year of decision" and the chambers are launching a two-pronged campaign to bolster the basin's business future. Concerted drives are shaping to promote development of the basin's vast and untapped natural resources and to draw new industries.

5 Poles Get Death Charge

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — A military court sentenced five Poles to death Monday night after they pleaded guilty to charges of being "spies sent into Poland by the American Intelligence Service."

Their trial lasted one day. Summing up, the prosecutor accused the U.S. embassy here of leading activities against Poland "since the very first day of diplomatic relations between the people's Poland and the United States."

The condemned men are accused of working with American spies in Germany and with the "White Russian American spy center known as the Committee to Aid Escapees."

Demo Finance Boss Quits

PORTLAND (AP) — Abe G. Gilbert, who startled Democrats last month with his plan to raise funds for the 1952 campaign, has resigned as chairman of the Oregon Democrats' Finance Committee.

The resignation was the outgrowth of a dispute at a meeting of the Central Committee last month when Gilbert was quoted as saying businessmen should be solicited for party contributions in return for consideration from the administration.

Gilbert, a Portland furniture dealer, said the quotation, taken out of context, created the wrong impression.

At the same meeting Gilbert criticized National Committeeman Monroe Sweetland. He said differences with Sweetland and other Democratic leaders, made his job impossible.

William Josslin, Central Committee chairman, announced the resignation. No successor has been chosen.

Examination Proves Tale Of Murder

EVERETT, Wash. (AP)—Prosecutor Phil Sheridan said Tuesday an autopsy disclosed that an Everett optometrist whose death was attributed to a heart attack actually was slain.

The autopsy was performed after Harold G. Chase, 22, former Darrington marshal, told authorities he killed Dr. Russell R. Bradley in December, 1950, by pressing his fist against the side of Bradley's neck.

In his statement Chase said he had been out driving with Dr. Bradley after they met in a bar, Sheridan reported. The prosecutor said Chase drove Bradley to an Everett hospital and left statements the man apparently had suffered a heart attack. The death was listed officially as due to that cause. Sheridan quoted Chase as saying he robbed Dr. Bradley of $538.

Chase also has told of killing two other men in the past three years.

Sheridan said he would not disclose the specific findings of the autopsy to avoid "revealing the case to the defense," but added:

"The doctors are satisfied that Bradley did not die from natural causes."

The autopsy was performed by Dr. Charles P. Larson, Tacoma, pathologist.

Mrs. Helen Hart, Bradley's former wife, said Monday Bradley did not have heart trouble. She said she believed it was "quite possible" he was slain.

Chase, now held in the Snohomish County jail here, also has said that he strangled Leonard M. Lewis, 50, at the Northern State Hospital in Sedro Woolley in January, 1949, and that he killed a man called "Joe" at San Francisco last September or October.

Damage Bond Held Legal

SALEM (AP) — Truckers who get permits to haul overweight loads on county roads can be required to put up bond against damage to the roads or bridges, Attorney General George Neuner ruled Tuesday for District Attorney Robert G. Davis of Douglas County.

A bond isn't required, Neuner said, because the county can make a contract in which the hauler agrees to pay for the damage.

TO MEET

THE DALLES (AP) — The 1952 annual meeting of the Oregon Wheat Growers League will be held in Portland Dec. 4-6.

Dates of the convention were announced here Monday by League President Floyd Root, following an executive committee meeting at Pendleton.

Tuna Import Slash Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—A west Coast congressman proposed a slow down Monday on imports of brine-packed tuna.

Rep. Mack (R.-Wash.) told reporters he has prepared a bill to increase the duty on the product from 12½ to 45 per cent.

Imports—primarily from Japan—increased from 3,779 cases in all of 1949 to 204,341 cases in the month of September, 1951, he said.

"This increase threatens to cause vast unemployment among the 23,000 cannery workers and fishermen employed by the Pacific Coast 112 million dollar tuna industry," Mack declared.

Boy Found Chained To Bed In Salt Lake City House, Tells of Long Captivity

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A teenage boy was found chained to a bed in a filthy house here Tuesday. Officers said the lad told them he was abused sexually by the man who held him captive.

An accused bank robber, charged with a $20,000 holdup during a snowstorm Monday, was named by officers as the youth's captor.

John D. Billett, 24-year-old used car salesman, was arrested on the bank robbery charge Monday night.

Deputy Sheriff T. A. Callicott said Billett later admitted kidnaping Richard Evan Ricky Henricksen, who had been missing since last October. Callicott said Billett then led officers to the three-room house where the 14-year old boy was held.

The lad had bruises over much of his body but otherwise was in fair physical condition.

Callicott said the boy told of numerous sexual indignities at the hands of his captor. The man slept with him most of the time he was held, Callicot said Ricky told him.

Ricky's father, Evan R. Henricksen, is a garage mechanic. There is only one other child, Irene, Ricky's twin sister.

Callicott said Billett had served a prison sentence in California for robbery, being released June 22, 1950, on condition he leave the state.

The deputy sheriff said that officers, arresting Billett on the California robbery charge, found a sailor bound and gagged in Billett's room. He was not charged in connection with that incident, however.

Ricky disappeared last Oct. 20. Local officers had questioned many persons, including Billett, but had been unable to run down a tangible clue.

Both Ricky and Billett were employed at a used car lot, the boy serving as car washer and errand boy.

Last Oct. 20 Ricky said Billett told him he was a special police officer. The lad said he was accused of various thefts and was informed he would have to go with Billett for questioning.

"I really thought he was a policeman," Ricky said. "He took me to a tourist cabin across the street and told me I was under arrest and not to run away if I didn't want to get into trouble with the police.

"We stayed there four or five days and then moved to the house. Johnny told me to stay away from the windows and not try to run away.

He had a pair of handcuffs and used them to fasten me to the bed. He had a chain, too, and some of the time he fastened the chain around one or both my ankles and locked me to the bed with a padlock."

Ricky then told of a series of beating, which he said were described as "warts to see if I would confess to stealing all that stuff."

Russ Honor Stalin Aide

MOSCOW (AP) — Georgi M. Malenkov, deputy premier of the Soviet Union, became 50 years old Tuesday and the government, Communist Party, and press marked his anniversary with a warmth that set him aside as something special in the Russian Hierarchy.

Newspapers published big pictures of him on their front pages. The government awarded him the Order of Lenin, the Soviet Union's highest decoration.

The Central Committee of the Communist Party and the government's council of ministers sent greetings praising him as a "true pupil of Lenin" and lifelong fighter for Communism.

Malenkov is a protege of Premier Joseph Stalin. He bosses the party machinery, which Stalin also controlled in his rise to power. He appeared on Stalin's right at the 1951 May Day celebrations, adding to speculation among Western experts on Russian politics that the aging Stalin was handing over some of the active control of the Soviet Union to Malenkov and Lavrenty P. Beria, who controls the police.

George Opposes Any Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George D-Ga. said Tuesday he is not going to support a new general tax boost under any circumstances he can foresee in 1952.

George told reporters Congress should begin considering tax reductions by next year.

The veteran senator is chairman of the Sentate Finance Committee and would have the job of steering a tax increase bill through the Senate if President Truman submitted one and the House passed it.
