Lent Season Rites Slated

The pre-Easter preparatory season of Lent will be observed in Zion Lutheran Church with regular Wednesday evening Lenten services. These services will run from 8 to 9 p.m. Holy Communion will be celeorateed at these Lenten services.

The Rev. Richard Graef, pastor of Zion Church, will conduct the services and preach the sermons. His series of sermons for the Wednesday evening Lenten services has as their general theme the words from I Corinthians 11:26. "For as often as ye eat this bread and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come."

Pastor Graef explained this theme last Supday by saying. "The Christian must share his Christmas and his Easter with the world and have the central idea of these great Christian festivals perverted and aborted. But the world does not want the Christian Lent. Its ideas are too hard, its message too difficult. And yet precisely in Lent and Good Friday do we have the focal point of the Christian message and the only terms in which Christmas and Easter can be understood. Oddly enough the idea of Lent, of the God Who became man and offered Himself on the cross for human guilt, is also the essential idea of the Lord's Supper. The unique relationship between these two ideas is the theme for our series of six Lenten sermons."

Zion Lutheran Church is on the corner of 11th and High. The Lenten services are not only for members of the church but for all those concerned to prepare understandingly for Good Friday and Easter.

Chiloquin PTA Hears Speaker

CHILOQUIN — Mrs. Virginia Dixon, executive secretary of the Klamath Falls Red Cross office was featured speaker at the Chiloquin PTA Monday evening at the regular February meeting. In Klamath County last year some 2,300 pints of blood were collected and 892 were used locally. It costs $5 a pint to collect, process the blood. The commercial cost of this blood would have been over $20,000, so the Red Cross made a savings to the area of close to $17,000.

The PTA food sale held last month, netted the group just over $21 and plans are being readied for a further money making project.
