Panthers Win Crown

Medford Next for Pelicans

District Next For Finalists

By RED HURD

The Chiloquin Panthers shoved another trophy into their showcase Saturday night when they whipped Malin for the Klamath County tournament title—but they'll have to do it all over again in two weeks in a bid for a state tournament berth.

The Panthers won the tourney crown with a convincing 45-27 win over the Mustangs, upset winners over Sacred Heart in the semi-finals.

But both Chiloquin and Malin are entries in the March 6 and 7 Dist. 5 Class B tournament that shows on Henley's court, site of the three-day Klamath County tournament.

Henley won the consolation title with room to spare in a 52-38 win over the Bly Bobcats.

BATTLE

Malin gave Chiloquin a battle for one quarter as the Mustangs led briefly on Glen Steyskal's basket early in the game. The score was tied three times in that first chapter but Bill Vaden put the Panthers ahead to stay at 8-6 with a jump shot midway in the stanza.

The Panthers led 13-8 going into the second. Then their class started to tell as they bulged their lead to 22-13 at the half.

Malin's Andry Travis scored first in the third quarter to close it to 16-22. But Jo Jo George hit from the side, Jerry Oates found the range, and Vernon Joe pumped in two field goals in rapid order—and the Panthers held a 30-15 lead.

It was a coast-in job the rest of the way.

Big Gene Gentry ended with 13, high for the Panthers. George added 10, Joe and Vaden eight each.

13 POINTS

Gary Mauney, Malin's scoring ace, also threw in 13 points but didn't get the scoring help Gentry did.

Odell Lybrand, Bly's ace, conspicuous by his absence on the all-star team, scored 17 points for the Bobcats but his individual brilliance wasn't enough as Henley led all the way in the consolation game.

Francis Roberts scored 13 for the Hornets, Del Case added 10.

Chiloquin and Malin square off opening night in the district tourney, while Paisley and the Jackson County winner meet in the other opening game.

The two finalists battle for the district title and a position in the Class B state tournament in Salem, March 12-14.

All-Stars

The Klamath County champion Chiloquin team placed four on the all-star team, named by coaches in the eight-team Class B cage league following the three-day tournament.

Sacred Heart placed three, Merrill, Henley and Malin one each. Ten players are named. Chiloquin players elected were Gene Gentry, Jo Jo George, Bill Vaden and Vernon Joe.

The Sacred Heart Trojans, surprise losers to Malin in the semi-finals, placed Tom Mulvey, Wayne Neubert and Jack Heiderer.

Malin's Gary Mauney, Henley's Bob Hill and Merrill's Jack Hendrickson were the others landing on the all-star team.

Malin Wins As Dietrick Scores 39

Rod Dietrick had a perfect performance on the free throw line last night—21 for 21—as the Malin Townies whacked the Tulelake Inners, 78-56, to win the traveling trophy in the Klamath Basin Independent League and top-seeding in the playoffs that open tomorrow night in Merrill.

Dietrick also threw in nine field goals to end with 39 points. Jim Conroy chipped in 19 for good measure as the Malin five led all the way.

Tuesday night Tulelake faces Merrill VFW, fourth place in the KBI league at 7:30, Malin and Chiloquin close the show at 9 o'clock.

The winners meet in the feature game Wednesday night for the playoff title. The losers are in the opener for the consolation crown.

Both the finalists, however, qualify for the proposed City-County playoffs, date and site to be determined.

'Improper Aid' to Athletes Puts Spartans on Probation

By TOM BRANAGAN

CHICAGO (AP)—In what amounts to an "—or else" ultimatum, the Big Ten has put Michigan State College on probation for a year, citing improper aid to athletes.

Officials of the East Lansing college, which last season spawned the nation's top football team, bitterly fought the comparatively light discipline.

It was handed out by Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson and concurred in by the conference's faculty representatives at a special meeting yesterday.

The action does not affect the college's athletic program and all sports, including football, will continue as scheduled at the school. Thus Michigan State will be eligible for Big Ten titles and a possible Rose Bowl bid for its football team next season.

NOT OFFICIAL

Michigan State was not an official member of the Big Ten grid family last year.

Wilson ruled that a fund — the Spartan Foundation—violated conference aid-to-athletes regulations.

His sentence was probation for a year and an order to Michigan State to "render every possible assistance" in future investigations and in obtaining the complete records of the foundation.

Michigan State spokesmen maintain the foundation went out of operation months ago after an investigation by Wilson's office and that its records cannot be made available by the school.

They say the university itself had no connection with the fund, that it was run by alumni, and that they saw to its dissolution when its existence was brought to their attention.

UNCONVINCED

Wilson declared himself unconvinced by this explanation, saying:

"The notoriety of the foundation fund was such that with due diligence it could not have been ignored and that considering its obvious potential it should have been the subject of searching inquiry by college authorities, but was not."

Big Ten rules forbid athletes receiving "unearned financial aid which is not awarded by the same agencies, and by the same procedures, as apply to all students in his institution."

Wilson revealed that his investigation of Michigan State practices had been going on for more than a year.

PROTEST

Some time ago he wrote MSC President John A. Hannah, who also is assistant secretary of defense in the Eisenhower administration, to the effect that he had decided to put Michigan State on probation. The Spartan school gave notice that it would protest and yesterday's final affirmation by the faculty representatives followed a hearing of Michigan State's side of the matter.

Sparked by Doug Pence and Kenny Young, the Klamath Falls Pelicans pushed their fast break offense into high gear Saturday night and crushed the Ashland Grizzlies, 66-49.

The Pels close out their season Friday and Saturday against Medford, which has already tied down the Southern Oregon A-1 title and a shot a Crater High for the district championship and a place in the state tournament.

Ashland's zone defense, which had given the Pelicans no end of trouble the night before, simply wasn't fast enough in forming to cope with the running Klamath crew.

Only in the first quarter did the Ashland basketeers show any signs of scoring an upset. They led 14-11 at the end of that frame.

MAKE MOVE

The Pelicans made their move in the second quarter and Pence put his team permanently out in front with a push shot from the left side of the court. This gave Klamath a 20-19 lead at the 3:00 mark in the quarter. Other Pelicans joined in pushing this lead up to 31-24 at half time.

Young sparked a 17-point third quarter for Klamath, which pretty well iced the fracas at 48-35. Kenny was deadly accurate on his pet one-hander from outside the key. He hit three times from the field and twice from the gift line for an eight point total in that third quarter.

The extent of the Klamath margin was all that was left to be decided in the fourth frame for there wasn't any slowing down for the rambling Pelicans. Doug Pence really capped a good night in the scoring column in the last two minutes of the game when he hit for three field goals and a free throw to make his evening's total a neat 17.

CRASH LANDING

In the final second of play, Larry Yarnell broke clear on a fast break but as he started his lay-up shot he was charged hard by Ashland Guard Harvey Woods. Yarnell crashed the mat behind the basket and fell to the floor in a crumpled heap. He was still groggy moments later when he tried and missed his two free throws.

Ashland won the preliminary game 41-34 in overtime. Carter of the Grizzly jayvees tied the score at 34-34 with one second to go in the regular game.

Superior-Troy is making the Ten Pinetts Bowling League a one-team affair with a ten-point bulge on the field after a 3-1 win over Kerns yesterday.

The league-leaders posted the top team game and series with a 708 - 796-727 - 2231 string; Pelican Drive-In was second with games of 669,785 and 771 for a 2225.

Jerrie White, a beginner subbing for Perkins News, rolled a 179 for the top single game. Josephine Reginato of Superior-Troy and Jane Coddington of Golden Creme each had 158 scores for other rookie honors.

Among the veterans, team captains only in this beginners league along with the Alley Katz, Sylvia McConnell, subbing for Superior-Troy, notched a 173 single-line score. Opal McDonald of Golden Creme had a 187.

White's 111-156-179-446 series was the best among the rookies; Coddington had a 412 series.

McConnell added games of 150 and 157 to her 173 game for a 480 series, the day's high among the experienced bowlers. McDonald put together games of 167 and 150 but fell to a 94 for a 411 series, second high.

City Finals On Tonight

Klamath Creamery and Palmerton Lumber Company both have options on a proposed City-Klamath Basin basketball playoff, but clash tonight at Altamont for the playoff title.

The Creamery five, winner of the traveling prize with a 7-0 record, gained the finals with a 61-50 win over Hilltop Cafe in opening rounds Wednesday.

Palmerton reached the championship game with a 51-46 win over the Jayhawk Oilers.

Jayhawk and Hilltop open the double-headed program tonight in a 7 o'clock consolation skirmish.

The Klamath Basin Independent League will choose two teams from a two-night playoff that opens Tuesday night in Merrill.

Tulelake's Inners and Malin Townies, both with 10-1 records in league play, Chiloquin (9-2) and Merrill VFW (7-4) are the four teams in the KBI scramble.

No definite plans have been made but a City-Basin playoff is expected, to follow suit of the past several years.

Pedersen, Vagnone In Top Quarrel

Matchmaker Mack Lillard has scheduled two and a half hours of wrestling for mat fans Wednesday night—but the program probably won't last that long.

Eric (The Great) Pedersen and Gino (Red) Vagnone mix in the main event, down for one hour.

Two 45-minute semi-windups pair Antonia Baillargeon against Al Szasz and Tony Ross against Bill Fletcher, a highly-rated newcomer from Boise, Ida.

All are down for two of three falls.

Vagnone and Pedersen settle a rhubarb that started last week when the two matmen lost to Szasz and Ross in a tag team match.

Baillargeon gets a crack at Szasz after the sensational French-Canadian posted two victories here.

Fletcher is expected to give Tough Tony all he can handle in the other bout.

Reserved tickets are on sale at Castleberry Drugs.

The Washington Huskies, their third straight Northern Division Basketball pennant safely tucked away but still aiming for a perfect season in the league, have two more games on their schedule before clashing with the Southern Division winner for the Pacific Coast Conference title.

The Huskies, third - ranked in the nation, play Idaho on the Vandals' home court next Friday and Saturday. They'll return home to meet the Southern winner March 6-7, with a third game March 9 if it is needed, for the Coast crown. The winner will go to Corvallis, Ore., in mid-March for the NCAA regionals.

TOO LATE

It's too late for the Vandals, who are fighting to hold third place after an up and down season, to do anything about the 1953 pennant but they'll be out to blast the Huskies' hope of becoming the first Northern team to go through the 16-game schedule undefeated.

The Huskies have won 14 straight in the conference and have a 24-1 record for the season.

The Vandals, who have won 6 of 13 league games this season, will try for an even .500 average against Washington State Tuesday. Then they will return to Moscow for the Friday - Saturday series with Washington. Oregon and Oregon State will close their season with games at Corvallis and Eugene, respectively, the same nights.

14TH STRAIGHT

The Huskies, who clinched the Northern title with an 84-67 win over Oregon Friday night, dumped the second-place Webfoots 86-72 Saturday for their 14th straight in the conference and 21st on their home floor.

For the second night in a row, the Webfoots successfully bottled up Washington's Bob Houbregs, who ranked fifth in the nation in scoring last week, but that left the field to Doug McClary, Mike McCutcheon and Cipriano.

Oregon's Chet Noe kept the clamps on Houbregs while netting 25 points for scoring honors. Houbregs was held to 17 points, while McClary collected 22 and McCutcheon and Cipriano 18 apiece.

TWO IN ROW

Washington State made it two in a row over Oregon State, downing the Beavers 64-50 at Pullman. OSC played without Tony Vlastelica who injured his back in Friday night's game and spent Saturday night on the bench. Pete Mullins poured in 18 points to lead the scorers. Ron Robbins was high for the Beavers with 14.

The victory kept alive WSC's hope of getting out of the cellar. WSC and OSC will be tied in fourth place—if the Cougars whip Idaho Tuesday and if Oregon wins over Oregon State both Friday and Saturday.

UCLA Strong In Stretch

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA's Bruins are making a strong stretch drive bid to overtake California in the race for the Southern Division basketball crown of the Pacific Coast Conference.

But the Bruins, the defending champions, have only two more games in which to do it and the Bears still are one full game in the lead, with a 7-3 conference record compared with UCLA's 6-4. USC trails 5-5 and Stanford is in last place with a 2-8 mark.

Last weekend the Bruins had little difficulty in subduing Stanford twice, 75-50 and 66-58.

California and USC split a pair. The Trojans shaded their rivals 68-66 Friday. But the following night the Bears poured it on, while SC couldn't find the basket. The final count was 71-44.

Snead, McKinnon Win 2-Ball Meet
