For centuries Europe was known as the art center of the world. To be recognized an American had to study in Italy, France and England but with the turn of the twentieth century, more and more of an American style of painting has been recognized. Today artists of Europe are coming to the United States to study.

In keeping with this idea the American Association of University Women has encouraged its members along creative crafts. This year for the first time the Oregon Division of AAUW is having an Art Exhibit at the State Convention, April 23, 24, 25 in Klamath Falls.

The Art Center will have these "objects de art" on display for the public. This display, all original work, and not more than three years old; shows a wide variety in the field of art.

In oil painting such original work as "Pussy Willow" by Dr. A. Reuter of The Dalles; "Lobster House in Gloucester, Mass." by Ruth Schredinger of Baker; and "A Child" by Marjorie Neil Heim of Grants Pass as well as many others will be on display.

Water colors seem to have come into their own with five pictures being displayed by Helen Hoffman of Klamath Falls, two by Jeanne Hills of The Dalles, three by Mrs. Kendall B. Wood of Portland, water colors and block prints by Leona Fleetwood of Baker and three water colors from Medford.

Ceramics will also be on display and here again teapots, bone dishes, ash trays, cups and saucers, pottery vases and matching earrings and buttons from different branches throughout the state show a wide field along this line.

In the metal display, copper tea services, pair of brass five branch candelabra, copper cigaret box, pewter tea service from the Portland, Klamath Falls, Grants Pass and Oregon City branches are to be exhibited.

From Albany comes several hand loomed skirt lengths, hooked rugs and woven purses.

There will be pencil sketches and charcoal sketches to round out a most unusual and interesting display. Some 130 pieces of art will be on display for the public on Thursday afternoon, Friday, and Saturday morning.

Spud Festival Dates Set

MERRILL — The 13th annual Klamath Basin Potato Festival will be held Friday and Saturday, October 23 and 24. These dates were decided upon at Monday evening's meeting of the Merrill Lions Club. Plans have already been made to start work on the festival program in the near future.

The "third man" Nephi Coombs, was a guest at the meeting, and gave a highly entertaining talk on spuds and demonstrated various spud rails.

President Harvey Denham reported on progress of plans for the state Lions Club convention to be held in Klamath Falls, June 14, 15 and 16. The Merrill Club will have charge of the barbecue on June 14, and Denham stated that each member will have to assist with plans. Bob Dragoo and Clyde Hammond are co-chairmen of the barbecue.

Plates were set at the table for 27 members, and one visitor Mr. Coombs.
