MAJOR EDWARDS TO BE DEPOSED

Indians Tell Harsh Tales of Conduct of Agent of Umatilla Reservation.

W. L. THOMPSON ALSO OUT

Office Official Guardian Is Abolished - Inspector Davis Made Complete Examination of the Charges Against Edwards.

PENDLETON, Or., March 14.-(Special.) -That Major O. C. Edwards, agent of the I matilia Indian reservation, will lose his official head as a result of the investigation conducted by Inspector Charles L. Davis, is believed in Pendleton by everyone at all familiar with the course affairs nave taken during the last few days. Before leaving for Yakima today, Inmeeter Davis announced that an order abelishing the office of guardian for all indian heirs had been issued in connection with the Umatilla reservation. and that hereafter the agent would probably act as guardian. This means that W. L. Thompson has lost his position as official guardian for minor Indians here on the reservation.

Testimony of the most damaging character against Piwards and Thompson, and especially against Edwards, was given by leading Indians during the closing hours of the council, which has been in session for a week and was called by the inspector in order to give the Indians a chance to present formally their grievances and complaints.

Edwards Makes No Defense.

Newspaper representatives were barre sessions of the council, but Jo Craig, who acted as interpreter and who train, who acted as interpretable and most refluible indian on the reservation, came to town last evening and falked freely concerning the things that were said and done at the council. According to Craig. Edwards was unable to secure a single Indian to go on the witnes stand and offer any contradiction to the mass of testimony against him, or make any de-fense for him whatever, while chiefs and the leading men of all three tribes were the leading men of all three tribes were vehement in their denunciation of his character and actions.

Among the things tentified to were drunkenness, repeated acts of cruelty, overhearing treatment, wrongful with-holding of rental money and attempts to defraud the Indians of their land. Craig, in addition to being the interpreter, gave in perhaps the most damaging testimony of all, as he had been very friendly with Thompson and Edwards and claimed to the on the inside. He testified to having been offered $150 by Thompson and $250 by George Perringer if he would sesure the signature of an indian woman to a deed for her land. Craig also stated last evening that he was recently offered $250 by Thompson to stand up for him and Edwards during the progress of the investigation.

Edwards Was Often Drunk.

Several Indians testified to seeing the agent on the reservation in a state of intoxication. Julia Small Hawk told of seeing him come home from town one day when he was so drunk that he could day when he was so drunk that he could not guide his horses, and they hung up on a cottonwood tree, one horse going on one side and one on the other.

Two other indian women testified to meeting Edwards on another occasion when he was coming home drunk, while snother told how he shot at her dog one day when he was drunk, and how one builtet passed through her tepes. Joe and filly Craig both testified to seeing the agent drunk and in several instances strong testimony against the agent were Captain Sumpkins, the most eloquent In dian on the reservation, Chief No Shirt Uma Pine, Yum Sumpkins, Charley Smai Hawk, Red Elk and Amos Pond. One of the most touching scenes at the council was an Indian woman with tears streaming from her eyes as she told how Major Edwards had come to her tepee and taken her and her little girl, who was sick and unable to go to the school to the Indian jall and left them locked up all night, and she gave it as her belief that it was as a result of this treatment that the little girl soon after died.

Look Up His Yakima Record.

Davis practically completed his inves ligations here yesterday and went to Yakima today, to investigate the conduct of Major Edwards when he was over there after Indian pupils last Fail, at which time he was arrested and fined $100 for resisting and threatening an offi-cer. Davis will return to Feudleton Mon-day, but he has told the Indians that he will not hold any further council.

Major Edwards had insisted all along uring the course of the council which as hist closed that he be given an opporprove the charges and statements mudand had nothing to say himself. Having failed to make a defense at that time. Davis teld the Indians that he could not be allowed to do so later, as he had had the privilege of being present and hearing what they had to say and that he would

It is generally understood here that Edwards wanted to resign some time ago, and that he will now be allowed to do so, instead of being discharged.

Special Agent Says Contractors Gave Ross Land-Reclamation Officials Stand by Ross.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, March 14.—Secretary Garfield is working on a report sent to his predecessor by Special Agent A. R. Greene, detailing alleged frauds which he believes he has uncovered in connection with the natruction of the Boise-Payette irrigation project, in Idaho.

Mr. Greene, so it is reported, alleges there has been collusion between con-tractors on the Deer Flat reservoir dam and Reclamation Engineer D. W. Ross, it being rumored that Mr. Greene charges that the contractors, in return for favors shown by Mr. Ross, made him a present of 12,000 acres of land.

Officials of the Reclamation Service absolutely discredit the report, and have the utmost confidence in Mr. Ross. It is their belief that hyestigation will show Mr.

Garfield Has Report, but Politics Are Involved in Charge.

WASHINGTON, March 14. Secretary WASHINGTON, March 14.—Secretary of the Interior Gardield has received a report from a special agent at Boise, Idaho, relating to alleged tregularities between contractors under the Reclamation Service. The Secretary has not reached any conclusion regarding the difficulty, and will not adjust the matter until a final conclusion has been reached.

It is understood at the department that the difficulty had its origin in politics and has been under investigation by special agents for some time.

Grand Jury Inquires Into Boise Basin Land Affairs.

BOISE, Idaho, March 14.-(Special.) The United States grand jury had three witnesses today. They were George Williams. H. L. Williams and J. M. Mallory. There is no knowledge of what their testimony was, but all have heretorore been before the grand jury in cases arising in the Lewiston section. It was stated this evening by one connected with the court that the jury would be in session for a long time yet, but he gave no intimation of what was to be done. It is learned, however, that a Deputy Marshal has been engaged in summoning wit-nesses from Boise Basin section. It is supposed some land matters there are to receive attention.

Exactly who or what is responsible for the present raid is not known, but it is supposed that the crusade began some months ago when a Civic League was formed consisting of members of the different churches in the city. They, it appears, went at their work with the utmost care, bired detectives and con-sulted counsel, but in spite of their efforts to keep the matter entirely quiet some of the gamblers got wind of their plans in time to save themselves. It is not expected that the crusade will end with the men in custody, for it is well known that men of wealth and standing are menaced with the law and that some of those arrested are being depended upon to furnish the evidence necessary for their conviction. More startling events are expected at any

USED TOBACCO ALL LIFE'

Until Year Ago He Earned His Living by Doing Chores on Farm. Family Killed in Kansas Cyclone 20 Years Ago.

ASHLAND, Or., March 14.—(Special.)— Jasper Fource, who, according to his own story of his life, which seems well au-thenticated, was perhaps the oldest man in Oregon, died at his home on the Em-mott Beeson farm, five miles west of Ash-land, this morning in the 198th year of his age. He had been a resident of this violatity for the part seven years and cicinity for the past seven years, and intil a year ago, when he became en-feebled, had worked steadily for Mr. Beeon cutting wood, doing chores and livng by himself in a small house on the enturies. Twenty years ago, according to the straightforward story of his life which he told friends and neighbors, his family, consisting of a wife and three grown children, were killed in a cyclone at their home in Kansas, and he then came to Portland, residing ever since in Oregon. He attributed his long life to his outdoor living and to his practice of temperance in all things. He used to-bacco moderately all his life, but was a tectotaler in regard to liquors.

'FATHER' M'CORMAC IS DEAD

Champion of the Poor and a Beloved Citizen of Astoria.

ASTORIA, Or., March 14.—(Special.)— lev. Johnston MacCormac, better known a Astoria as "Father" MacCormac, left this city several months ago to seek re-lief at Portland for the increasing ailments that beset him, and has had the devoted attention of his physicians and the added comfort of the gentle minis-tration of his daughter ever since, but death intervened yesterday. He died as he had lived, a gracious and faithful news of his death spread with rapidity through the city, and on all sides were heard manifold and sincere expres-sions of regret. Besides his daughter, Mrs. Willis Duniway, the deceased gentleman left to mourn him two sons: Professor Will MacCormac, formerly principal of the Shiveley School, in this city, and now in the East, and Dr. James MacCormac, at present practicing his profession at Marshfield, Or.

Father MacCormac was for 35 years Father MacCormac was for 25 years chaptain of the Seamen's Institute in this city, and was the unfailing champion of the poor, the suffering and the neglected everywhere. To quote a friend of the deceased "this community has lost in Father MacCormac a man of sterling qualities, an earnest worker in any cause for the good of mankind; he was very energetic and faithful in the discharge of very duty of his life."

Everywhere one went yesterday after-noon, could be heard the kindliest com-ment on the loss of this excellent man, a patriarch among the citizens of this city and country, and one of the finest types helpful and useful men that sion of the brain, and his left side was paralyzed. His wife and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Millett. of this city, were with him at the time of his death.
