TWO 15-OUNCE cans of Nalley's Chili Con Carne with Beans makes the filling for this new quick Tamale Pie. The recipe makes six servings and makes a quick, attractive casserole dish for your hungry family on a nippy autumn day. Top the cassserole with sliced stuffed olives for a professional touch. For other quick dishes, try Nalley's Chili Con Carne over tamales, hamburgers, spaghetti, macaroni or rice.

NALLEY'S QUICK TAMALE PIE

A tasty main dish for your family or for after-the-game supper is this quick tamale pie.

Nalley's is cooperating with Albers Corn Meal in suggesting this recipe:

CORN MEAL CRUST

5 cups water
2 teaspoons salt
2 cups white or yellow corn meal

Combine cold water, salt and corn meal in a saucepan over medium heat. Cook until thickened, about 7 to 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Line sides and bottom of 2-quart buttered casserole with corn meal crust mixture. Save 1-3 of the mixture for top crust. Bake casserole in hot oven (400 degrees) for about 20 minutes to give a crisp crust.

Remove from oven. Add 4 cups of Nalley's Chili Con Carne (two cans). Spread remaining crust mixture around the edge, leaving chili showing in center portion. Top center with slices stuffed olives and slices of green pepper or pimiento.

Bake in 400 degree oven about 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot with mixed green salad.

YOU CAN FIND the hat that suits your particular type this fall and winter. The large ripple-brim hat at left of mossy green beaver felt is trimmed with natural pheasant tails. Designed by Winner, it will complement your fall casual or tailored clothes. Tall and tailored describes the toque at center. Fashioned by Colby in the new furry beaver felt, it is laced with dyed-to-match grosgrain with long streamers adding back interest. You can remove the ribbon and add a contrast color to match your costume. At right is an inexpensive white brushed felt lantern cloche by Jay Gee. The large rhinestone pin and the misty complexion veil give a soft, feminine look to the cloche. Photos from Millinery Institute of America.

FILLED COOKIES

The California Foods Research Institute sends this recipe for filled cookies.

Everyone loves filled cookies, and the only reason you don't see more of them is that they're more work than most cookies. Here's a Raisin-Filled Oatmeal Delight that takes all the work out of filling them — the good raisin-walnut mixture is spooned onto the center of each cooky before baking. They come out shiny and pretty, delicious to eat.

OATMEAL DELIGHTS

1 cup shortening
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar (packed)
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon baking powder
2 cups quick-cooking oats

FILLING

1 cup light or dark raisins
½ cup brown sugar (packed)
2 tablespoons flour
Few grains salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup water
½ cup chopped walnuts

Cream shortening, sugars, vanilla and eggs together thoroughly, beating 3 minutes, or until smooth. Sift flour with salt, soda and baking powder. Add oats. Blend into first mixture. Chill dough one hour or longer. Roll into balls about ¾-inch in diameter and flatten on greased baking sheet. Place about ½ teaspoon filling on center of each cooky. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees) 8 to 10 minutes.

Filling: Rinse raisins, drain and chop. Add sugar, flour, salt, lemon juice and water. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thick. Remove from heat, add nuts, and cool before using.

Makes about 6 dozen cookies.

Trick or Treat

Halloween will soon be here and it can be just as much fun for the adults as the sheet-clad goblins who make the rounds of the neighborhoods.

Halloween parties are on the increase as a very fine way to keep the youngsters home on that spooky night. Entertainment at Halloween doesn't seem to vary much with age. From the littlest through high school, bobbing for apples is hilarious fun. Pinning a black hat (blindfolded, of course) on a big witch cut from black paper is a good substitute for the pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey all of us have played at one time or another.

Food, too, has little or no age limitations for Halloween.

A new version of the traditional pop corn balls is suggested. If you want to go extra fancy and have a holder for the pop corn balls, Jolly Time Pop Corn suggests laying in a stock of ice cream cones, then make the popcorn balls of suitable size to perch on the cones.

Make them just as elaborate as your fancy-dictates. Add nuts and small multi-colored gum drops or candy corn when mixing the syrup over the freshly popped pop corn for variety. Or, while still warm, dip the pop corn balls into chocolate shot, silver dragees or multi-colored sugar crystals.

Another idea is to top the pop corn balls with a spoonful of Pennant Marshmall-O creme.

These pop corn balls atop cones make good handouts for the door-bell-ringers, too, and they are one thing they can't put into their sacks of loot.

OCTOBER COOKIES

Fill the cookie jar with several kinds to be prepared for Halloween.

Apple Spice Bars are a moist, flavorful, hearty cookie that will make a hit with the trick-or-treat crowd.

½ cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons cocoa
½ teaspoon soda, dissolved in 2-3 cup milk
1½ cups diced peeled raw apple
Powdered sugar

Cream butter and sugar until fluffy. Add egg and vanilla and beat well. Sift flour, measure and sift again three times with other dry ingredients. Add to creamed mixture alternately with milk. Add diced apple. Pour ½ inch thick in greased and floured shallow baking pans. Use three square 8-inch layer pans if a large 10 x 12 inch pan is not available. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. When cool, cut into 1 x 3 inch bars and roll in powdered sugar. This recipe should make 2½ dozen cookies.
