UPI All-America Honors Led By LSU, Army Greats

NEW YORK (UPI)—Billy Cannon, the big offensive threat in Louisiana State's climb to the No. 1 national ranking, and versatile Pete Dawkins of Army were the most popular choices on the 1958 United Press International All-America football team announced today.

Cannon and Dawkins headed a perfectly balanced backfield that included quarterback Randy Duncan of Iowa and fullback Bob White of Ohio State.

The All-America line was made up of Buddy Dial of Rice and Sam Williams of Michigan State at ends; Ted Bates of Oregon State and Brock Strom of Air Force Academy at tackles; John Guzik of Pittsburgh and Al Ecuyer of Notre Dame at guards, and Bob Harrison of Oklahoma at center.

Ecuyer, the only repeater from the 1957 United Press All-America, barely edged Guzik as the outstanding line selection in the voting by 278 sports writers and radio and television broadcasters from all over the country.

NINE ARE SENIORS

The "dream team" thus was made up of four players from the Midwest; two from the East and one each from the Southwest, Pacific Coast, Midlands, Rockies and South. Nine of the players are seniors, Cannon and White are juniors.

Bob Anderson of Army, who made the first team last year as a sophomore, was beaten out in the voting for a backfield spot. He led in the voting for the second team backfield, however.

Cannon, a 200 - pound triple-threat who led LSU through a perfect season of 10 victories and a berth in the Sugar Bowl, polled 2,276 points out of a possible perfect score of 3,058. He beat out Dawkins by 22 points. Duncan had 1,923 points and White 1,731. With four backfield spots available, the backs traditionally poll more points than the linemen.

Ecuyer received a total of 1,562 points to 1,551 for Guzik and 1,438 for Harrison.

The closest contest in the 1958 All-America voting was at end, where Williams barely beat out Monty Stickles of Notre Dame for a first team position, 1,097 points to 1,021. The voting for tackle was the most scattered of any position on the team.

BACKFIELD

The first-team backfield is a superbly integrated quartet that undoubtedly could function as a devastating unit if put on the field tomorrow. Each is recognized as a "clutch" player who led his team to a spot among the nation's top 10 this season.

Duncan is the major college total offense leader and ranks second among the passers; White is the nation's No. 2 rusher, Cannon ranks seventh in that department; Dawkins and Cannon are tied for fourth among the scorers; Cannon is an excellent punter and conversion kicker, and completed three of the four passes he was asked to throw.

In leading Iowa to the Big Ten championship and the Rose Bowl, Duncan accounted for a total of 1,406 yards. He completed 58.7 per cent of the passes he threw and pitched for 11 touchdowns. White is a bulldozing ball-carrier of the "old school." He carried 218 times and averaged a fraction less than four yards per carry.

Cannon was the scourge of Dixie this season. The instructions from opposing coaches to their players was "don't let Cannon get the ball in an open field." His rushing average from scrimmage is 5.9 yards per try and he also is extremely elusive at running back kicks. His punting average is "only" 35 yards, but with a winning team he had few opportunities to kick long.

Dawkins, a superb open field runner and a left-handed passer when the occasion demanded, is a fine inspirational leader. He has scored 12 touchdowns and boasts a rushing average of 5.9 yards.

All of the linemen are the heavy-duty type who rarely played with any relief this season. Williams and Guzik were the heaviest, around 225 each, while Dial was the "lightweight" at 185.

AIR FORCE LEADER

Bates and Strom are exceptionally fast for big men. Coach Tommy Prothro of Oregon State said Bates "never played a bad game in three years." Strom is a remarkable blocker and the inspirational leader in the fledgling Air Force Academy's surprising success story.

Ecuyer and Guzik were virtually impossible for opponents to move out of the line. Ecuyer often backed up the line and roamed from sideline to sideline to make tackles or spill interference. Guzik, extremely alert, recovered numerous rival fumbles and even intercepted a pass in the Army game.

In addition to Anderson, the second-team backs were Dick Bass of College of Pacific, Joe Kapp of California and Don Meredith of Southern Methodist. The second-team line was made up of Stickles and Rich Kreitling of Illinois at ends; Val Heckman of Florida and Ron Luciano of Syracuse at tackles; George Deidrich of Vanderbilt and Zeke Smith of Auburn at guards, and Max Fugler of LSU at center.

Far West players gaining honorable mention included:

Ends—Stover, Oregon; Wallen, UCLA; Steiger, WSC; Burford, Stanford; Kimbrough, Oregon; Ellingsen, WSC; Hill, USC; Cogdill, WSC; Colchio, San Jose State; Steffen, UCLA.

Tackles—Lecka, UCLA; Barbee, Stanford; Linden, Oregon; Ficca, USC; Potiva, Stanford.

Cadets Signals Esoteric

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—How does Army's lonesome end get the signals? After eight games it still is top-secret information.

One coach thinks it is done by a towel attached to the quarterback. Another suggests baseball-type signs are used. Some insist plays follow a pre-arranged sequence.

With the Navy game coming up Saturday in Philadelphia, you can expect no help from Army Coach Earl (Red) Blaik.

"I read where they say we did it with towels against Villanova," said Blaik. "Well, I'll tell you this much. Whatever we did, we have changed all the signals for the Navy game. If anybody has broken our code, they are a wonder. I sit on the sidelines every game and sometimes I don't get it."

The lonesome end—Bill Carpenter—is about 20 yards outside the nearest lineman, tackle Ed Bagdonas. Army uses an unbalanced line with end Don Usry and guard Bob Novogratz on one side of center Bill Rowe.

On the other side they have guard Chuck Lytle, tackles Maurice Hilliard and Bagdonas and way out here — Carpenter. The lonesome end never goes in the huddle, getting signals by remote control.

"If the outside man cuts downfield, a defensive back has to go back to protect against a pass," said Blaik. "That leaves a void to the outside. If the other team shifts two men to the outside, as some have done, they leave a void to pass into and they open up the other side for Pete Dawkins.

"The shifting of defense to take care of the end is the main reason Bob Anderson hasn't been making as much yardage as last year. He is still just as good, if not better. But when they defense that side, they open the other side for Pete Dawkins."

Phil Moyer Sweeps Split Ring Decision

PORTLAND (AP)—A younger and stronger Phil Moyer carved a slim and disputed decision in a 10-round boxing match Tuesday night against Luther Rawlings of Chicago.

The promising young Portland middleweight drew a 58½-51½ edge from Referee Ralph Gruman. Judges Andy Crabtree and Lou Sauver both scored the match 55-55.

The Associated Press card favored Moyer 55½-54½.

But under Oregon boxing regulations when two officials score the bout the same for each fighter, the card of the third prevails.

Moyer, 153, opened the first round with strong counterpunching against the 151-pound Rawlings, who came back strong to take the second.

Rawlings kept the edge for the third, but Moyer took the fourth with a strong body attack. In the fifth the veteran Rawlings scored with combinations to Moyer's head, but the Portlander battled back with solid sixth round punching.

The seventh was Moyer's round. He landed a heavy right on Rawlings' head just as the bell sounded. The eighth was even, the ninth went to Moyer and the 10th was his too, but Rawlings rallied in both periods. Neither fighter appeared in trouble throughout.

In the scheduled six-round preliminary bouts:

Willie Richardson, 152, Portland, Ore., outpointed Frank McCoy, 178, San Francisco.

In the scheduled four-round preliminaries:

Billy Lanza, 180, Seattle, outpointed Hugh Williams, 179, Portland, Ore.

Hoople Dope Sheet Says Navy To Win

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

Versatile Genius

Har-rumph! Hak-kaff! This is the time of year when I am invariably called upon for light banter about Turkey Day and its gastronomic meanings. But I have been engaged in serious matters of late and find it hard to adjust my thinking to humor.

With the rash of military histories being written I find myself generously donating huge amounts of time assisting authors in the task of evaluating strategies of great battles. Egad! The name of Hoople always has been associated with gigantic military maneuvers. The Battle of Ladysmith is, as all know, an illustrious example.

It is heartening to know that my ability to analyze still is much in demand. Egad! Bruce Catton spent hours at my side with his Civil War projects.

Luckily for my zillions of readers, football has a distinct military twist to it as the season ends and the Hoople forecast was simple for me to put together.

I am speaking of, certainly, the classic Army-Navy encounter before 102,000 people at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium.

Using the compilations of my staff I found myself forced to agree with its prognostication that Navy, waging a stubborn defensive battle for one half, will suddenly take the offensive with the second half kickoff — Mr. Red Board Daly assures me Army will win the coin flip and receive at the game's start—and thunder to victory.

Egad! It will be a shock to most. Army is favored. But Hoople's plotting board sees Navy winning, 29-13!

On the same afternoon, I foresee trouble for the Air Force Academy. Their season will be hurt by Colorado, which will rumble to a 21-6 triumph!

On Thanksgiving Day, look for Texas A. and M.'s Cadets to cheer with wild abandon as their team turns back Texas, 20-15.

There are more Hoople predictions, of course. Read on for the remainder:
