Symposium Set Thursday

TULELAKE—An all day symposium on nematodes and eel-worms, sponsored by the Spray Center will be held Thursday, February 18, at the Tulelake Butte Valley Fairgrounds. Morning session will begin at 9:30 and will be limited primarily to companies supplying materials.

Discussions will be held on the latest methods and developments in the treatment and prevention of eel-worm and nematodes, a pressing problem in potato and bulb growing areas.

Representatives from major chemical companies will lead the discussion. Technical representatives from Oregon "Ag" Chemicals will discuss some of the newer chemicals and formulas.

An open farmer meeting will begin at 1 p.m. All interested farmers throughout the Basin are invited to attend. The program will feature many interesting discussions. Subjects covered will include "How Does a Soil Fumigant Fumigate" by Jack Fisher, Dow Chemicals; "Improvements in Soil Fumigation," Harold Lembright, Dow Chemicals; and "How Does the Practice Pay?" by Kurt Skinner and Bob Underhill, Dow Chemicals. Underhill will show a movie on nematodes, their life and actions.

Daughters Of Revolution Give Awards To Pupils

The month of February has been proclaimed American History month for some years past. To encourage the students of the junior high schools in the writing of history essays, Eulalona Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution decided to give awards to the students writing the best essays.

Inasmuch as Historical Trailways Essay contest is a national gold honor requirement in the DAR for this year, the students were encouraged to write on early roads and trails.

THE WINNERS at Fremont Junior High School were Carolyn Ferrell, first, whose subject was "Oregon Centennial Military Road"; her prize was the DAR medal. Neil Johnson, "Southern Oregon Military Road" and Tamia Mitchell, "Astorians," placed second and third, and each was presented a copy of "Oregon Historic Land Marks" for Eastern Oregon, booklets compiled by members of the DAR. Penny Howie, "Barlow Road," and Beverly Morstad, "Meek," received honorable mention.

The awards were presented by Mrs. Raymond S. Loosley, historian of the DAR Chapter, at a 3 p.m. assembly at Fremont Junior High School on Monday, February 15.

The essays were excellent and showed considerable research on the part of the students, also the imparting of no little enthusiasm for the subject by their teachers.

THE TITLES of some of the essays which did not place were most interesting, such as "Klamath Trails," "Skyline Trail," "Fremont 1846," "Oregon Trail," "Old Fort Road" and "Klamath Indian Trail."

After making the presentation, Mrs. Loosley said she did not envy the judges who did the grading. She emphasized that the knowledge gained from completing the projects was of greater value to the students than any material prize.

In addition to the winners, the following also submitted essays: Beth Mason, Carol Drew, Brian Eastburn, Rebekah Pierson, Carol Hammer, Mary Roycroft, Brent Budden, Connie Row, Lexie Putnam, Kitty Stalker, Dean Guyer and John Stanger.

Similar awards will be presented to winning students at Altamont Junior High School February 26.

Revamping Being Mulled

LAKEVIEW—The two proposed Lake County administrative school districts, approved in January by the State Board of Education for Reorganization, held elections Monday to decide if they would reorganize.

Tabulations from the proposed South District show three present school districts dissenting. In individual district count, District 1, Kelly Creek, voted 24 yes, 0 no; district 5, Union, 31 yes, 45 no; district 7, Lakeview, 192 yes, 57 no; district 18, Plush, 5 yes, 18 no; district 21, Adel, 0 yes, 30 no; district 38, New Idaho, 20 yes, 5 no; district 41, Vernon, 15 yes, 32 no.

Individual district tabulation in the proposed North District showed two dissenting. District 11, Paisley, voted 35 yes, 15 no; district 14, Silver Lake, 3 yes, 31 no; district 24, Fort Rock, 15 yes, 16 no; district 25, Ana River, 12 yes, 8 no.

Dissenting districts have 30 days in which to petition the county school superintendent for another election. Signatures of at least 50 per cent of the voters in the original election must appear on the petition.

Documentary To Be Shown

"A Cry in the Night," hour-long documentary film, will be shown at the Bible Baptist Church, 2244 Wiard Street, Sunday, February 21, at 7 p.m.

The film, in color, was made throughout India and features such scenes as reputed actual demon possession on the island of Bali; a savage cockfight in a temple courtyard, a new Tokyo, one of the world's most beautiful and modern cities, rising out of the ashes of defeat and the age-old customs of the past; Communist riots, and a missionary nurse assisting a leper.

The film was made by World Vision, Inc., and is provided to churches for individual foreign missionary programs.

CLIFFORD L. SANDERS

Local Man Takes Charge Of Guard

Lt. Col. Clifford L. Sanders, 5609 Denver Avenue, became commanding officer of National Guard units in Klamath Falls, Ashland and Burns this month, the State Military Department announced.

SPECIFICALLY, he commands the Second Gun Battalion, 249 Artillery. He is the first local man since World War II to command the battalion.

He has been a Klamath Falls resident since 1925. As a civilian, he is assistant city engineer.

He enlisted in the local guard unit as a private in 1937 and entered active duty as a sergeant when the unit was mobilized in 1940. He served at Fort Stevens, Oregon, until 1942, then attended antiaircraft artillery office candidate school in North Carolina and was graduated with second lieutenant rank in October of that year.

A promotion to first lieutenant came in 1943, and he served as such until his release from active duty in 1946. Sanders, during the war years, served in the Pacific and participated in liberation of Attu Island.

HE WAS COMMISSIONED in the Army Reserve after the war and organized and served as captain of local artillery Battery B when the guard was reactivated in 1947.

In 1949, Sanders was appointed battalion operations officer and was promoted to major. He resigned from the guard with that rank in 1956 due to pressing civilian duties, and returned to the Army reserve. He was promoted to his present rank in the reserve during 1957 and held the rank until his recent assignment to the guard.

Sanders and his wife, Leona, have three daughters, Cheryl, 16; Diane, 13, and Kathleen, 9.
