River Takes Youth, 13

LA GRANDE (AP) — A junior high school boy drowned after a raft capsized in the Grande Ronde River 11 miles north of La Grande Monday.

He was Charles Wesley Schmittle, 13, one of four boys thrown into the water when their raft overturned. The other three boys said they could not grab young Schmittle before he went under. They managed to swim to shore.

The boys, all students at the Imbler school, made the raft of 2 by 4s and railroad ties. They took it out for a trial after school.

The parents of the drowned boy are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schmittle of Summerville. The boy's body was recovered several hours after the accident by C. L. "Tex" Martin, a Portland skin diver who has been working in the La Grande area, testing bridge footing sites for the state Highway Department.

Between 150 and 200 cups of tea can be brewed from a pound of dried tea.
