Police Quiz Slay Suspects

McALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Police questioned suspects today in an effort to solve the rape-slaying of a dark-haired beauty queen whose partially-clothed body was found floating in a canal Thursday.

The body of Miss Irene Garza, 25, missing for six days, was pulled from the canal about a mile from her home and less than a dozen blocks from the busy downtown section of this Lower Rio Grande Valley city.

The autopsy report showed the teacher died from blows on the head before she was tossed into the small canal.

Authorities estimated she had been in the water since Saturday night, shortly after leaving home in the family car to attend church.
