

TELEGRAM GIRLS ARE HOME AGAIN

Declare Eastern Women to Be Badly Dressed and Homely.

PLEASED WITH PRESIDENT

Oregon Lassies Admire Virginians' Gallantry, but Think They Are Distant—Easterners Said to Be Poor Spenders.

Nine of the 13 girls forming the Evening Telegram's party of Oregon girls treated to a trip through Eastern states...

The girls who returned with the party are: Misses Ethel Green, of Oregon City; Maudie Robertson, of Dallas; Lillie Way, of Myrtle Point; Pearl Carlisle, of Astoria; Genevieve Graves, of McMinnville; Maudie Smith, of Oakland; Ethel Hourie, of The Dalles; Fay Gibson and Mollie Owens, of Portland.

Miss Pearl Cosper, of Portland, left the party in Michigan to visit relatives for the remainder of the summer at Benton Harbor. Miss Pauline Tappendorf, of Vancouver, and Miss Edith Dowling remained at Chicago visiting friends and relatives.

Several of the girls were interviewed yesterday at the Oregon Hotel. When they returned to their homes and what they saw in the East would fill a large sized book. The most remarkable feature of the trip to them was the ignorance of Eastern people concerning the West as compared with the conception of the East held by Oregonians.

While the girls were greatly interested in the Jamestown Exposition, they assert that it does not compare with the Exposition held in Portland. The buildings, however, they declare are very handsome and are being constructed for permanent use as military schools.

"We were delighted with our reception at the White House," said Miss Maud Robertson. "We were welcomed very kindly and President Roosevelt can be more cordial to no party of the trip that I treasure most highly."

"What was of great interest to me," said Miss Pearl Carlisle, "was the 'Wild West Show' at the Exposition. I was aware from the West where cowboy life and all its romantic attractions are supposed to be. It was a revelation to me. It was quite amusing to see the East and to find out what happens in the West. I never saw cowboys like those at the Exposition, or the feats they perform, in my life. The show was a decided novelty and I thoroughly enjoyed it."

The girls admired the courtesy of the men of Virginia toward the opposite sex, although they thought them a trifle cold and distant.

"Every time I heard a Southerner give an order to a negro servant I held my breath to see what would follow," said one. "But the negroes appear contented. They are evidently not as different from the negroes we see in Northern cities."

"We saw a few pretty women in Chicago," said another, "but the majority of the Eastern women are terribly shallow and homely, especially in the cities. We think Portland has them all beaten for beauty. As for rosy cheeks," and here the speaker tried to look unconscious, "we attracted considerable attention from many people because of their interest in the rosy cheeks of some of our party."

The dress of Eastern women in general came in for its share of criticism. The girls assert that the Eastern women dress very stylishly and in many cases gaudily, the material they use is much cheaper than that used by the general run of women in the West. They also stated that Westerners were much freer in spending money than Eastern people.

Glad to Return Home.

"We enjoyed the trip immensely, but we are mighty glad to be back in the free and beautiful West," was the consensus of opinion expressed by all of them.

At Chicago the girls wrote a letter to the management of the Evening Telegram, thanking them heartily for the outing, which enabled them to see the East when they might never have had a chance otherwise.

A. L. Mitchell, circulation manager of the Telegram, who had charge of the party in the special car, gave a glowing description of the trip, stating that it was a perfect success. Speaking of the Jamestown Exposition, he said it was a shame the way it has been "knocked" since its opening.

"The exposition has finer buildings than any that have been constructed for a like purpose," he asserted. "They are numerous and handsome, being made of pressed brick and stone. The interior finish of many of them is simply immense. It is the elaborate construction in the buildings that has delayed the exposition."

GAME IS TOO DANGEROUS

Barney Oldfield Says He Intends to Quit Auto Racing.

Barney Oldfield, the greatest automobile driver in the country, if not in the world, is in Portland. He arrived, accompanied by Mrs. Oldfield, last night and took apartments at the Hotel Portland. He is on his way to Seattle, where he will compete in a big race on June 15. Regarding a proposed race in this city, Oldfield said that if satisfactory terms were made, he would appear here. He said that he would soon return East to drive in a number of the big race meets to be held there during the summer.

Without doubt, Oldfield is the greatest automobile driver in the United States. He holds the world's record for any dis-

If Anybody Should Ask You to Name the Best Known Piece of Property in the City of Portland, What Would You Answer?

ROSE CITY PARK

There is a reason for this. It is not because ROSE CITY PARK is the most extensively-advertised addition that has ever been placed on the market. Newspaper advertising, in truth, has been instrumental, to a very large extent, in calling the attention of the people to ROSE CITY PARK. But, were it not for the fact that the merits of ROSE CITY PARK were not all that are claimed for it, how long do you suppose its prestige would last? Do you suppose over 1500 lots would have been sold, if the truth had not been told?

THE TRUTH OF THE MATTER IS

That no one has been able to tell of the beauties of ROSE CITY PARK. No one has been capable of telling all the advantages of home-building in this addition. No one has been long-headed enough to portray vividly the exceptional investment features of this property. After all is said, the truth is that ROSE CITY PARK itself has been its best advertisement. Few have been the people but have returned from a visit to ROSE CITY PARK with their mouths and hearts full of praise for the place. Strangers have left Portland feeling that their visit would have been incomplete without seeing this largest addition ever platted to any city on the continent. Old-timers, seeing ROSE CITY PARK for the first time, have admitted their astonishment. Newcomers, seeing it for the first time, have bought without hesitation. Eastern real estate men have marveled at the proximity of ROSE CITY PARK to downtown and the tardiness with which this proposition has been carried to the front.

ROSE CITY PARK IS AN ESTABLISHED SECTION

Of the city now. It is admitted on all sides to have jumped right into the place where it has belonged for so many years—at the forefront of Portland's leading residence sections.

THERE IS NOT A MAN, WOMAN OR CHILD IN PORTLAND THAT HAS NOT HEARD OF ROSE CITY PARK.

THERE ARE VERY FEW PEOPLE IN OREGON WHO HAVE NOT READ ABOUT ROSE CITY PARK.

THERE ARE FEW PEOPLE ON THE PACIFIC COAST WHO ARE NOT FAMILIAR WITH ROSE CITY PARK.

THERE ARE HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE IN THE EAST INQUIRING ABOUT IT.

THERE IS ONLY ONE SAFE PLACE TO BUY AND BUILD AND THAT IS IN ROSE CITY PARK.

If you have not visited Rose City Park yet, you are one of a very few that has not done so. You can take the car straight through now, without transfer. Go out today.

tan from one to 100 miles on a circular track. He also holds records in every city wherever he has appeared. In San Francisco a record he made four years ago remained unbroken till Oldfield reached the Bay City a few weeks ago. Then he smashed it.

OREGON MONEY

Upbuilding Wall Street. More than $10,000,000 of Oregon money is held by Eastern life insurance companies as a trust fund. This sum is being added to year by year at the rate of $1,000,000 net, after deducting everything returned here in dividends, death losses and matured policies. Nearly all of this vast sum is manipulated in Wall street, a mere trifle is in Oregon securities. By placing your life insurance with "Oregon Life," every cent of the premium remains here for the development and making of a greater Oregon, and your insurance will cost you less than in any other company.

PARADE TWO MILES LONG

Rose Fiesta Committee Receives Many Promises of Participation. From present indications the parade that is to be held June 21 in connection with the rose fiesta will be at least two miles in length. The number of societies, clubs and other organizations that are responding to the request to join in the flower pageant is surpassing the greatest expectations of the general committee.

Milwaukie Country Club.

Eastern and California races. Take Sellwood or Oregon City car, starting from First and Alder streets.

Thousands of postal cards have been printed to exploit the fiesta. These cards bear an announcement of the event printed in decorative type, with a beautiful rose in natural colors as a part of the design. The same design has been used on thinner paper for inserting in letters. Either the cards or the inserts can be had without cost at the headquarters, 229 Sweetland building, or at the department stores and several postcard and cigar stands.

The committee urges that every citizen mail some of this literature to his friends. Even though many of the recipients cannot come, the cards will help advertise Portland and spread the fame of her roses.

Solicitors are working with the idea of making the rose fiesta an annual June event in Portland. It is hoped that sufficient money will be obtained to begin preliminary preparations for the fiesta next year as soon as the coming show is over. The organization will be made permanent, the date for next year's fiesta will be set and an endeavor will be made to secure conventions to meet in this city while the fiesta is in progress.

FORECASTS

Portland and vicinity—Rain; southerly winds. Western Oregon and Western Washington—Rain; southerly winds. Eastern Oregon, Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho—Unsettled, with possibly showers. Southern Idaho—Probably fair.

DAILY METEOROLOGICAL REPORT.

PORTLAND, Or., June 9.—Maximum temperature, 84 degrees; minimum temperature, 52 degrees. River reading at 9 A. M., 19.1 feet; change in last 24 hours, fall .01 foot. Total precipitation, 5 P. M. to 5 P. M. trace; total precipitation since September 1, 1906, 42.19 inches; normal precipitation since September 1, 1906, 44.48 inches; deficiency, 2.29 inches. Total sunshine, June 8, 1907, 2 hours, 36 minutes; possible sunshine June 8, 1907, 15 hours, 39 minutes. Barometer (reduced to sea-level) at 9 P. M., 29.98 inches.

PACIFIC COAST WEATHER.

WEATHER CONDITIONS. The barometer is falling rapidly along the Washington coast, indicating the approach of a storm area. Storm warnings have in consequence been ordered displayed along the Washington coast and at the mouth of the Columbia River. It is expected, however, that the storm will only be of moderate intensity. The barometric pressure continues high over the Northern California coast. This has caused a continuation of the cloudy and threatening weather over Western Oregon and Western Washington, where general though moderate rains have fallen during the last 12 hours. East of the range the weather was fair. No marked changes in temperature occurred.

Indications point to rain over Washington at Portland since last evening. Reports from Weller, Lewiston and Riparia this morning show a slight fall in the Snake River. At Northport, on the upper Columbia, a slight rise was noted, but farther down the stream the stage was about stationary.

FORECASTS. Portland and vicinity—Rain; southerly winds. Western Oregon and Western Washington—Rain; southerly winds. Eastern Oregon, Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho—Unsettled, with possibly showers. Southern Idaho—Probably fair.
