Bus Driver's Disciplinary Action Sparks Protest By Canby Parents

ALTURAS — Twenty parents from Canby met with the Modoc Union High School Board of Trustees to protest recent bus discipline.

Sokesman B.O. Musch for the Canby citizens voiced the complaints of the parents over the recent dismissal of all students from the afternoon school bus on a disciplinary action. Musch also said that children on the bus are being subjected to profanity and abuse by a few misbehaved youngsters and all the children are taking the punishment.

Bus driver Bud Layton reported that the children had been firing spit wads on the bus and he had repeatedly warned them it had to be stopped. He also said that it was impossible to tell who the culprit was and give proper attention to the driving of the bus for the safety of the children and to be a driver not a policeman.

Board President John Weber told the parents that the bus driver had a perfect right to bring the bus back if the safety of all the riders is involved.

Aid Necessary

"Something has to be done about the discipline on the school bus, and it is up to the parents to help by insisting on the children behaving themselves and following the rules of conduct," Smith said.

The Canby delegation suggested that better discipline could be brought about on the bus if the driver would advise the principal of any student he even suspected of misconduct. The principal would then contact the parents and discuss the problem with them. If the same students continued their behavior then they would be suspended from the bus until the problems clear up. Parents agreed that there were only three or four students causing the majority of the trouble.

The board agreed with the Canby suggestion and passed a motion to that effect.

Spit Wads Thrown

Two weeks ago the spit wads were being thrown around the bus, and "I turned the bus around and brought the whole load back to the high school. I took them to the rear of the high school building and told them to go into the school and use the office phone to call their parents."

Parents complained that many of the students could not get the use of the phone and wandered off to other locations.

One parent said, "It is the responsibility of the school to see that these children get home and not wander around the streets."

Principal Marks Smith told the parents that the first responsibility of the bus driver is for the safety of the children and to be a driver not a policeman.

Oyster Feed Top Event For East Side Grange

By IRVIN FARIS

NEW PINE CREEK — The Men's Night oyster feed at East Side Grange turned out to be a successful social event more like old times with around 50 in attendance.

The unanimity of satisfaction was partly due to the women who thoughtfully provided extra dishes of salads, pies, cakes and a huge pot of chili for those not caring 100 per cent for oysters.

At the regular meeting following, all new officers were installed and Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Boston of Willow Ranch were given the obligation as new members.

Chairman Neva Morton reported on the Home Ec meeting held at Mrs. Ramona Pochop's home with 12 members present. The next home ec meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clem Mulkey.

Mrs. Ruth Logan was appointed chairman of the next grange-sponsored pinochle party to be held Feb. 20.

Myra Robnett won the penny auction and the hostess served refreshments.

After a discussion on the evils of reapportionment as decreed by the U.S. Supreme Court based upon population only in the various states, members of the grange were strongly in favor of area representation for a more equable representation for the more sparsely settled states. A resolution was drawn up to this effect and sent on to the Pomona Grange.

A program followed the meeting put on by the men from Irvin Faris as chairman. Due to a shortage of volunteer help in putting on a show, Faris wrote and enacted a script which was a take-off on the Jackie Gleason TV show. Next on the show was a pianologue by Master Bill Bishop, a harmony number, "Down In The Valley," by Verne, Robbie, Darla and Neta Vincent; a folk dance by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Newcombe and a humorous reading by Leo Perry on how to quit smoking.

Fish Office Totals Losses

PORTLAND (UPI)—The Oregon Fish Commission has reported losses of $656,590 as the result of December and January flooding.

The commission said the damage occurred to fishways in streams and to fish themselves.

Damage to hatcheries and research facilities totaled $192,900. The Cascade hatchery suffered the heaviest damage, $75,000.

Log jams formed by floods will cost some $307,650 to remove, it was estimated.

The most serious jam occurred in Milk Creek, a Clackamas River tributary, with removal cost estimated at $100,000.

Solon Urges Road Building

SALEM. (UPI)—First district congressman Wendell Wyatt termed as "urgent" the need to rebuild timber access roads despiteraged in the Christmas week and January floods.

He also told a legislative meeting here one of his problems was to "instill a sense of urgency" in federal agencies so they will speed flood relief.

However, he said most federal agencies have moved speedily within the limits imposed by their financial resources.

Wyatt said he might introduce a bill to allow flood losses to be spread over three income tax years.
