Two Sisters, Brother, Mother and Aunt Go Down.

ACCIDENT NEAR SEATTLE

Girls Try to Rescue Boy and Trio Drowns Before Mother, Who With Her Sister Follow, Only to Meet Like Fate in Luke.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 17.—(Special.)—
In a frantic attempt to rescue a 13-yearold boy, five persons were drowned in Lake Sammamish yesterday. They are:
MRS. EMMA MAYER.
MRS. JOHN HERTER, sister of Mrs.

Mayer.

ANTONE MAYER, aged 13.

LIZZIE MAYER, aged 11.

IDA MAYER, aged 11.

Antone waded out into the lake beyond his depth, and when he felt himself going he cried for help. The two girls rushed to his assistance and the trio drowned before the eyes of their mother, sitting on a doorstep nearby. She ran down to the water and plunged in to save the children, and her sister, who had been with her, followed a moment later. Both the women were in street clothes and the swift undertow made it impossi-ble for them to swim out to the children. The five went down with mathematical precision as the undertow caught them, and all died within half an hour, Coroner F. M. Carroll has been called to investigate.

The town of Monohan is two miles distant from the lake and is the scene of a sawmill industry. The nen of the comunity were at work at the time and the women were helpless.

The young fellow Hartman has a home in Portiand. And he deserves it too. After McCredle found Califf lying under the bleschers, complaining of rheumatism in his arm, he was in a dilemma. There was nobody but Hartman able to pitch. The young fellow had arrived in the city the night before, was never out with the team, and had no chance to practice. Carl Moore, who was catching, did not have a chance to practice with the lad. But Hartman went out on the mound and won his game.

Dutch, Baron, Brewer, or Shrimp Schimpff, as the young pitcher is variously called, found Hartman and Wilson after the game, and immediately signed up the youngsters for his gang. Schimpfi is the youngst fellow on the team, but now he has company. Wilson, the Baron and Hartman are chums and the rest of the team call them the "chil-

Moore was obliged to request Mccredie to put in a new catcher in the second game Sunday. Carl was nearly dead from the work, and saw that he was doing little good behind the bat, so he requested the manager to change him. Moore has been catching steadily for the past two weeks, and deserves a rest. The work behind the bat is nearly as hard as pitching, and a man who keeps it up for it week deserves credit.

It is not known at present whether McCredle will secure Swalm, the big Dubuque pitcher. This man is about the same size as Kinsella, and has a fine record in the three leagues.

KNAPP PREDICTS HARMONY

Says Railroads Will Support Laws.

Would Allow Pooling. CHICAGO, June 17.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says: "An era of good feeling between the railroads and the public, with conse-quent beneficent effect upon the mate-rial welfare of the United States," is predicted by Martin A. Knapp, chair-man of the Interstate Commerce Com-

In an interview yesterday he ex-pressed the belief that present railway conditions would improve, that in his opinion an abundance of capital would be found in time to make the needed extensions and improvements to carry on the constantly growing traffic of the country. He declared that in the future, if he read the signs of the times aright, railroad men would be found giving their support, instead of opposing well considered measures having for their purpose the Federal regulation or control of commerce between the states.

Chairman Knapp balieves there will be supplemental railroad logislation.

chairman Knapp believes there will be supplemental railroad legislation, but that it will have the approval of the railroad men as well as the public. He expressed the opinion that a well considered law regulating the issue of future securities would in effect give an official sanction to the certificates that would greatly aid in their sale by the assurance thereby given to the buyer.

that would greatly ald in their sale by the assurance thereby given to the buyer

Mr. Knapp said it was his belief that the general railroad situation would imp e. He pointed out that confidence in the integrity and value of loading railroad securities had been restored and that the danger of further drastic legislation by the states seems nearly to have disappeared.

Mr. Knapp indorsed the proposal to exempt railways from the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law to the extent at least of permitting them to make pooling arrangements subject to certain restrictions. The belief prevails in some quarters that if pooling was considered under governmental supervision, a step would thus be taken in the direction of nullifying the anti-trust act as far as the railroads are concerned, thereby removing the inconsistencies in the enforcement of Biggest Prize for Horse Race. NEW YORK, June 17.—The prosperity of horse racing in New York is indicated by the fact that the Coney Island Jockey Club, which begins its Spring meeting at Sheepshead Bay on Thursday next, has arranged a programme which calls for $300,000 in purses and stakes. The chief feature of interest, next to the $20,000 Suburban, is the triple arrangement which will have its first running this year. will have its first running this year. The winning of the three most impor-tant stakes of the meeting for horses of their age by any one horse carries with it $10,000 as a special prize to with it $10,000 as a special prize to crown the champion. The three events include the Tidal, the Lawrence Realization, and the new fixture, the Coney Island Jockey Club stakes. The total value of these races to the winners is $40,000. Should one horse win all three, the $10,000 added for this feat would net her fortunate owner $70,000.

Oppose Valuation of Roads.

CHICAGO, June 17.—Shall the Federal Government make a valuation of the physical properties of the railroads of the Nation?

the Nation?

President Roosevelt in his Decoration day speech at Indianapolis advocated such a plan, suggesting that Congress confer upon the Interstate Commerce Commission the necessary power, and now a majority of the executives of various raliroads to whom a letter from the Record Herald is sent, have come out against the project. Out of thirteen replies, eight railroad presidents are opposed to the idea, one rather favors it and another is indifferent. Three courte-custy declined to express an opinion.

the act to regulate commerce and the act aimed at combinations in restraint of trade. Mr. Knapp said that such a concert of action between roads, through legalized traffic associations, was absolutely necessary to the suitprovide joint rates on grain within this state. The question was immediately carried into the courts by the O. R. & N.. and both the Hill lines intervened to ald the Harriman system. One of the points raised was that the Railroad Commission act was unconstitutional because it ex-empted electric roads.

Judge Hanford intimated when the Commission filed a demurrer that he would knock out the law, and the Commission hurried before the Legislature to remedy the defect. An amended bill was passed last Winter that included the electric interurban roads.

Notice was given several weks ago that a new hearing would be held on a joint wheat rate case. It was admitted by members of the Commission that the hearing was merely a preface to a rels-suance of the old order. At the same time this new notice of a hearing was given the Commission abrogated last year's joint rate ruling and instructed given the Commission abrogated year's joint rate ruling and instru the Attorney-General to dismiss the year's joint rate ruing and instructed the Attorney-General to dismiss the proceedings before Judge Hanford. Harriman interests made a hard fight to prevent the original case from being dismissed, but Judge Hanford today ruled that with the cancellation of the case there was nothing to make an issue of and threw out the controversy, taxing the costs to the state. An injunction sought by the Harriman line to prevent the Commission from hearing the new joint rate complaint was denied later with but little argument.

The affidavit of the Commission tacitly admitted that the sole purpose of the new hearing is to reissue the old joint rate ruing; at the same time a constitutional provision requiring railroads to connect their tracks at crossings would be enforced. The O. R. & N. is expected to continue the fight.

The Rallroad Commission meets here tomorrow to listen to testimeny on the value of terminal grounds in Seattle owned by the various roads. This is a part of the hearing on the value of railroad property within this state.
