The entertainment which is to be given at St. Alphonsus Academy has been postponed until May 15th. Some changes had to be made owing to the fact that Miss Myrtle Vaughn's father passed away, she having been one of the leading characters in the play.

The passengers who came in on the steamer were M. Clair, T. H. Barron, Mr. Patterson, Charles Griffith. Miss Wells, Miss L Stephens, R. Grave, Mr. Allen, Mrs. Stanley and son, Tom Quick, Mrs. Price, Mr. Reinhardt, J. A. Booth and P. F. Browne.

J. W. Jennings had his shoulder broken by being thrown out of a vehicle. He was sitting on a box, and in coming to the bad place in the road near Boquist's a wheel struck one of the snags, and the jolt coming so sudden he did not have time to brace or save himself and was pitched out, and the force of the fall breaking his shoulder.

Mr. R. Robinson has won out in the suit, although he obtained $300 less than what he claimed was due him from the R Robinson Cheese Company. Mr. Robinson came here a few years ago, and did considerable business in buying and selling cheese, and will continue in that business in the future, paying the highest cash price for good cheese.

Ezra Hauxhurst was found dead in the back room of Stephens' resort on Tuesday night about eleven o'clock. Drs. Smith and Ross were sent for when the body was found, so also was Coroner Reynolds, and after the doctors had pronounced Hauxhurst dead, the coroner had the body removed to the undertaker's establishment, and while doing so a bottle fell from the dead man's pocket which had evidently contained doctored whiskey, but whether the man had died from the effects of that or from some other cause Coroner Reynolds was unable to determine, so decided not to hold an inquest.

The anniversary of the Independent Order of Oddfellows was fittingly observed in this city on Friday, and in which the Rebekahs took part, also delegations from the other Oddfellow and Rebekah lodges in this county. At noon a banquet was served to a big crowd, after which a procession was formed of the two orders, and headed by the brass band, marched through the business streets to the opera house, where appropriate addresses were made by Rev. A.E. Wingert, Mayor H. T. Botts, Judge W. Galloway and Claude Thayer which was interspersed with band music, vocal solos by Miss Hazel McNair and Mr. T. Coates and a recitation by Miss Lutie Kunze. In the evening there was a big crowd at the dance given at the opera house, and, altogether, the anniversary was a success.

Justice Eakin reversed the judgment of Judge George H. Burnett, holding that he committed error in sustaining a demurrer in the case about Tillamook county, appellant, against the Wilson River Road company, respondent. The court holds that the relief sought for is forfeiture of the lease; in other words, to cancel the instrument by which defendant holds title so that plaintiff may be restored to its title and possession, and that this belongs exclusively to equitable remedial jurisdiction. The suit was to annual a lease of the Wilson River toll road, extending from Gales Creek, Washington county, to some six miles from Tillamook City, between Tillamook county and the road company. The lease was entered into in 1901 for a period of 50 years, providing that the company repair and maintain it and that defendant hold plaintiff harmless from liability by reason of accident. Plaintiff alleged that the county court had not properly advertised for bids in the leasing of the road and that the same is unsafe and dangerous to public travel. The cause is reversed and remanded.

INTIMIDATES THE JUDGE.

Mrs. Thayer Makes Unwarranted Attack on Judge Galloway.

Judge W. Galloway was accosted on the street after court on Monday by Mrs. Claude Thayer, who accused him of unfairness and untruthfulness, and in other ways tried to intimidate the judge. This grew out of the case wherein R. Robinson was suing the R. Robinson Cheese Company for $1,245.55, and Mrs. Thayer accused the judge of deciding cases on the street, accused him of not allowing the bank ledger sheets to be put in as evidence in a case then pending, in fact, gave the judge a tongue lashing and held the political big stick over him because Claude Thayer helped to elect him. This is the first time that Judge Galloway has been intimidated in that way since he has been on the bench, and as Mrs. Thayer's unwarranted attack upon a judge who was endeavoring to dispense justice with fairness was altogether out of place and improper, naturally Judge Galloway felt that the Bench had been insulted, and at first made up his mind that he would have Mrs. Thayer brought into court, but later decided that he would give Mrs. Thayer an opportunity to apologise by sending in a written apology. When the jury returned into court next day with a verdict in this case, and before he discharged it, Judge Galloway told the jury that he had been intimidated and accused of unfairness, and gave the attorneys an opportunity to point out where he had been unfair. The attorneys for the company denied that the judge had acted unfairly, nor had he kept the ledger sheets from the banks books from going to the jury, as accused by Mrs. Thayer. After this explanation Judge Galloway thanked and discharged the jury.

In the matter of the application of Andrew Anderson and others for the vacation of a county road, it was ordered that F. L. Sappington, W. W. Conder and Joe Wilson be appointed viewers.

In the matter of the Necarney mountain road, upon the petition of Wm. Armstrong, after a thorough investigation the county court finds that there was surveyed and located a road over practically the same route as petitioned for by Mr. Armstrong and others in the year 1891, which survey was accepted and declared a public road and the same has not been vacated. Also in the year 1902, a trail was surveyed and located over the same route. In view of the above facts, the petition was rejected as the route is already surveyed and located. The court ordered the road opened and improved from lower town to the foot of Necarney mountain and the proper proportion of money in District No. 1 be expended on that portion of the road.

The court ordered bids to be called for the construction of two miles of road known as the Beals continuation of the Coal Creek road.

The clerk was ordered to advertise for bids for the care of Geo. Myers, for 75 cords of wood and for the construction of a bridge across the Trask river, there being no bids for the wood nor for the bridge.

The report of the viewers in the matter of the petition of R. O. Richards being unfavorable, the petition was rejected.

In the matter of the petition of Peter Jenk, petitioner appeared and asked that petition be not allowed, the same being rejected.

Herman Farmer resigned as supervisor of R. D. No. 5 and James Christensen was appointed to fill the vacancy.

In the matter of the petition of H. H. Brooten for county road, the same was rejected on account of a wrong date.

In the matter of the petition of Lester Landingham for county road, F. L. Sappington, W. W. Conder and Joe Wilson were appointed viewers.

In the matter of the petition of H. V. Alley for a county road, it was ordered that the said road be opened.

The clerk was ordered to draw a warrant for $27.61 in favor of C. C. Gridley for the re-payment of taxes for the year 1890.

Bill of C. A. Patzlaf, amounting to $12.80 for supplies furnished Mrs. Osburn was allowed in the sum of $6 40, and $6.40 disallowed.

The court is still in session.
