

OFFICER PUTS END TO LINGERING PARTY

Tom Kay Finds Mr. and Mrs. Waffles Serving Liquor to Sunday Guest.

GREAT HAWKSHAW ACTS

Arrests Head of Family for Disturbing Lid—Judge Cameron, in Municipal Court, Re-serves Decision.

If, perchance, you should entertain friends at dinner next Sunday see to it that the family decanter does not find a place on the table. See to it, too, that your guests are not served with an appetizer or in fact with anything more stimulating than water, coffee or weak tea.

For the lid is not only on these Sundays, but it is a triple-barred lid, fitted up with burglar-proof devices, a timelock and child-proof lining. Listen to this: Sunday afternoon Sam Waffles, proprietor of the Uncle Sam Hotel, was seated in the hotel parlor with his wife when a mutual friend called.

"Ah-ha-a-a!" said the great detective. "I observe that you have been drinking. I further observe that you secreted the liquor and glasses upon my approach."

"Simplest thing in the world," explained the local Sherlock carelessly. "As I was passing the room to see if the hotel bar was open I noticed the display of glasses. From that I concluded you were drinking. When I knocked on the door I heard a hurrying about, which told me you were hiding the stuff. And when you opened the door my olfactory organ advised me that the predominant aroma was not that of burning incense or apple cider."

"We never dreamed it was you. We thought it was one of those thirsty roomers of ours, and that's the reason I hid the bottle. I am sure you're welcome to a drink," said the hotel man, misunderstanding the nature of the visitation.

"Not that," said the great detective, crossing himself severely. "I mean the name of the law, which says you shall not give away, sell, or otherwise dispose of. And here I find you otherwise disposing of. But the shadows are deepening. It will soon be night, and I must raid a game of checkers anon. Let's away!"

"Protestation, explanation and indignation availed the Waffles family nothing. Mr. Waffles was taken to Police Headquarters and required to leave bail. Furthermore he was tried on a charge of violating the liquor law, in the Municipal Court yesterday forenoon. The trial was made the occasion of a lively tilt on the subject of hospitality, Sunday closing and individual rights.

"Do you mean to contend that a man has not the right to give out liquor in his own home to his own guests?" demanded attorney King of the Deputy District Attorney.

"That's it exactly," said the prosecutor. "I have liquor in my house and shall serve it to my friends. If I see fit on Sunday or any other day. When my friends call they are welcome to the best in the house," declared Waffles' lawyer indignantly.

"That's rather a strong statement," said Haney. "for a man to get up in court and say he is going to break the law."

"It is preposterous to say a man cannot serve liquor to his friends in his own home. That is not the meaning of the law, and I'd like to fight the matter out before the higher courts," said King.

"If the right to serve liquor to friends were allowed, every saloonkeeper in town could continue with his business on Sunday by simply transferring his bottles from his saloon to his house," said Haney.

"I shall consider this matter for a day or two before announcing my decision," said Judge Cameron.

Speaking of the Sunday lid again, does it really stimulate temperance on the day of rest?

Henry Keith and John Parry say not. And these gentlemen ought to know, for they both were gloriously drunk Sunday. Color is lent to their views by the fact that all records of this sort of drunkenness were broken in the Municipal Court yesterday forenoon. There were 14 in-ebriates on the docket.

When came the ingredients of these Sunday jags? Several had bottles in their pockets, purchased Saturday, no doubt. Several others had what is known in Police parlance as "hold-overs," meaning that the jag was recruited on Saturday sufficient to extend on into Sunday. The majority, however, are believed to have had a hole in the lid, in which event they are much better detectives than the police.

SOUNDINGS ON RIVER BARS

Delay of Torpedo-Boat Paul Jones Due to Work on Channel.

The delay of the Torpedo-boat-destroyer will consist in reaching Victoria Saturday from Portland is explained by Pilot William H. Patterson, who states that he utilized the opportunity offered by officers of the vessels to make soundings of the various bars between Portland and Astoria.

Captain Patterson states that the opportunities for making accurate soundings were perfect. He had three leadmen working on the shoals and from the soundings it is apparent that there has been a gradual scouring of the entire length of the river. At low tide, water there will be 25 feet on the shoalest bar.

CHARGES AGAINST JAILER

Federal Prisoners Allege Mitchell Is Guilty of Misconduct.

Federal prisoners in the County Jail awaiting trial have preferred charges of immoral conduct against Jailer Mitchell before Assistant United States District Attorney James Cole, in this shape of a letter to that effect. An investigation of the matter in order that he may understand the facts, is being made by Mr. Cole.

One of the prisoners states that Mitchell, the Chinese cook, S. A. D. Pater and a number of others engaged in poker games on the premises. Pater lost $20. It is also said that Pater is granted many favors by the jailer, and that this was probably the reason he made no objection to the loss of the money.

It is also said by the prisoners that Mitchell charges exorbitantly for everything purchased for them from the outside, this often amounting to a commission of 25 per cent. Two-cent writing tablets, they say, sell to prisoners for 30 cents, as do 6-cent packages of envelopes.

Immoral practices are also alleged with women prisoners and visitors. "My sister called me up today and said the charge in regard to gambling is absolutely false," said Mr. Cole yesterday. "This complaint has been in my hands several days, and I have been investigating the matter, but further than this I do not wish to make any statement as to what will be done, or as to whether or not I believe the charges true. I will not deny that I think them so. I will investigate Jailer Mitchell's side of the question tomorrow."

"This is all an infamous lie," said Jailer Mitchell last night. The only thing that is true in regard to the charges made is that I sell writing paper to the prisoners for 10 cents. The tablets cost me 7 cents at wholesale. The charges with respect to gambling and immoral practices are absolutely false."

BODY FOUND IN COLUMBIA

Remains of Harold Long, Drowned Canoeist, Brought to City.

The body of Harold Long, the 15-year-old son of Mrs. H. R. Patterson of 445 East Ash street, who was drowned in the Columbia River about two weeks ago, was brought to this city yesterday afternoon by his mother and stepfather, who went to St. Helens for the purpose of identifying the remains.

Young Long left Washougal, Wash., in a 16-foot canoe the evening of June 18. He expected to paddle to Portland and to reach this city the next day. When the young man failed to put in his appearance his relatives became anxious and started a search. Two days later his boat was found at the head of Scavie's Island and in it was his coat. The boat was right side up and had drifted ashore, but no trace was found of the missing lad until Sunday night when two brothers named Scott found the badly decomposed body near the ranch of Antone Barber on Willamette Slough about seven miles from St. Helens.

The young man was a member of Captain L. E. Honford of the river steamer Jesse Hartman, and the latter has been indefatigable in his search for the missing lad.

The body is supposed to be the foster reported sighted by Captain Harry Emken, who saw it while piloting the steamship Mathilda up the river Saturday. The body was taken to the morgue and the funeral will be held today at noon.

S.S.S. REMOVES BLOOD HUMORS

When the blood is pure and healthy the skin will be soft, smooth and free from eruptions, but when the blood becomes infected with some unhealthy humor the effect is shown by rashes, eruptions, boils and pimples, or other disfiguring and annoying skin disease. The skin is provided with countless pores and glands which act as a drainage system to rid the body of impurities through the perspiration that is constantly passing through these little tubes. There are other glands that pour out on the skin an oily substance to keep it soft and pliable. When the blood becomes filled with humors and acids these are thrown off through the pores and glands, burning and irritating the skin and drying up the natural oils so that we have not only Acne, Eczema, Salt Rheum, etc., but such dry, scaly skin affections as Tetter, Psoriasis, and kindred troubles. The treatment of skin troubles with salves, washes, lotions, etc. is not along the right line. True, such treatment relieves some of the itching and discomfort and aids in keeping the skin clear, but it does not reach the real cause of the trouble, which are humors in the blood, and it can therefore have no real curative effect on these skin affections. S. S. S., a gentle acting and perfect blood purifier, is the best and quickest treatment. It goes down into the blood and removes the humors, fiery acids and poisons from the circulation, cools the overheated blood, and by sending a fresh stream of nourishing blood to the skin permanently cures skin diseases of every character. S. S. S. is made entirely of health producing roots, herbs and barks, and is an absolutely safe remedy for young or old. S. S. S. cures Eczema, Acne, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Psoriasis, and all other disagreeable and unsightly eruptions of the skin.
