Letter To The Editor

Originally written to the editor of the Palo Alto Times (Calif.)

Dear old Mr. World is seriously ill. He has been ailing for a long time. Every known physician has been called and tried. Every possible remedy and treatment has been applied, but with only slight temporary relief.

The real cause of the troubles seems to be hard to find. Though some physicians advertise that they know all about it, the fact remains they have not the needed skill or ability to remove it. The suffering patient has had one relapse after another, and now his case seems hopeless.

Dr. Socialist is still advocating his pet remedy and insists the patient try one more large dose of it. (It's pleasant to take). Other physicians argue that their favored treatment, democracy, be given one more chance. (It's drugless). Still others firmly believe that dictatorship is the sure cure-all. (It's operation).

Dr. Totalitarian also has his pet remedies. Meanwhile the rest of the physicians are anxiously watching the poor patient going through what appears to be the death struggle. You can practically hear the death rattle.

Now why don't they call in a specialist? They know there is a good one--(at least they ought to know), the one who never lost a case entrusted to his care; the one who made the patient in the first place well and strong. But, no they will not call him in, not even for consultation (You see that would be to acknowledge their own failure and that of their remedies). Chances are that he will come without being called; the fact is he plans to come, (though it's not generally known) because he has a great interest in this patient.

The records show that this great specialist of renown, called on the sick fellow once before, without being sent for, and although many question his credentials, they certainly had to admit his ability as a master physician. He diagnosed the case thoroughly, and found his pitiful condition was the effect of a number of causes, (internal mostly) which he classified as: first, Satan, 2nd, sin, etc.

He gave the patient no false hope, but frankly warned him he would wax worse and worse, so long as the first cause remained; even though he might apparently rally at times. Well the patient did not like that a bit, so he got angry and had the doctor cast out and killed. But the great physician proved to be indestructible. He actually reappeared after three days, and his last word to his patient was, he would call again (come again). Then he would remove the first cause (Satan) and thereby all his trouble.

He left behind him a sure and unfailing remedy for the second cause (sin), without charge to the patient but very costly to himself. It is a blood-transfusion, quite simple but effective, and has been and can be proven by any individual member.

But let us take a last look at Mr. World. Oh dear me, his temperature is so high; he is all exhausted and now falling into a coma. Will he ever come out of it? Or is this his last, we wonder. Why did he not remember the Great Master Physician and send for him while he still had his senses? Even though he had offended and insulted and murdered him, he had promised yet to call again and forgive. What a noble friend, and physician in need and deed. He knows the critical condition of the patient, so with all possible speed he comes. With one grand operation the 1st cause of the trouble is removed (into the abyss), the dear old man's health is restored perfectly and he lives happily ever after.

ACCEPTANCE OF 3 CHAIRS ANNOUNCED

BUSHNELL GENERAL HOSPITAL, Brigham City, Utah--A gift of three wheel chairs for use by patients here has been accepted by Col. Robert M. Hardway, commanding officer.

The chairs were presented by the Ladies auxiliary of the Sunset Valley club, a farm-community organization at Nyssa, Oregon.

The club held a dance to raise money to buy the three chairs after Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Black of Nyssa, members of the group, visited Mrs. Black's brother, S|Sgt. Robert H. Dickson, a patient here, and saw the need for more chairs because of the large number of casualties now under care at Bushnell.

S|Sgt. Dickson is receiving specialized treatment for the loss of his right leg below the knee, his third battle-wound, all of which he received during fighting in Europe.

His first combat-injuries, both slight, were caused by mortar fragments during fighting in France. A squad leader with the 4th armored division, he was wounded the final time during an advance in the Saar area November 22, 1944 when a German 20mm anti-aircraft gun fired on his vehicle while it was advancing in a convoy.

A native of Nyssa, Sgt. Dickson was engaged in dairy farming there before he entered the army in March, 1942.

in Boston before going overseas in May, 1943. Major Wilson is in charge of the operational statistics section and maintains all records on operational statistics for the eighth air force.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira R. Ure have received word from their son, Cpl. Ira R. Ure, Jr., somewhere in Germany that he has been transferred from the first army to the ninth army. He informed his parents that he was in the first army through the whole fight. He said that V-E day to him was the ending of "one bad nightmare". The soldiers had no celebrations or bonfires, "just a quiet, peaceful sleep. Now during the daytime they just play baseball, swim or sun bathe."

Lieutenant Loren E. Earnest of Nyssa, Oregon, XXI bomber command B-29 navigator, has been awarded the air medal at a superfortress base on Tinian.

Lieutenant Earnest received the award for his participation in the "precedent shattering" low altitude incendiary missions against the Japanese mainland.

Earnest's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Earnest, live in Nyssa.

A commendation for the work of his anti-aircraft battery, and of his AAA gun battalion were enclosed in a recent letter from Pfc. Chester L. Haney, with the first army in Germany, to his father, H. H. Haney of Nyssa.

Haney is serving with battery C. of the 11th AAA gun battery. The commendation as passed to Haney by his commanding officer reads:

"I take great pleasure in forwarding to you personally the above commendations and remarks of our higher commanders. Your superior performance of duty has resulted in this battery achieving its mission with the greatest success as part of the AA assault team for the invasion of Europe.

"Your performance has surpassed my highest expectations. You have contributed to giving anti-aircraft artillery, one of the youngest of the service, a tradition that will be written in history for our sons and daughters to read."

The commendation, issued June 24, 1944 originating from the commanding general of the Vth corps, referred particularly to the landing on D-day and current operations of furnishing the most effective day and night anti-aircraft protection of the beachhead, and for the magnificent courage and offensive spirit displayed by all ranks.

The unit has been operating in Germany since late in February.
