SAN FRANCISCO, July 10 .- (Special.)—The seals hung it on the Beavers this afternoon with two down and gone in the ninth inning. It was a grand exhibition and as sensationa victory as has ever been won on any eld. Shaughnessy started by landing a Schimpff's error, Mohler beat out bunt and a second later Wheeler a bunt and a second later wheeler lined a torrid one at the little Portland shortstop. He speared the ball off the ground in good shape, but the heave to the first bag was many feet wide. Shaughnessy showed a great burst of speed and managed to reach the plate in time to register the only in of the brilliant struggle. Both Hartman and Quick were there, everything that goes in the pitcher's box. The Portland south-paw's work was much more brilliant than Quick's, but the latter had a

WILL DISCUSS LEAGUE AFFAIRS

Tonight.

The directors of the Tri-City League will meet tonight at the store of the S. H. Brainard Company, 122 Grand avenue, at which several important items of business will come up for a decision. The league is in a flourishing condition and has been able to pay all expenses and has a comfortable surplus on hand. It is rumored that some changes in the management of some of the teams in the league may be made at this meeting. This is probably on account of the threatend retirement of several members whose business interferes with their association with the league.

Some changes in the schedule may also be decided upon as the Portland Pacific.

Among others, 20 delegates from West Virginia will return home by way of Portland on a special car. The first of the returning Christian Endeavorers are compelled to stand. A committee was appointed to take up the matter of fire protection at Lents. It was announced that I. F. Cauffman, owner of the water plant, had offered water free provided the people will supply dire plugs. A subscription will be taken up to get these hydrants. In the community there is a volunteer fire company and some apparatus, including some hose. Contributions should be sent to H. E. Powell, 180 Front street.

Tuesday and the Tri-City League has made no provision for grounds of its own. While McCredie's men are playing at the Vaughn-street grounds, the Tri-City League will play its principal games on the grounds at St. Johns. According to schedule there will be games at the Vaughn-street grounds both Saturday and Sunday, when the Astoria eam is scheduled to appear before the Portland fans, but just which teams will oppose Astoria will not be definitely known until tonight's meeting. There will be a game at St. Johns Sunday.

Tennis Club Tenders Use of Facilities for State Tournament.

Jay S. Hamilton, president of the Irvington Tennis Club, in a letter addressed to George W. McMillan, president of the Multnomah Club tendered to the latter institution the use of the Ir-State Championship Tournament, omah has only two courts, and both are overed with asphalt. Considerable com-laint has been heard among the different players who intend to enter the tour ney, because of the disadvantage they would be forced to play under, if asphalt ourts were used.

Players agree that asphalt courts are best after a player has become used to them, but to one who has always played on clay, they are a great disadvantage. At Irvington there are six courts, and the tournament could be played in shorter time than at Multnomah. Multnomah was awarded the State Championship Tournament by the Na-tional Tennis Association, and the Irvington Club has no complaint to offer. The members feel that Multnomah is entitled to the tourney, but for the good of the

C. SHIPIRO NARROWLY ESCAPES BEING ROASTED.

Fire Department Arrives in Time to Save Him. Owing to the humidity of the atmos phere, C. Shipiro, a second-hand dealer at 372 First street, last night decided to sleep in his store, instead of going to his room upstairs, and as a result came near being burned to death. About 11 o'clock he laid down on a lounge in a small room in the rear of the store, and while smoking a cigar, dropped off to slumber. The lighted Havana communicated fire to the blanket he had thrown over him, and within a few moments the place was filled with smoke. At midnight, Patrolman Charles Porter noticed the smoke and turned in an alarm from

The firemen responded promptly and at first were unable to locate the seat of the blaze. Assistant Chief Mike Laudenklos finally located the fire in the little room, kicked in the door and found Shapiro asleep on his burning couch. Luckily, the fire was still smoldering and had not burst into flames, for had there been a draft, the elegance would probably have perished. sleeper would probably have perished. Overhead is a well-filled rooming house, and a fire there at that hour might have had disastrous results. Shapiro estimates the damage to the couch at $15 and is thankful that is was not more serious.
