County Clerk Specifies 32 Precincts, Polling Places for Malheur Primaries

The following are Malheur county's 32 precincts and the polling place for each of them, as announced by County Clerk Homer Schnell last week. Schnell called attention to the fact that part of the precincts have been changed in part since the last general election in 1956 and that a few voting places are different.

The primary election will be held Friday, May 16, with each of the polls being open continuously from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. A chairman and members have been named for each precinct's election board, as have all clerks. Election schools have been held throughout the county to familiarize those working on the boards with the work and procedure.

and the budget was $17,850,000; in 1948 the population was 1.4 million and the budget was $80 million, while in 1958 the population is 1.7 million and the budget is $277,966,545. All of this is in addition to dedicated funds for commissions, he explained.

The state representative briefly reviewed his support of the meat inspection bill, a bill pertaining to moving wide implements on highways, bridges over the Snake river, two bills relating to rural fire departments, the potato and onion marketing bill, the election reform bill, Bully creek memorial, memorial to repeal 3 percent transportation tax, road district bill to include personal property and the $10 increase for basic school support. He stated that he also opposed the sales tax bill as requested by his constituents.

Parman Robbed; Two Arrested

Oregon state police arrested Daniel C. Pennington and Jerry E. Sterling Monday two miles north of Nyssa after they allegedly robbed a Parma man and tied him up. They were turned over to Idaho authorities in Canyon county where they were arraigned on robbery charges.

Sheriff Dale Haile of Canyon county said that Jewel McCracken of Parma told officers that he was bound and robbed of $70 near a Boise river bridge two miles south of Parma after he had befriended the pair and their families. Wives of the two men and seven children "looked on" while the alleged robbery took place, McCracken told officers. Pennington and Sterling were reported to have recently come here from Missouri seeking work.

Mardi Tobler Hurt In Fall from Horse

Mardi Tobler, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Tobler, was injured Sunday when she fell from a horse she was riding with her sister, Sharon, south of Nyssa.

The horse bolted, throwing the girl to the ground. She sustained extensive bruises and was taken to Malheur Memorial hospital for x-rays and emergency treatment.

Adrian Youths Fire Two Rockets Sunday

club members and a handful of spectators scrambled to safety behind rocks.

After an unexplained "burning out" of some of the fuel in the rocket it took to the air with a loud explosion. But after climbing less than a hundred feet its nose cone, too, failed to withstand the tremendous pressure of the burning fuel.

As the nose cone blew from the rocket, the missile twisted end over end and fell to the ground a few hundred feet from its launching pad — a considerably less spectacular performance than that put on by the youth's first rocket which, alhough only 24 inches long, reached an altitude of 1500 feet traveling at speeds up to 500 miles an hour.

But in the true spirit of modern missile experts the world over, the Adrian youths analyzed the failures of Sunday's rocket, expressed concern over the misfiring and, in the same breath, made plans for their fifth launching attempt within a few weeks.
