WEDNESDAY.... JUNE 19, 1889

The Circus Is Over.

Sells Bros. and Barrett's great consolidation of shows has come and gone. In Salem they met with a generous reception and gave a really meritorious performance. Several of the features were far above any ever presented here by any other circus. The best performance was that on the swinging bar. It was daring beyond description. The JOURNAL had intended to give the circus a real good send-off one—that was deserving—but the concert was such an unmitigated fraud that the notice of the circus is abbreviated. In speaking of concerts, the one following this circus was undoubtedly the biggest fraud and sell-out that the public have ever been asked to patronize.

A Thriving Institution.

There are now 298 convicts in the Oregon state penitentiary. This is the largest number ever before confined there. There were, however, the same number there at one time several years ago. The latest arrival came this morning in the form of John McCormack, sentenced to a one year term from Coos county, for larceny. The roster at this rapidly filling up institution will soon be far in excess of 300, as there are a large number of criminals awaiting trial, over the state. Astoria is almost certain to send fifteen prisoners within a few days. Two were sentenced yesterday from Baker City and the rolls are sure to contain more names soon than at any time previous in the history of the institution.

A Confidence Game.

There was a sneaking fellow at the circus who was one of the greatest swindlers in this country. A green looking Polk county boy purchased two tickets, one for himself and one for lady, and he then entered the canvas and started on through to the circus, when a sharp looking fellow came walking up and demanded one more dollar before he could get through. This the Polk county man paid, while other people could go through after they first purchased their tickets. It is always said that suckers will bite and it looks like it in this section of the country.

A New Land Company.

To-day Salem has a new real estate firm, which will be known as the Salem real estate and land exchange company. The firm consists of Messrs. F. J. Strayer, E. C. Minton and G. W. Meeks. The former is well and favorably known in Salem and Marion county, and the latter have but recently located in Salem, coming highly recommended from their former homes in the eastern states. The business of this company will be that of general real estate, sale and exchange, in both farm and city property. Their office is in the Moores' block, up-stairs.

A Circus Accident.

One of the Japanese contortionists came near having a serious accident after the circus and during the concert performance last night. It was one of the little fellows. He walked to the top of a ladder constructed of sharp edged swords. This he did nicely and upon arriving at the top of the ladder he doubled his body in a knot. As he was untying himself he unbalanced himself and fell to the platform below, alighting on his head. He was badly bruised, and his nose was perhaps broken.

They Talk Railroad.

The projecters of the new town of Syracuse, alias Luckiamute Falls, are in dead earnest when they talk of the proposed narrow guage railroad to Salem. The route is a natural one and a road could be constructed at very light cost. It would indeed be difficult to find a road bed so nearly constructed by nature. The new town will make quite a pleasurable resort and its owners propose giving it the boom.

Notes From Gervais.

The smallpox patients at St. Louis are all doing nicely.—Squire Poujade has been appointed Deputy Assessor by Mr. Blackerby, and will assist him in finishing up his work.—Gervais will not celebrate on the Fourth, but she will have one of the best dances on that evening ever given in the north end of the county.—Hop yards around Gervais look fine.—Gazette.

An Unsuccessful Burglary.

Yesterday morning, while the circus parade was being made, an unsuccessful attempt at robbery by burglary was made at the famous old Mansion house on Liberty street. The would-be robbers effected an entrance, via a window, into the room of Henry Croft, the old man who is present landlord there. Arriving in his room, by means of a hand axe, they broke open his escritoire, in search of money and valuables. They scattered valuable papers over the floor but found nothing they wanted. They chanced to miss a small tin box that contained a good many dollars in money. There is no clue to the perpetrators of this burglary, but it is supposed to have been done by hangers-on of the circus.

What It Demonstrated.

There was a big crowd from the country in Salem and it clearly demonstrated the truth of the oft-repeated expression that the country in the vicinity of Salem is rapidly being peopled by new-comers. Formerly on festal days the old settlers knew every face their eyes met, but yesterday the pioneers were surprised at the large number of strangers in the city. This is proof positive that the country is filling up. The old settler tries to keep abreast of the times but the march of progress is at a double-quick and he is left behind and lost among the strange faces.

Real Estate Transactions.

Daily transfers furnished the CAPITAL JOURNAL by the Union title abstract company:

W. A. Thomas to Jennie Jones, lots 1 and 2 in block 40, North Salem.	$600 00
L. Whealdon to Lewis Savage, 32 acres near Salem.	650 00
Oregon land Co., to Mrs. Emma Byars, part of block 27, Salem.	200 00
Th s. Townsend to W. H. Holmes, 349 acres in t 7 s r 3 w.	13989 61
Luke A. Port to the state of Oregon, lots 1 2 and part of 3 block 1, Waldo's Add.	2500 00

A Ferry at Independence.

A force of thirty men are at work at Independence on both sides of the river making grades for the road leading to the ferry, soon to be established across the river at that point. A new 1250 feet steel cable has been purchased and will span the river 100 feet above the water. A ferry there will be a great convenience.

Some More Excursionists.

There arrived by F. J. Strayer's excursion June 6th several persons who are now located in Salem. Two are the wife and daughter of F. A. Smith, recently from Pennsylvania. Several others joined the party from Ohio. These stopped off in Portland, and quite likely will soon find their way to our beautiful capital.

Has Decided to Build.

Dr. H. J. Minthorn of the Oregon land company has decided to build for himself a fine residence in Highland park. Lumber is already on the ground for the barn, which will be completed before work is commenced on the house. B. S. Cook also contemplates building a nice residence in this favorite park.

Hart! Hart!! Hart!!!

Prof Harry Lorraine, or better known as Prof. Harry Hart, the prince of magic and music, will appear at the opera house Thursday evening, June 20. The press everywhere in the United States endorses him. Give the old soldier a good house.

Look to the Health.

There are a great many dirty alleys in this city that need cleaning. Some of them are in the business part of the city. The people living up stairs throw their dishwater into them and the health officers should look into the matter and see that the nuisance is abated.

News of the River.

Above Salem the river is so low that already the Hoag has been compelled to go off the route. On her last trip up she found but one foot of water over the bars and she had hard work pulling herself over them. Last year she ran until late in July.

Work on the O. P.

The expert engineers sent out by the company to measure the uncompleted contract work, have finished their work as far as Britonbrush. A force of Chinamen has been sent to the front, says the Leader, to level up the track, preparatory to resuming work.

Poor Old Silverton.

Out at Silverton, where there is no saloon, the city authorities a day or so ago were called upon to perform the sad duty of sentencing to the city jail a prisoner who had been arrested for drunkenness.

Died of Heart Disease.

H. C. Dale, who resides on Judge Boise's farm, three miles west of Dallas, died suddenly last evening, at his home, of heart disease.

Articles of Incorporation.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state today as follows:

Portland mercantile agency. Their business is to purchase and sell real estate and personal property. The principal place of business is in Portland. The capital stock is $10,000 divided into 400 shares of twenty-five dollars each.

Bank of Ashland. At the meeting of the stock holders it was voted that the capital stock be increased from the sum of $50,000 to the sum of $100,000, representing 1,000 shares of the value of $100 each.

Theatre All Next Week.

The Georgie Woodthorpe dramatic company will be in Salem at the opera house all next week, opening on Monday night with the "Golden Giant." This company are at Albany this week, and are highly spoken of by the press of that city. They have a repertoire of standard plays and give the best of satisfaction wherever known. They play at popular prices—10, 20 and 30 cents and—Salem will no doubt give this celebrated company a generous welcome.

The Contract Let.

The contract for wood for use at the state house was let to-day to Jno. Savage, thirty cords of large fir and thirty cords of small fir at $3.00 per cord, and G. E. Allen sixty cords fir wood $2.64. The contract was let to Alderson Bros., for sawing and storing away for 74½ cents per cord.

An Opinion From Polk.

It was said "the old girl on the court house would give Polk county people a pointer as to how to deal out justice" and the Dallas Observer agrees that she is having splendid opportunity, but "fears she has let her golden chance pass."

Another Consolidation.

Harry Keller sold his mechanical circus and ingenious wonder to the Sells circus for fifty dollars, and they took it from here with them last night. Cheap.

LOST.—"I don't know where, I can't tell when, I don't see how—something of great value to me, and for the return of which I shall be truly thankful, viz.: a good appetite."

FOUND.—"Health and strength, pure blood, an appetite like that of a wolf, regular digestion, all by taking that popular and peculiar medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla. I want everybody to try it this season." It is sold by all druggists. One hundred doses one dollar.

An Optical Delusion.

Young Badger, from New York, on the first morning of his visit to his Uncle Abner's farm, appears bright and early in a pair of white flannel trousers.

Uncle Abner (taking him aside)—Gee Whitaker! nephew, why in blazes didn't you tell me you was so poor? Here, boy, take this $3 and run down street to the store and buy you a pair of pants before the women folks get up.

Providing common food is a matter that troubles but few persons. A half-grown boy can earn a barrel of flour in a week, and this will keep him in bread for a year. These things go to show that there is no danger of starvation, hunger or even want. All theories to the contrary, food appears to increase much faster than human beings do. At present all farmers, fruit-growers and stock-raisers wish there were more mouths to fill.

A GOOD CUP OF COFFEE.

Is a great attraction for a restaurant. The coffee drawn from Hellenbrand's Patent Coffee receptacle is one of the many Great Attractions of his eating parlors. Thousands of cups of his excellent coffee are sold every week. And as for oysters and meals he cannot be equaled in the state. tf.
