IF A BODY MEET A BODY

the result is a collision, whether "coming thro' the rye," or not. Life is full of collisions. We are constantly colliding with somebody or something. If it isn't with our neighbors it is with some dread disease that "knocks us off the track" and perhaps disables us for life. Women especially it seems, have to bear the brunt of more collisions and afflictions than mankind. In all cases of nervousness, bearing down sensations, tenderness, periodical pains, sick headache, congestion, inflammation, or ulceration and all "female weaknesses," Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes to the rescue of women as no other medicine does. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it will be refunded. See guarantee on bottle-wrapper.

PROTECT THE CITY INTERESTS.

As nearly as the JOURNAL can ascertain, the franchise under which the present telephone system is being constructed in Salem is the old Western Union Telegraph Co. This does not forbid the city drawing up a properly guarded charter for the telephone system now being established. The necessity for this exists in the very nature of the business proposed to be transacted—a public business. The city has rights and interests that cannot be laid aside without establishing precedents likely to prove dangerous in future. The proposition of the telephone company is to tax the commercial necessities of the community annually at its own terms for each instrument used. In securing the right to thus tax every one using a telephone it secures the further right to a franchise upon the streets and alleys of our city that becomes at once a vested right and as the city grows becomes very valuable. The city will next be called upon to maintain an electric fire alarm system in connection with this telephone corporation, at an expense of from $500 to $1000 a year accordingly as the city grows.

The JOURNAL takes the liberty to suggest that such a corporation shall be asked to give our city the same advantages that are given other cities, and further that our city take the same precautions to not relinquish control of one of its subjects. In nearly every city the telephone companies give the city a return for the franchise, a free fire alarm system and free telephones in city offices. In no city can the authorities allow such a corporation to become established without reserving the right to control its charges for services. It is not a question of ill-will toward the Western Union or toward this telephone company that is involved. The JOURNAL asks that the city protect itself. A public newspaper that is not interested in any side issues cannot afford to do less than assert the public rights. The only way for this telephone system to be successfully established in Salem is upon the fair basis of a proper recognition of the city's rights. No one can blame the company for getting established without the city's asserting its rights. At the same time no fair-minded citizen can assail the policy of a newspaper in asserting and defending what it believes to be the public interest. It is the duty of a city government to take proper care of the public interests in granting privileges to public corporations.

PLEASANT POINT SCREENINGS.

Our school is ably presided over by Miss Ida Woodcock, of Eugene.

J. W. Silsbee has been hauling cord wood to Salem the past week.

Levi Herren has been on the sick list for a day or two. Also C. F. Hall.

F. C. Talcott will have several hundred cords of wood cut this winter.

P. M. Hanshaw and H. Pioch will have several hundred rails split for fencing.

The Mongolian rooster continues to sound his clarion among the hills and hollows of our classic regions.

Mr. Herren, as road supervisor, has had the section of roadside just north of the old West place cleared of brush and briars. A good idea.

D. D. Dayton has traded his place to Mr. Underwood, who lives just south of Salem. Possession is being given now. Mr. D. is moving to Scio where he is engaged in the manufacture of mineral paint.

John L. Girardin and H. Pioch have been working on the Reform School building for the last three weeks. The edifice is fast nearing completion, and crowns the hill as conspicuously as a castle of the Feudal age.

The "Pleasant Point literary society" has materialized, holding its meetings every Thursday evening. At the last meeting the question, "Resolved, That foreign immigration should be stopped," was discussed. A. D. Dayton and J. W. Silsbee represented the affirmative, N. J. Bowers and T. E. Herren the negative. Dayton and Silsbee played foot-ball with the Chinese and other unsavory foreign classes till their toes got sore. Bowers and Herren defended their much abused foreign brethren with such sympathetic vigor as would draw tears from a grindstone. The judges decided that the Dutch and Irish have the same right to come to our shores and to divide the spoils of office among themselves as the patriotic home born citizens. Question for next time, "Resolved, That education is more important than gold."

Poultry Hints.

[By J. M. Garrison, breeder, Forest Grove, Oregon.]

Guard against both the cat and the rat by having bottoms to the coops and wire screens for the openings, and by using the screens at night and every night.

When the sun is up, and men with it, when the business of the day really gets started, the prowling cat seeks cover, but in the gray hours of the morning she seeks chickens. If the chickens are carefully shut up at night and not let out until the work of the day is fairly begun, the losses from cats will be greatly diminished, if not altogether stopped.

It is well to put a period to the incursions of cats, that is, a full stop to their havoc. About as useful an instrument for such a purpose is a good trusty gun loaded with buckshot, in the hands of a man with steady nerves and sure aim. It is unnecessary to tell the neighbors what you have done. A private burial at the root of a fruit tree is "the proper racket." Dead cats, like dead Indians, are good ones, and as fertilizers are not to be despised.

Rats may be shot, trapped, and poisoned. If poison is used, place it where the fowls cannot get at it. A few may be taken in steel traps. A properly trained cat—not one of the hungry, prowling kind—is a useful adjunct to the poultry-yard and will destroy some of the rats. Get rid of them in some way, and any way that is safe is legitimate. "All is fair in love and war," and the motto holds good for those who love chickens and war against rats.

The Longevity of Trees.

It is generally admitted that European trees have rarely exceeded the very respectable age of 800 years. Thus, recent information gathered by the German forestry commission assigns to the pine 500 and 700 years as a maximum, 425 years to the silver fir, 275 years to the larch, 245 years to the red beech, 210 years to the aspen, 200 years to the birch, 170 to the ash, 145 to the alder, and 130 years to the elm. The heart of the oak begins to rot at about the age of 300 years. The holly oak alone escapes this law, and there is a specimen of this, aged 410 years in existence near Aschafenburg in Germany.

At the Edinburgh forestry exhibition, four years ago there were on exhibition two transverse sections of two Scotch firs. One of these, which was seven and a quarter feet in diameter, was 217 years of age; the other, which was but five and three quarter feet in diameter, was older, and exhibited 270 annual rings. A Sequoia gigantea felled in Calaveras county, California, measured 387 feet in height, 32.5 feet at 125 feet above the earth, and had attained the age of 2000 years. At Caphyœ (Arcadia) may be seen a plane tree which for a long time was regarded as the one the historian Pausanias spoke of in the second century.

There is a cypress in the vicinity of Padua which is regarded as having been a contemporary of Julius Cæsar, and according to another and more plausible legend, it was against the trunk of this tree that Francis I, seeing "all lost save honor," endeavored to break his sword. The oak of Swilcar lawn in the forest of Needwood was still robust in 1822, at the age of 600 years, and, at the same epoch, there might have been seen at Chupstead Place, county of Kent, a large elm, around which a fair was annually held during the reign of Henry V, in the fifteenth century.

Vitriol Your Seed Wheat.

It has been almost the universal custom of Oregon farmers with whom we have been acquainted to thoroughly dampen seed grain before planting with a strong solution of sulphate of copper, or blue vitriol, as a preventive of smut. There are a few farmers who think this extra trouble and expense wholly unnecessary and useless. We have always used vitriol, in quantity of about one pound, dissolved in three or four gallons of hot water, to ten bushels of wheat or oats, and have never been troubled with smut. We know of one farmer in Albany prairie who did not think it necessary to do so, and his grain was so badly affected with smut this year that it was unmarketable. The same is true as to several fields of oats that we know of. Whether the use of vitriol does prevent smut or not, we will not say, yet we feel so sure of it that if a disbeliever in the efficacy of vitriol, so used, will follow our direction, we would feel safe in insuring his crop against smut. We speak of this fact hoping that it may catch the eye of some of our farmers who have been troubled by having smutty grain, and cause them to make the experiment. A quantity less than that specified would probably not be a thorough preventative. We should be glad to publish a communication from any of our farmer readers upon this or any other practical farm topic. If you are experimenting in any way and have been successful, do not be selfish, but let your neighbors know of it through the columns of the Press. The day has come in Oregon when a better system of farm work and farm management is positively necessary, and when the large half-tilled farms will be divided into smaller and more thoroughly cultivated ones.—Scio Press.

The Problem Solved—An Unrivaled Blood Purifier.

Found at last in Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup.—A remedy which expels all poisonous matter from the blood. A well known citizen of West Lebanon, Ind., testifies to its value:

Gentlemen: It affords me pleasure to state that my wife has received greater benefit from Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup than from any medicine she has ever taken. We have used six bottles, and find it to be the best family remedy we have ever used. It is truly all it is claimed to be by its founder. Yours truly,

TOO NEAR RIGHT.—The following from the Sheridan Courier shows that the truth can be discerned from a long distance: "The Salem steel bridge is about to prove a failure. The piers are said to be settling, caused by driving piles and breaking the cement gravel and loosening it for several feet around, which in course of time will wash out and undermine the pier. This will cost the two counties an additional expense and delay the completion of the bridge."

Hibbard's Rheumatic and Liver Pills.

These pills are scientifically compounded and uniform in action. No griping pain so commonly following the use of pills. They are adapted to both adults and children with perfect safety. We guarantee they have no equal in the cure of sick headache, constipation, dyspepsia and biliousness, and, as an appetizer, they excell any other preparation. 177 1y

THE WEEKLY CAPITAL JOURNAL

$1.00 Per Year

IS THE

LARGEST, CHEAPEST

And Best

For the Money on the Pacific Coast

It has a large circulation in the towns and among the best farmers of Marion, Polk and Yamhill counties. Aside from this it also has a wide circulation throughout the Eastern states among people who are studying Oregon with a view to coming West. THE JOURNAL makes a specialty of giving accurate information concerning fruit growing and farming products, also the market reports. It is an unexcelled advertising medium for the local trade and real estate interests.
