TROUBLE IN THE SOUTH SCHOOL.—This morning about 11 o'clock Prof. Matthews, the principal of the South school, in reprimanding one of his scholars asked him to give up what ever he was playing with or put it in his pocket. The boy at first did so, but as soon as the Professor's back was turned, began playing with it again. The teacher then demanded it, when the boy, whose name is Dick Osborne, refused, remarking at the same time, "that if he (the teacher) attempted to whip him he would knock him down." The boy then commenced throwing ink bottles and erasers, one of which missed the teacher and struck Ross Fishburne, cutting a gash in his head. In trying to catch the boy the teacher had his hand cut by a window. The cut is not serious, but will prove painful for some days, however. The Professor immediately dismissed school, and the boy and himself came to town to have their injuries attended to. At last accounts he was teaching this afternoon the same as if nothing had happened, and still boss.

MISS VERONA JARBEAU.—A pretty favorite of the opera comique school, will bring her own company to the Opera House, Tuesday Night. The musical comedy, "Starlight," described on the playbills very aptly as a dramatic piece of bric-a brac, was expressly written for Miss Jarbeau's debut as a star. The plot describes the search for a prima donna made by a musical "crank" anxious to become an operatic manager. He discovers a shepherdess with a voice, brings the rustic singer to America, and she makes her appearance at a fashionable reception, where the various guests assist her at a rehearsal. The result is of course a medley entertainment, song succeeding ballad, and ballad following song, each character making at least four changes of costume in one act.

THE FINEST.—Matteson & Matteson send us a sample of the "Matteson" berry. As was the case last year, the "Matteson" are the first "dead ripe" berries to reach us. Samples were shown several Salem gentlemen who all pronounced them the finest fruit of the season, and that is a good deal to say in a strawberry region where they grow as big and plenty as potatoes.

THE HANDSOMEST THING.—The electric railway company did the handsome last night by holding the last car over an hour to accommodate the opera goers. They took home a good load, and pleased many of their passengers more than the opera did. The employes on the electric line are a courteous and popular set of young men.

MT. HOOD RAILWAY.—New corporations are forming slowly. There has been one paper railroad placed on record at the state department today—the Mt. Hood Railway, by Geo. W. Brown, E. L. Long and A. W. Powers, of East Portland.

NEWSTORE.—The new store building 22 x 40 in size, in University addition will be ready in about 10 days, Campbell & Hewitt are the contractors. Mr. Radenaugh will occupy it with a new grocery store.

COUNTY COURT.—A jury trial is on hand today. The case is set for hearing gefore Judge Waldo at 4 p. m. Morris H. Geschke vs Geo. W. Anderson, balance due on wages of one year's labor.

ONLY.—Only the choicest fresh vegetables received daily at Farrar & Co.'s grocery store.

IT'S H'ENGLISH, YOU KNOW.

The Skies Would Have Wept at Any Other Time Over Such Opera.

If ever a respectable audience was gulled it was at Reed's opera house Monday night. Hereafter home entainments will be welcome and peripatetic barnstormers will be appreciated as never before. We have had the Carrington English opera, in "The Rose of Castile," Monday night. The hard seats grew harder all through the performance.

A word with the prima donna: A woman of forty or fifty trying to look love sick and rolling her eyes in fruitless passion is never an interesting sight. Her love making was as enticing as would be the mellifluous advances of a fat landlady at a cheap hashhouse. Carrington leaves no impression but of a sweet voice, and that is entirely artificial, devoid of passion or depth of feeling. Arrayed in a mine of diamonds, has not a disagreeable appearauce, tho' the "beefy" impression is never obliterated.

A part more ill-suited to Madam Carrington could not be well selected than the delicate "Rose of Castile." Both nature and time have conspired to raise insuperable barriers to her success in this role, and her mehanical voice, costumes and diamonds alone relieved the play from the ridiculous.

It is very delightful to hear a Mecklenburger singSpanish opera in broken English. The rich German accent of the villain clogged the playful gambols of his dying-calf-like tones, and when the encore died away he came forward and again took the audience into his confidence with his bovine bellowing. To behold the villain work himself into a towering barroom rage expressed in broken English and bad singing, was a sight to make the lamp posts weep for several blocks. The chairs grew very hard to sit upon whenever this stag-eyed villain appeared.

Of Miss Babcock's singing it may not be high musical art to remark it, but teeth are indispensible to success in English opera. The lady should have left the stage when she lost the indispensibles. No danger to public morals will ever come from exposures of her neck and limbs, and her make-up throws undertakers into jealous frenzy.

The score is devoid of pretty airs, as the plot is of pleasing situations, and there was not a fitting or agreeable character in it. The caste was admirably suited to the music and piece.

M'DME. JARBEAU.

Interview With a Charming Actress—No Stale Opera Tonight.

Madame Jarbeau was no sooner comfortably settled in room 19 at the Willamette than a JOURNAL reporter presented his compliments:

"We are going from here to Astoria, then to the Sound cities, and back to Portland. I am delighted with your climate. You have all the fruit and flowers of California and such a lovely soft, cool climate."

THE ACTRESS

is a very pretty dark-eyed brunette of charming womanly manners. This is her second visit to Oregon, her week at Portland last year being a great hit.

"You will not give us English opera?"

"No! we go in mostly to make fun for the people. We had a delightfully sympathetic audience at Albany. I trust Salem people are not too cold. I shall do my best to give them an enjoyable entertainment.'

The reporter bowed himself out. Jarbeau nearly paralyzed the pencil pusher with a soft "come and see me after the play."

"But I am a married."

"So am I" and Jarbeau pointed at a heavy set dark-moustached gentleman in the corner.

UNITARIAN CHURCH.—Bids for the construction of an edifice for the Unitarian society are being opened as we go to press, and the contract will probably be awarded. The work cannot go on, however, until the society hears from the parent organization in the East, whence it is hoped to secure some financial aid.

Hearing of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, I grasped it as a last resort, and after using six bottles found almost entire relief. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

The success of the Australian system has given an impulse to the demand for the election of United States senators by the people directly instead of the legislature. This movement seems to have originated not in the conviction that a legislature is not likely to elect the best man, but that elections in the legislature are more easily bought. In other words, it is proposed as a barrier against political corruption. In that sense the proposition becomes a startling proof of the popular belief that the government is largely undermined by corruption. The senate has been often called a million-aire's club, and in that view the suggestion of election by the people is very significant.—Harper's Weekly.

is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings on the glands of the neck; causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" and fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption, and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula or impure blood, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, sores breaking out on them in various places. My little boy, three years old, has been a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to feet. I was advised to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and we have all taken it. The result is that all have been cured of the scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

DON'T Buy a lot in
YEW PARK
Unless you want to build on it.
YEW PARK IS IN THE CITY.

The city water mains are laid through it. It is so near the Depot, University, Postoffice and business portion of the city that it is not necessary to ride, although the street cars run through it and leave every twenty minutes for Commercial street, North and East Salem. YOU CAN'T SPECULATE IN YEW PARK PROPERTY—the proprietors will attend to that; but you can buy a better home site there than in any other portion of the city for the same money. You will have no dust in Summer and no mud in winter. Its perfect drainage insures its healthfulness. The lots are large and many of them beautifully shaded with yew, fir, ash and oak. If you want to buy blocks of lots on speculation, and let them lie unimproved and let adjoining property make them valuable, don't patronize Yew Park.

It Isnot Built That Way

If you want to speculate on options or blocks of eight or ten lots, go out in the country, NORTH, SOUTH, EAST or WEST, or to the suburbs of Portland, Astoria or on the Sound, and invest in a paper town, or, what is better, buy a ticket in the Louisiana lottery, but keep away from Yew Park.

Lots sold at low prices on long time and easy terms to home seekers. 4-14
