Hon. Thos. H. Tongue came up from Portland on the morning local.

O. G. Osburn returned from a business trip to Portland this morning.

Deputy Sheriff A. T. Wale, went down to Aurora this afternoon on business.

W. E. Coman, traveling freight agent for the O. R. & N. Co., was a passenger for Albany on the morning local.

Rev. John Heinrick, who has been visiting Father White for the past few days, returned to his home in East Portland on the afternoon local.

Why does the new President of France resemble Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder? Because he is noted for his strength.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Saubert, left this afternoon for Spokane, Wash., their future home. Mr. Saubert was for years business manager of the Statesman.

Sure signs of success in cookery are seen wherever Dr. Price's Baking Powder is used.

A POPULAR LECTURE—Will be given this evening by Rev. I. D. Driver at the First M. E. church, subject, "Miracles, Their Relation to Nature and Science." This is one of Dr. Driver's most popular lectures, and it is hoped that he will have large audience. This is to be the first of a series of lectures to be given under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. and Epworth League of this city. An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged to defray expenses. All are invited.

HORSES IN DEMAND.—O. H. Holcomb, of Seattle, shipped a car load of draft horses from Salem and also a car load from Albany on Sunday last. R. H. Westacott is instrumental in bringing this business to Salem and is creating quite a market for good horses. Persons having horses of 1000 pounds or over will do well to see him. This first car brought an average of $135 per head.

POLICE COURT.—Yesterday, at noon, B. W. St. Clair was released from the penitentiary, and started immediately for the city and was soon landed in the police court. This morning the man was not sober enough to appear in court consequently was not taken before Judge Eakin until 5 p. m. He was sentenced to five days in the city bastile.

Many Salem people will remember Dr. W. G. Hammitt, who with his wife was in the Lebanon wreck, and received big damages from the Southern Pacific. He has lived in Southern California the past few years, and last week was unconscious suicide by an overdose of morphine.

Salem was visited today by G. G. Gibson, general agent, and Mons Priem, advertising agent of the Great Northern railway. They have placed the agency of their company with R. L. Mitchell in this city, who will hereafter push the business.

WINTER—Has come and you will want an overcoat or an ulster. Call and see O. W. Johnson & Son's stock before buying elsewhere. Best goods at lowest prices.

FOR THIS BRIGHT.—"A word to the wise is sufficient," and probably he said to everyday life. Tis La Tosca is the best 10 cent cigar in the market and is just as imported cigar.

TAN HAIR—Makes the way dangerous and you do not care to go home for your dinner. Just step into Hayworth & Hornsby's and see what a good meal they serve.

Bright and Catchy Airs.

Day after tomorrow, Thursday 14th, at the opera house, the Calhoun Opera company will present, for the first time here, the charming opera, "The Black Hussar." This opera, full of bright and catchy airs, was made popular a few years ago at the New York Casino, and it is safe to say that it will lose none of its snap and go, in the hands of Miss Alice Beauvet, Miss Adele Farrington and Messrs. Geo. Lyding, Frederick Huntley, Douglas Flint and Edwin Webb. They will be supported by as handsome a company of young and blooming girls as can be found upon the operatic stage. For leading people, none but prominent and popular artists are in the company. The Calhoun company is one of the most popular organizations in the country, and has probably had more money invested in its scenery and costumes than any other. During the past summer, over $7,000 has been expended upon new costumes. This is exclusive of all other properties.

Gov. McKinley has strong expectations of "rising." There is never a doubt of "rising" results where Dr Price's Baking Powder is tried.

In Memory of Mrs Johnson.

Mrs. Florence Holmes Johnson, who died at Salem, Saturday, Feb. 10th., was a native of Lenora, Minn., born May 24th, 1869. Her kindly, loving and sympathetic nature, endeared her to all whose good fortune it was to know her well. She was a woman whose hands were always doing kind deeds, suggested by a kind heart.

Strong, tender hands, food hands!
Such willing hands they never rest;
So patient, ever on the quest
For loving service. Hands that know
Soft ways of soothing pain and woe,
True, loving, faithful hands!

Many will recall her errands of mercy to the sick, whom she knew so well how to soothe and relieve. Mrs. Johnson was a woman of more than average talent. She possessed business abilities of a high order, was a bright conversationalist, was well read, and possessed the faculty of attaching to herself those younger than herself, because she retained the sprightliness of youth to a remarkable degree. Mrs. Johnson made few religious professions, but loved her family, her friends and her home. Her life in the next world will be a pleasant one, because she was faithful to herself in the highest and best sense that was given her.

Is Senator Dawson a Liar?

WATERLOO, Feb. 10, 1895.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—The Republicans of this vicinity are for free coinage of silver almost to a man and do not favor the election of Dolph. We are watching the men we elected to represent us last June and propose to hold them to a strict accountability for their acts. At the time the candidates were canvassing this county I interviewed Senator Dawson and asked him if he proposed to vote for Dolph for U. S. senator if we elected him to the legislature. He said Dolph was not in it and that he would not support him for anything. Now I am a Republican and fought through the war for Republican principles and you can imagine my feelings as I see Dawson's vote registered for Dolph from day to day. There were several present when Mr. Dawson made the above statement and you will do me a favor by printing this over my own name. JNO. HUDDLESON.

The Silverton Mill.

The Silverton warehouse and mill case has been brought into court by the filing, yesterday, of papers in an equity suit for partition of the wheat remaining in stock, and the appointment of a receiver. The claim of wrongful conversion of about 17,000 bushels by J. S. and J. W. Cochran, and their refusal to allow the plaintiffs access to the books of the concern constitute the basis of a demand for an injunction which was issued to restrain the defendants from selling or otherwise disposing of the wheat remaining in the warehouse. L. J. Adams was appointed receiver pending further action.

To bridge the Atlantic? As well might try it as to equal the merits of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

Died.

BROWN.—At Beaverton, Washington county, at 7:17 p. m., Monday, Feb. 11th, 1895, Minnie, wife of Rev F. J. Brown and daughter of Mrs. Wm. Cunningham of Salem.

The deceased had been sick for about three weeks with typhoid fever, but was somewhat better Monday afternoon. An attack of heart disease however caused her death.

The remains will be brought to Salem on tonight's overland for burial. Funeral services will be held in the first M. E. church, tomorrow at 2 p. m., conducted by Rev. J. N. Dennison. Burial in Rural cemetery. Friends wishing to see deceased should call at the residence of Mrs. Cunningham.

THE SNAKE [illegible]

And the Red Nosed Man Went on to Tell How the Venom Got to Its Work.

"It's all humbug, this talk about rattlesnakes being so deadly poison," said a red faced man in the smoking car. "I've lived among 'em. They used to be so thick out where I live that you had to be mighty careful where you put your feet down if you didn't want to hurt a rattler or two every time you stepped.

"My bed was never any more than big enough for me and the easy conscience I always slept with. But I've woke up more times than I've got fingers and toes and found that two or three rattlesnakes had managed to find room with us. They were plenty, I tell you, out where I live. But deadly? Pooh! Why, I've known scores and scores of people to be socked, and socked deep, by rattlers, and I never knew of but one instance where a rattler's bite was fatal; never but once out of more cases than there's pimples on a goose.

"Bill Bulger was the man that was bit that time—a great, big, rough scuff of a log chopper that didn't look as if a whole den of rattlers could raise as much as a fleabite on him. But he went to teasing a big buck rattlesnake that had come down to camp to look around one day, and the snake just threw his upper teeth against Bill a couple of times, and every drop of poison he had he emptied into Bill's wrist. Holler? Great jeewax, how Bill did holler! We grabbed him and hustled him over to the Pig's Ear shebang on t'other side of the camp and began to decant rum into him, and it wasn't long before Bill looked as if he was glad he was bit.

"Everybody said he'd die, though, sure pop, because that buck rattler must have unloaded into Jim close on to three fingers of the best poison he had. Consequently folks were surprised more than you can think when they got around next morning and found Bill on deck as chipper as a red squirrel and sound as a white oak knot."

"What!" exclaimed the man in the next seat. "I thought you said that bite was fatal!"

"It was, sir," replied the red faced man. "Bill got blind, crazy drunk on the strength of that snake bite and killed the bartender!"—New York Sun.

Bound to Be Ladylike.

Ethel—What did you do when Gus proposed to you?

Mabel—I was so surprised I puckered up my mouth to whistle, but then I remembered that would be unladylike, so I hurried and pressed my lips against his to keep myself from whisting.—Good News.

Which is the better, something or nothing? This depends. When it stimulates, it is of use; when it enervates, it is mischievous. The young man who prefers idleness above an unpleasant job, seeing that he has a dollar or two in his pocket, is in danger.

Fluted cut Vinegar Tasters, and Individual Salt and Pepper so no one need use one of which is all the Pepper will be wanted for a time. This is going to make for them goods. All are perfect, larger than remarkable goods.

THE U. S. Government officially reports ROYAL Baking Powder superior to all others in leavening strength. (Bulletin 13, Ag'l Dep't, p. 399.)

A Common Sense Housekeeper.

No one is better qualified to speak in regard to what is useful in family life than Marion Harland. In her popular and valuable book, "Eve's Daughters or Common Sense for Maid, Wife and Mother," on pages 100 and 101, she says:

"For sifting flour—should it be alone in increasing the normal strength—no Baking Powder flavored as an ingredient, combining the maximum of the contained strength of a strong warm hand with certain basic qualities developed in the working. It should be kept over the seat of consciousness for several days in shallowed cups, in perfect darkness."

For pots in the back part of the Arcade Pioneer Flavoring immediately receive a call when I'm in. This is an invaluable compound from the delight of the epicure of the back, because nourishment.

The pardon was granted by the governor on the grounds of a petition by the neighbors to that vicinity, asking for his release, as his family was in need of his assistance.

Common Sense

Should be used in attempting to cure that very disagreeable disease, catarrh, because it is the opinion of thousands in the land that catarrh can be cured by local applications and do not permanently cure. The common sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills cure constipation by restoring peristaltic action to the alimentary canal.
