Prof. Charles Zueblin Lectures to His Students.

HITS BLOW AT ORTHODOXY

says It Hinders Right Thought in Religion, Politics and Social Life—Declares Nation Toys
With Real Liberty.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—John D. Rockefeller, J. P. Morgan and E. H. Harriman are the greatest friends of Socialism in America, according to Professor Charles Zueblin, the University of Chicago sociologist, says the Record-Herald. That the industries built up by these men will result in the reign of Socialism in this country was the professor's prediction in a lecture on "The Constraint of Orthodoxy" yesterday at the university.

Professor Zueblin declared that the great capitalists are furthering a Socialistic era to a far greater extent than the confessed Socialists, who harm their cause by constant agitation. The government eventually will find it easy to take over the industries of such men as Rockefeller, Morgan and Harriman, he told the students.

Orthodoxy in religion, economics, politics and society was scored by the professor as "cowardice." He flayed popular standards in religion, the "sacredness" of the American Constitution and adherence to social conventions, declaring that shirt sleeves should be as proper at dinners as the "claw-hammer."

Real Friends of Socialism.

"The real friends of Socialism today are Rockefeller, Morgan and Harriman, men who are organizing great international industries," said the professor. "Eventually, it will be a comparatively easy matter for the Government to take these industries over."

"The Socialistic zealots are enemies to their creed, as compared with these men. The man who conceives his mission to be to get up whenever opportunity offers and say that Socialism is the only thing that will save society is retarding evolutionary Socialism. The people who are trying to be altruistic, trying to keep their minds open and ready to accept a modified new society, are the ones who are forcing us into new lines of thought, and not the people who get up with their stilted and hope by saying a few mystic words to steer the masses who have not thought the thing out."

"When the Standard Oil Company had imposed on it a great fine the other day it was following popular drift when its defense was that 'everybody does it.' This is the defense for all kinds of business chicanery. Many business men have made the same defense for Banker Walsh, who happened to be caught, although it was maintained that 'all the other bankers were doing the same thing.' This defense is one of the results of economic orthodoxy."

Talks About Politics.

In discussing "political fallacies," Professor Zueblin said: "The United States Constitution is to many of us as sacred as the Nicene or the Apostles' creed. The framers of the Constitution did not believe the American people could govern themselves. So they evolved a system of checks, and since that time the people have not governed themselves. The worst fault of the Constitution is that it interferes with spontaneity."

"It is a misfortune to be ruled by an autocrat, a benevolent despot. It is very much better to have a petty ward politician in the Mayor's chair, as we have, than to be governed by a one-man power."

"Class consciousness is the most conspicuous article of faith of the economic orthodox, not of the great unwashed, but of leading people. The conception of liberty in this country is one of our great and precious heritages, but we play with it a great deal. We are considerably muddled to know just how much the law ought to interfere."

"Many people would rather abandon their religious faith than admit any of the social amenities. Why should not a man go to dinner in his shirt sleeves instead of claw-hammer if he is more comfortable that way? It's the orthodoxy of conventionality that we all subscribe to. It seems strange that in a country like America there should not be more of fatherhood and motherhood in the home instead of manservant and mistressship. Our social position must be shaky, to say the least, when we are so reluctant to let our daughters learn to sew and cook."

Orthodoxy of Fashion.

"In social life the orthodoxy of fashion prevails. Shop girls dress as the leisure class dictates regardless of the convenience and comforts of their work and station. The leisure class is just as influential in this country as it is in England, if not so well defined. But the one in England will do just as well, because it sets our standards of dress and we bow down before it. The artificial standard that it sets up we try to imitate, even in the clothes that we wear."

"We have a class which has nothing to do but think about where it shall live and how it shall spend its leisure. Yet if we have no right to demand that a man stand on his own feet and prove his own worth in the world, irrespective of race or with whom he lives, can we expect independence of religious thought? Take the orthodoxy a bit the race question. Whites cannot concede that any belief more liberal than theirs is correct. Our orthodoxy won't swallow the idea that the negro is a man. I see little hope of the solution of the race problem because of this intense race orthodoxy. Nobody has a right to assume to despise the Chinese. One must be humbled in the presence of such a race. Some will say that they like "the Japanese better because they happen to know a few Japanese university students. A few Chinese landowners. It is better to belong to a yellow race than to degenerate one, and we have degenerate representatives in the white race."

Good in Two Parties.
"There is a political orthodoxy, and we call that loyalty. Loyalty to some petty political party, of which he knows no more than that his father belonged to it, is the test of some men's conception of political science and the art of self-government. The existence of two great political parties of this country is as good an example of orthodoxy as the Methodist and Baptist churches in Religion. There must be two parties with slight differences in order to put men into office."

"The most repugnant expression of orthodoxy is the continuance of the worship of the tribal deity. This is seen in the worship of the Anglo-Saxon deity during the Boer war, in the invocation of the Kaiser when he sent his troops to Monday, September 9, is the date that has been set for the opening of the Pendleton schools. This is about one week earlier than usual, but it is thought that it will prove more satisfactory to open a week early and thus enable the schools to close up the work of the year before the warm weather begins in June.

HOLD WHEAT FOR RAISE
Umatilla County Farmers Not Disposed to Sell at Offers.

PENDLETON, Or., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—More than 200,000 bushels of new crop wheat has been sold in Athena at prices ranging from 45 to 71 cents. Practically the entire amount has been purchased by the Preston-Parton flour mills, as they are offering a few cents more per bushel than are other grain-buyers. While some wheat has been secured by Pendleton buyers, the amount is comparatively small, the farmers having shown a disposition to hold for a better price than that offered so far this season. Harvesting is being carried on more successfully today than any time since the rain of last Thursday and farmers express the hope to complete the season without any further delay. Many 50 and 60 bushel yields continue to be reported from the Athena and Helix sections and

"LAIRD OF PILLAR ROCK" BUYS HOME IN ENGLAND

ENGLISH HOME OF JOHN HARRINGTON.

John Harrington, known far and wide as the "Laird of Pillar Rock," has purchased four acres and a mansion house at Alnwick, Northumberland County, England, and has announced his intention of retiring from the fish-packing business on the Columbia River and spending the rest of his life at his new home. Mr. Harrington began life as a sailor and 46 years ago arrived in the Columbia River. He located on a ranch at Skamokawa and operated a sailing schooner on the Columbia River. Later he went into the fish-packing business with Everding & Farrell at Pillar Rock, and has been located there constantly for the past 27 years.

China, in the devotion to the Russian deity as shown by the attitude of the Czar. This is dragging down the infinite to the basis of jingoism, and in supposedly civilized countries.

"The ordinary person cannot give a reason for his devotion to a religious belief. He is orthodox in it, that's all. He is devoted to his devotion. There were people who listened with great delight to Ingersoll's lecture on the mistakes of Moses, who would have pulled out what hair he had left if he had lectured on the mistakes of McKinley. Men scoff at the story of the golden leaves forming the basis of the Mormon belief, when they can't produce the tables of stone on which were written their ten commandments."

EVIDENCE OF A CRIME

San Diego Police Believe Murder
Has Been Committed—Threatening Note Also Found.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 14.—Finding portions of a woman's clothing torn and blood-smeared on the outer end of the Santa Fe dock at a late hour last night, with wisps of a woman's hair lying near a pool of blood, has caused the local police to suspect that a tragedy has been committed there.

A woman's garter and a black leather purse were also found. In the pocketbook was a note reading, "Dear May: Meet me tonight at the old place at 8 P. M. If you do not, I will fix you and him both. Believe me I am in dead earnest. So long, my office little Sweetheart—B. H. C."

CRASHES INTO A FREIGHT

Express Train Upsets Cattle Car, Killing Many—Three Men Hurt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The Sacramento and Stockton express struck the rear end of a freight train near Pleasanton this afternoon, demolishing the caboose, one car of merchandise and overturning a car of stock, killing about half of the cattle. The passenger engine was thrown on its side, badly damaged. Engineer Belden, Fireman Archie Wilson and Brakeman Myers, of the express, jumped when they saw the collision was inevitable. They were badly hurt. One small clerk was slightly injured. The collision resulted from a misunderstanding of orders, following a delay.

Hearing Postponed.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—The hearing of Mrs. Frances C. Platt, who was arrested here for reckless handling of an automobile, which was set for today, was postponed until Thursday of next week.

Changes in Pendleton Schools.

PENDLETON, Or., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Professor E. E. Wick, of Valparaiso, Indiana, has been chosen as head of the business department in the Pendleton

High School, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Professor W. M. Christensen. No successor has yet been secured for A. E. Harrison, who recently resigned as principal of the High School. Monday, September 9, is the date that has been set for the opening of the Pendleton schools. This is about one week earlier than usual, but it is thought that it will prove more satisfactory to open a week early and thus enable the schools to close up the work of the year before the warm weather begins in June.

Casey Faction Defeated.

The regular Democratic ticket was victorious and will control its convention, the fight between the Bryington-Mahoney faction and the old McNab organization resulting in a victory for the old order. The Democrats cast a few more votes than in previous primaries, but their showing is not impressive. The radicals carried the day for the Union Labor party, Casey and his anti-graft policy losing in every district of the city. With this victory for the radical element in the labor party, Schmitz is looked upon as their nominee for Mayor.

Crushing Blow to Herrin.

The Republicans cast the heaviest vote of the three parties, and the victory of the Ryan League is a sweeping one. Postmaster Fiske and the faction backed by the Herrin and Harriman interests have been delivered a crushing blow. Ryan refuses to say that he will be the candidate for Mayor or that District Attorney Langdon will be renominated. In an interview he is quoted as saying:

New Birth to Party.

"Our victory means this one thing definitely, however, it means opposition to Southern Pacific and railroad control of the Republican party. We have got the control in San Francisco away from the railroad and we intend to keep the party clear of that influence. This victory means a new start for the Republican party. Henceforth the people will control the party's affairs. The organization of the party will rest with the convention on September 17."
