A Correction.

The statement published that Richard Carey was an applicant for the position of state house gardner is entirely without foundation. Mr. Carey never made application for it and never authorized his friends to do so. Furthermore he doesn't expect to apply for any particular place under the new administration.

About two hundred tickets have been sold for the charity ball to be given on the evening of January 30. Chas. McNary, C. D. Gabrielson, and August Krantz will be the floor managers and the floor will be put in the best condition for dancing that it has ever been in. An error was made in the last announcement in stating that the ball would be a dress affair. A select crowd will be in attendance but evening dress is not a necessary feature. Tickets can be bought at the leading stores and a handsome sum is expected to be realized for the benefit of the city's poor.

Who Were Caught Napping by the Decamping Idlers.

Can Only Adjourn From Day to Day and Have to Meet Sunday.

It only takes a majority of the legislature to transact business but a quorum must be present. A majority voted Friday to keep at work, but they could not muster a quorum.

HOUSE—SATURDAY MORNING.

In the absence of the speaker the house was called to order, and Palmer of Linn elected temporary speaker. Roll call disclosed fifteen members present.

Fordney moved that the sergeant-at-arms be instructed to bring in the absentees, but he was voted down.

Maxwell moved adjournment until 10 a. m. Sunday.

Roberts moved to amend by making it 2 p. m. Monday. Lost.

Business now came to a standstill, and there was a scattering fusilade of motions, resolutions and points of order, some members contending that less than a quorum could only adjourn "from day to day." Finally Stump moved adjournment until 7 p. m. Sunday, and the chair declared it carried.

Palmer, of Linn, as speaker pro tem was a little hasty in declaring the house adjourned. A perfect shower of motions and resolutions poured in. He blashed so at the honors heaped thick upon him you could have lighted a match anywhere upon his countenance.

Jones of Linn, offered a memorial as follows:

Be it resolved by the House, the Senate concurring, that the Congress of the United States now in session pass an Act amending the constitution of the United States to be submitted to the legislatures of the various states, for the initiative and referendum.

This resolution went through without any nays.

Turner Oliver of Union takes exception to the reference to him in THE JOURNAL Friday, in the report of the defeat of the sugar bounty bill, stating in effect that half the bounty would go into his pocket. He says there is no truth in the report, as he is only here at the request of his neighbors at La Grande. THE JOURNAL has fought the sugar bounty bill from the start but has no desire to misrepresent Oliver.

Representative Sherwin of Jackson county, complimented THE JOURNAL by giving it credit for killing the $50,000 sugar bounty bill. The sugar people will try to revive the measure.

At Marion Court House.

A suit was filed in Department No. 2, of the circuit court by J. W. McKinney vs, Cora Brown et al. It is a foreclosure suit brought to obtain payment on a joint and several promissary note for $800 issued by the defendants to the plaintiff on Oct. 24, 1894. The plaintiffs demand the foreclosure of the mortgage filed by them on defendants property, and that the property be sold at execution sale to ensure payment of $800 with interest at 10 per cent since Oct. 24, 1894, less the payment of $600 made on September 5 1896 and $19.39 paid on Oct. 13, 1897, for the payment of the plaintiff's attorney's fees amounting to $50, W. H. Holmes is the plaintiff's attorney.

County Judge G. P. Terrell received notice this morning that the county bridge across Strang creek, near Mehama had been washed away by floating drift wood. The bridge will have to be repaired as it is much needed for public traffic.

S. B. Crocker and wife to Clara E. Martin, lots No. 3, 4, 5 and 6, in block 12, in Turner's addition to Turner, w. d. $500.

George Jack and wife to John N. Baker, 200.70 acres in the W. H. Baker d. l. c., in t 8 s, r 2 w., q. d., exchange of property and $1.

$30 Wheels

The Stearns' people have, for the first time, sent their "Tourist" models to the coast, and we are able to show this wheel in both ladies' and gents', at $30, making a wheel that stands without a superior at any such figure. It is built on the graceful lines that characterizes all of the Stearns goods, with flush joints at head connections, arched, forged fork crown, one piece Fauber pattern crank and axles; 3-16 chain; tool steel bearings throughout, and runs smooth as a top; Morgan & Wright tires, single or double tube, with the new V-shaped rims that make one of the strongest wheels possible. Ladies' wheels come with brakes; no extra charge; wheel and chain guards enameled to match the frame, which is a very dark olive green, making a most tasty effect. The whole wheel, made and guaranteed by the Stearns Company, and all guarantees taken care of by the Pacific coast branch at San Francisco.

This line, with our great $25 wheel described in former issue, makes us as solid as a rock on the popular priced trade.

Now keep your eyes on our $10 and $50 announcements. Remember we will show you soon, a 30-inch wheel for $50, one of the best wheels in name and in fact, that ever crossed the continent. The Stearns 30-inch "greyhound," 4-inch tread, 4-inch drop, 12 ounce rawhide saddle, total about 22 lbs.; will be in early next week. Regular model now in.

PRISON REFORM.

An Ex-Convict Proposes to Turn on the Light Wednesday Night.

An ex-convict who was released from the Oregon State Prison a few months since, and who procured a position on a farm near Salem through the kindness of a reader of THE JOURNAL, will deliver a free lecture at Reed's opera house on next Wednesday evening, Feb. 1st.

He is a man who has shown by compositions to the press that he possesses a more than average intellect. He expresses himself well and will no doubt have a startling story to tell. As to the truth of his own charges he must bear witness for himself and only asks a hearing in the cause of humanity, justice, morality and the reformation of the criminal classes.

The public should give a hearing to this man, not out of any ill will to the prison management under any past or present superintendent, but in the interest of progress and humanity. From the public schools to the state prison severe punishment is out of place among civilized Christian people. The teacher who is constantly whipping and slapping children commits a graver misdemeanor than the child that she punishes, and the same is true of the severe prison official.

The Oregonian today says. The flogging yesterday of George Johnson and Charles Williams, the two men attempted to escape from the penitentiary, has awakened renewed interest in the subject of prison punishment, about which so much has been said in the papers of the state, and from pulpits, as a result of statements made by discharged convicts and others. Superintendent Gilbert says he keeps a record of all punishments inflicted for violations of prison rules, but when asked today to make public he declined, saying that he did not think it best to do so at this time. He said that only about 22 cases of punishment by flogging have been recorded during his term. It is possible that he will allow the record to be made public in a few days.

NORTHWEST DEAD.

Two very sad deaths have occurred in the family of Captain B. F. Packard, in Fruit valley, Wash., during the past 10 days. They were Mrs. Sarah Packard, Captain Packard's aged mother, and her daughter, Mrs. Carrie Packard Hall. Both ladies arrived here in the latter part of November, from Rockland, Me.

Mrs. Sarah Rogers died at Frankton, Wasco county, January 24. She was born in Bath, Steuben county, New York, November 22, 1817, and was married at Troupsburg, N. Y., April 24, 1836. Mr. and Mrs Rogers moved to Oregon in 1877, and two years later they made their home in Hood River valley.

Fred Witt died while working in his granery at Hillside, Friday afternoon. He was about 54 years old, a native of Germany, and had lived in Washington county 20 years.

Leonard Buell, about 80 years of age, a respected pioneer of Douglas county died at his home at Looking Glass Thursday.

Mrs. Lizzie Silsby-Farington, widow of the late Daniel Farington, died at her home on Lower Fifteen-Mile creek Wasco county, Wednesday. She was 67 years old.

Mrs. Seaman Cox died at Hood River January 25, aged 43 years. She left six children, the eldest 15 years old and the youngest one week.

Eighteenth Anniversary.

The various Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor, throughout the city, will celebrate the eighteenth anniversary of the Endeavor movement tomorrow evening, by holding two meetings, one meeting to be held in the Endeavor room of the Presbyterian church and the other in the Endeavor room of the Baptist church. The Christian and United Brethern societies uniting with the Presbyterian society, and the Congregational and United Evangelical uniting with the Baptist. Both entertaining societies will furnish special music.

A general invitation is extended to the public to attend either of these meetings. Meetings to begin at 6:15.
