NORTH SALEM METHODISTS.

Personals and Warnings to Disturbers of Public Meetings.

The Rev. Blair, of Sheridan, occupied the pulpit in the Free Methodist Church last evening, and delivered an able discourse to a large an interested congregation, taking for his text the words found in Romans 6:6.

Clinton Barrett, of Portland, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Barrett, of North Salem, is visiting his parents for a few days having had business at Dayton, Or., and on learning of the sad accident, which his mother met with on last Tuesday in the breaking of her arm the young man walked from Dayton to Salem, a distance of twenty-two miles.

Rev. David Goode, Sr., of near Mehama, pastor at large in the Free Methodist church, is in the city for a short visit with his father and mother and Grandpa and Grandma Goode, of North Salem. Mr. Goode informs us that he has no church in charge this year, but is in the field of labor as an evangelist, and is on his way to Scott Mills to assist in a series of meetings in progress at that place.

Those boys and young men who have been in the habit of going in and out and disturbing the meeting in the North Salem church by tramping and walking about and smoking cigarettes in the ante room, while the preacher is talking, will please take warning that unless this kind of doing be stopped, their names will be given to an officer, and they will have to pay the penalty, according to the laws of Oregon, as this will not be tolerated any longer. We are glad to see young people come and attend the meetings, and they are cordially welcomed, but we must and will have order, so parents please watch your boys, and save trouble.

Apt Quotations.

Proverbs, axiom and wise sayings have been uttered by Confucius and other wise men from time immemorial, but few people realize how many there are of them. C. I. Hood & Co., of Sarsaparilla fame, have over two thousand and they have originated the ingenious plan of serving them up in delectable shape in thousands of newspaperr, with each one neatly turning a point as to the merit of their well known medicine. The extensive use of these proverbs is original and creditable to Hood & Co. 1
