PRINCIPLE OR PERSONALITY?

It is not a good plan to count chickens before they are hatched, in politics or elsewhere. Dowd in Portland the Corbett crowd had manufactured a large number of buttons they intended to distribute right after the election. This button has on it the representation of a graveyard—a political graveyard—marked with tombstones. The largest tombstone was one marking the alleged political grave of Senator McBride, and giving the date of his supposed political death, and other particulars calculated to appeal to the risibilities of the followers of Mr. Corbett, Wallace McCamant, J. Thornburn Ross, etcetera. But the machinations of these followers of the political fortunes of the men named are not heard in the land. Not this year. Probably not another year. There is silence in the halls that would have been filled with revelry had the result been different. The buttons will not adorn the lapels of the coats on their manly breasts.—Bystander in Statesman.

The above is not published for its wit or to reflect in anyway upon the writer, who is no doubt the editor of the Salem Statesman. It is given the readers of THE JOURNAL to show that Republicanism in Oregon has descended from the plane of principle to a personal graft.

The same paper that keeps standing the Republican platform of principles rejoices in the defeat of the Republican ticket in Multnomah county, that throws the legislature into the hands of a predatory element of Republicans of almost unknown character. It may even endanger Republican success in November, but what care the followers of personal politics versus Republican principles?

What self-respecting Citizen, who is born and reared in the grand old party, wants to help carry Oregon for McKinley in November to feather the nests of such advocates of Republicanism? What claim have the camp-followers of McBrideism, Mitchellism and other similar political personalities upon any Republican's vote when they rejoice over the success of the Democratic-Citizen's ticket at Portland?

This is said without reflecting upon the political aspirations of Mr. Mitchell or Mr. McBride. THE JOURNAL nor its editor in the recent campaign said one word against either of those gentlemen or their friends. But we submit the above flings at the Corbett-Simon-Mackay organization as coming from a class of Republicans who are intence partisans only when they are serving their personal interests.

AN ESTIMATE OF BRYAN.

The New York Journal printed recently an elaborate interview on American politics with Richard Croker in which he is quoted as saying that "William J. Bryan will be elected as sure as fate, that he will defeat Mr. McKinley in his own state of Ohio," and that "Mr. Bryan is far and away the ablest man we have in American politics. There is no man to compare with him or put alongside of him." The Tammany leader states that "he is for Bryan with his whole heart," and then disposes of the silver issue as follows:

"William J. Bryan is right in taking his stand upon silver. He is right in sticking to his guns. My party interests, as far as New York City is concerned, would counsel me to advise that he should weaken on the silver plank, but I would not say a word to induce him to do it. It would, indeed, be fatal for him to do it. If he were to weaken on silver he might gain some votes from the bulls of Wall street, but he would lose far more in sacrificing the interests of the struggling farmers, who are ground between combinations of railways and trusts."

"Delays Are Dangerous."

A small pimple on your face may seem of little consequence, but it shows your blood is impure, and impure blood is what causes most of the diseases from which people suffer. Better heed the warning given by the pimple and purify your blood at once by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine cures all diseases due to bad blood, including scrofula and salt rheum.

REPUBLICAN COIN SILVER.

More silver has been coined during the present administration than in the preceding Democratic one, as the following figures show:

COINAGE OF SILVER.

Year	Amount
1893	$ 8,802,797
1894	9,300,351
1895	25,608,010
1896	23,089,809
Annual average	$11,607,784
1897	$18,487,297
1898	23,014,033
1899	26,001,519
Annual average	$16,895,712

Not only has the total been greater in three years of the Republican administration than the whole coinage of silver in the four years of the last Democratic administration, but the silver coinage, since 1897, has averaged $5 200,000 a year more than in the 1895-96 period.

BACKING AWAY AT HOFER.

My more or less esteemed friend Hofer seemed to run best in the precincts farthest away. Witness the vote in the South Salem precinct, near home.—Bystander in Statesman.

In the same paper the official count of South Salem precinct shows that Hofer got 70 votes, while the other candidates for the legislature on the same ticket got 59,61, 63 and 67 votes each. Bystander really referred to Yew Park precinct the home of Hofer, and, fortunately for him, it is also the home of Geo. G. Bingham and Geo. W. Davis, would be partners in THE JOURNAL, and one of their attorneys. Even in Yew Park, where these especially interested political friends of Hofer live, the vote he got was 59, while the other four candidates with him got 45, 55, 62 and 63. These would-be moulders of public affairs boast of scratching the Republican ticket, and it is said even went so far as to vote the whole Democratic-Citizens legislative ticket except Hofer, to make him appear to have fallen behind.

In Salem No. 4, the home of Collector Ike Patterson, Hofer got 112 votes, as against 89, 95, 99 and 110 for his colleagues. In Bystander's ward Hofer got the high vote with Capt. Dimick. It is hard to down a man who is both a Dutchman, a Christian and editor of a ONE CENT DAILY.

Hungry Nerves

Are nerves deprived of vital power; nerves easily irritated, quickly tired out and readily overcome by disease. When there is headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, indigestion, palpitation or fluttering of the heart, neuralgia, sleeplessness, irritability of temper or a general failing, the nerves are hungry and need food and rest. Why not feed them?

DR. MILES' Nervine

will do it. Try it a few days and you will feel better.

"I have taken Dr. Miles' Nervine for nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and general lassitude, and I am now myself again." JAMES O. INGRAHAM, 370 20th Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA.

The Chinese situation is exciting the profoundest alarm in London. It is fully believed that the Boxer movement was instigated in Russia's interest, so that she may reap long desired advantages in China before the subjugation of the Boers relieves Great Britain of her South African trouble. In this predicament says a New York World correspondent the British press and politicians are looking anxiously to President McKinley to interpose some effectual check to the fruition of Russia's alleged designs.

The British Army is so locked up in South Africa that there is no possible prospect of being able to withdraw safely any part of it for at least two months. The British Army in India is already 11,000 below the lowest reach of the establishment, and it seems certain that another expedition of 15,000 men will be necessary to restore British authority in Ashantee. Therefore, England is in a sore plight, as far as concerns any effectual defense of her interests in the far East.

It is known in diplomatic circles that Lord Salisbury is using every effort to arrive at an understanding with Russia, but while Russia negotiates she also steadily pushes her advantage in China. It is recognized that Russia gets a foothold in China on plea of preserving order and she will never withdraw. The British occupation of Egypt has set a precedent which will just suit Russia's purposes.

Communications have been actively passing during the week between Ambassador Choate and Lord Salisbury. It is understood that while the British Prime Minister is seeking an agreement with Russia, he is working at the same time for joint action with the United States, as the second string to his bow. Such action would certain
