. HOP BEARS AT WORK

George Rose Says There Is Method in Their Madness.

TALKING OF SMALL CROPS

Object Is to Get Growers to Pick Everything and Then Prices Will Be Depressed in the Regulation Style.

That the outlook for profitable prices in the hop market is far from good and the actual conditions in the producing districts do not justify the optimistic reports being circulated, is the opinion of George L. Rose, of Salem, a hopgrower and dealer of many years' experience. Mr. Rose declares that the growers are being fed by short sellers on fletitious crop reports, telling of probable small yields in other countries, in the hope that they will pick a big crop here, and that when the entire crop is gathered, the big yield will be used as a lever with which to bear down prices. Mr. Hose, who was at the Belveders Hotel yesterday, said:

'As to the hop situation, I will say that it looks very discouraging to me. I cannot see one ray of hope for those who do not own their own yards, and there is but very little to encourage owners of yards to

"It is impossible at the present time to "It is impossible at the present time to contract the growing crop at over Tigo, and I doubt if contracts could be made at that. Even if the grower could contract at Tigo, he is not sure of a sale, for we all know that if the market is lower than the con-tract price at the time of delivery, in some cases flaws will be found in the quality the hops and the grower takes what he can

"I look with susploion on the reports from Tacoma and Portland regarding the English and German crops, more particu-larly those reports emanating from two or Their estimates of the English and German ceived by myself and others.

"The latest estimate received of the English crop puts it at 500,000 ewt, possibly more, and from a letter I have just recelled from Germany, it certainly looks as if Germany would have a larger crop than when she had 1,400,000 cwt., or 200,000 bales to export.

"An to the reports from New York State that the crop there is very short and cov-ered with honey dew and lice. I will state that my brother (who is a hopgrower in Otsego County) writes me under date of August 13 that the crop there is entirely free from vermin and honey dew and ses a yield equal to last year, or about 60.000 bales, of as fine quality as they have reports from California are to the quite, as large as last year, and of much

"In my opinion. Oregon will produce as many hops as last year if they are all picked, and I cannot see why prices should be higher, or as high, after harvest than may be true that England will do most of her buying in this state, but if she does it will be a radical departure from former years. As a matter of fact, England buys where she can buy cheapest and is no more particular as to quality than American brewers it is no longer a question of quality either in England or America, but a question of price.

"If conditions in England are as unfavorable as some dealers would have us believe. as some dealers market is so dull and | 6% $7c pound | POTATOES-New, $161.25 per hundred.

It is a well-known fact that the Pacific Coast erop has been sold short by nearly every dealer in the trade. Tens of thou-sands of bales have been sold at from 10c January, February and March), the shorts figuring that they can buy for about 5c per pound after the grower has bung on to his crop for two or three menths and gets tired.

ort sellers want to see all the hops picked and are sending out as favorable reports as possible in order to encourage growers to pick, but after the crop is harvested, then we can expect stories of large crops all over the world.
"I am an extensive grower, and for the information of these who wish to know what I am going to do, will say that I am going to pick my entire crop, for the reason that it is sold, and has been for months; half your crop (if you ple; at all) and let the halance hang on the vines. You may get something out of your crop then besides

The German letter than Mr. Rose refers to is from a dealer at Hersbruck, Savaria,

Since our last report of June 18, our hops have made exceedingly fine progress, in spite of very cold weather, and these facts give us the right to hope for a very good crop. flf we should harvest what we have today in sight. Germany will have a

Notwithstanding that the nights lately have been too cold for the growing vines and therefore, somewhat backward, we do not think that this will have any damaging effect to speak of; at least, it is yet too early to say anything definite as to that. In case the climatic conditions in the month of August are good, Germany will have a larger crop of hops than for many years. "Austria-Hungary also expects to have a good crop and will be in a position to ex-

SEVERAL CITY CREAMERIES ARE UP And Others Will Advance Their Price in a Day or Two.

Two or three of the city creameries were up to the top mark-37% cents-yesterday, and the others will probably be in line within a day or two. Stocks on Front street are limited, but there has been no advance there yet, though one of the outside brands will probably be put out at the higher city price today.

The cheese market is very firm, with another advance of 1% cent announced. Local stocks of cheese are limited. The egg market was firm with no change

Receipts of poultry were very heavy, and while some receivers cleaned up early, others reported their sales slower. Prices

Active Day in Fruit Market.

There was an exceptionally good demand for fresh fruits yesterday, and with large supplies on hand the market was active. Peaches came in from many points and were taken up freely at quotations, while the several varieties of grapes offered found ready sale. Cherries and blackberries con tinue to be found in the market.

STOCKS AND BONDS OF COM-PANY TUMBLE.

Rumors of Financial Difficulties Positively Denied by Officials. Big Contracts on Hand.

The New York Journal of Commerce, of Augnet 17, said of the break in Allis-Chalmore stock, and of the rumors current that the firm was in trouble!

Shares of the Allis-Chalmers Company went to sew low records yesterday. The common stock tumbled 3% points to 6, and the preferred 1% to 13%, while the 5 per cent bonds broke 5% points to 65. In January of the present year the common soid at 16% and the preferred at 43%. These quotations compare with the high prices in 1906 of 27% and 67, which were made in the sarly part of that year. It was suggested that what probably occasioned the slump was the rumor to the effect that that company was in trouble, but these were emphatically denied by officinis of the company. In view of the stringency in the time money market, it is admitted that collections are not up to expectations.

Of the bond issue of $13,000,000 created a year or so ago, in the neighborhood of $10,500,000 were subscribed for. The call of 19 per cent which will be made upon the syndicate September 1 will give the company about $1,000,000 cash from this source alone.

The company will also take in payment pany about $1,000,000 cash from this source alone.

The company will also take in payment for city contracts bonds of the City of New York. This will strengthen the company from the standpoint of cash.

The company, it is said, has more business on its books than ever before in its bistory, contracts on hand aggregating a valuation of approximately $18,000,000. Recently the company secured contracts from the United States Steel Corporation aggregating $8,300,000. The company has issued a considerable amount of paper of inte.

As for the break in the stock, I cannot say anything about that, although it looks as if it were due to an attack by the bears. It is quite possible that they know who started the false re-that they know who started the false report."

This statement was supplemented by another from President W. H. Whiteside, who in an interview at Chicago, said:

"All reports to the effect that the company is in financial straits, or in any possible way embarraised, have no foundwation and are maliciously untrue. The company has, as its forthcoming report will show, assets of more than two for one of liabilities."

RAID TWO CHINESE GAMES

Error in Warrant Renders Third Attempt Unsuccessful.

Two successful raids and one unsuccess ful attempt were made in Chinatown last night by Acting Detectives Kay and Kienlen and Special Officer Gifford, comprising the Chinatown squad. Fourteen fantan players were arrested in the gambling-house at 89 Second street, and two were captured at 84 Second street. Evi-dence of gambling was confiscated by the police in each instance.

The unsuccessful raid was made on the establishment of Chuck Wey, who lives at 229% Alder street. He recently filed a suit for damages against Acting Detectives Kay and Klenlen in the Circuit Court, and alleged that a valuable gold bracelet was missing from his home sev-eral weeks ago, just after they had searched it in an attempt to locate a white woman who was seen to enter

Kay and Kienlen were provided with a search warrant last night when they en-tered Chuck Wey's home, but the Chinese made such a disturbance when the officers went in that the latter were unable to make much progress, and in the mean-time Lawyer W. W. Banks, for the Chinese, was summoned and had an interview with the officers, in which he showed them that their warrant was for 229 Aider street instead of E3%, and the police withdrew. A mistake had been made in the number on the warrant, thus defeating the raid.

When Kay and Klenlen entered Chuck Wey's home they encountered the wife of the Chinese, who, they say, attempted to hide something in the folds of her dress. They sought to make a thorough search, but a great hue and cry was raised, during which the Chinese sent for their law-yer. As soon as the mistake in the num-ber was discovered, the officers with-drew. They suspected that a lottery game was in progress.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The market for evaporated applies is very quiet, but prices are steadily held. Prunes are active for this season of the year and prices are steadily held, but unchanged. Apricots and peaches are dull and unchanged. Falsins continue quiet at recent prices.

SUPERIOR ASSETS

FOR BANK OR INDIVIDUAL

Of the depositors of the Oregon Trust &

Savings Bank would gladly accept Home bonds for their deposit if they could get same. Personally, I am willing to take any Home bonds at par with 50 per cent stock bonus for all my balance in that institution, and I will guarantee at least two hundred thousand dollars if other depositors will be pleased to do likewise. Don't get worried about the Home Bonds. If the total deposits were in these securities I could pay everybody in full, single-handed. You cannot force the sale of Government bonds or a choice piece of real estate in a minute's notice. Be prudent and patient, and reserve your judgment. The Home bonds

Stock Market Allowed to Drift Along.

SOME PRESSURE TO SELL

Except in a Few Instances, Price Changes at the Close Are Narrow With Gains and Losses Equally Divided.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A renewal of liquidation in the stock market today had the effect of unsettling values and causing ore or less depression at times. Some sup-rt was in evidence in the early part of the day, but during most of the sessi market was allowed to drift along by itself.
At no time during the trading were the price changes more than a point either way except in a few instances. There was but little animation to the market, and at but little animation to the market, and at times the trading was almost listless. Final prices show changes, generally of a fractional order, with the gains and losses about equally divided.

At the opening of the market there was a momentary spell of depression owing to the weakness of American stocks at London. This resulted in a decline of 1 point in Union Pacific and Smelting and 1½ points in Amalgameted Copper, while the remainder of the list was fractionally lower. At the decline a good demand became apparent and there was an immediate recovery of the losses.

and there was an immediate recovery of the losses.

Interest in the market then became languid, and as trading settled into a lethargic condition, prices sagged downward until the ruling level was from 12 to 1 point under last night's close. This decline brought out renewed large offerings and caused prices to decline still farther. Union Pacific dropped 2 points on this break and Southern Pacific, the Hill shares, and the principal metal stocks 1 point each. Some of these losses, were subsequently recovered on a late fally, after which the market became motioniess until near the end, when the principal railroad stocks and specialties fell a trifle.

1 The closing was heavy. The most noticeable change of the day was a gain of 13 points in Chicago & Northwestern preferred, but the common stock of this road gained only 1½ over yesterday's price. Atchison preferred gained 2 points on the day's operations, and other stocks fractions. The heaviest losses were 4 points in St. Paul, 1½ in Southern Pacific and 1 in Union Pacific. Western Union closed ½ under Tuesday's quotation. On the curb Standard Oil was quoted at 431, a drop of 7 points.
