SEND IN SOCIAL NEWS.

The Capital Journal is always glad to print social news from outside of Salem, and will appreciate anything of this kind sent in over the telephone or by mail. In sending in news the writer's name should always be signed, not for publication, but as a guarantee that the matter is reliable. We do not print anything sent in unless we know the author of it.

The second exhibition to be made by the Oregon Photographic association, composed of local artists, will be in place tomorrow in the children's department of the public library and the public is extended an invitation to view the work, which includes for the most part local scenes.

The setting for the piano recital, in which pupils of Miss Elma Weller were graduated in the Dunning method, Wednesday evening at the First Presbyterian church was as fairy like as it was possible to make it, and was successful in supplementing a necessary detail in the program furnished by the tiny musicians, who were like little human butterflies as they flitted through their songs and exercises, in daintily fashioned frocks of every hue. Teaching music to children is claiming the attention of music teachers everywhere and many are coming to appreciate Mrs. Dunning's method. She has thoroughly grasped the art of catering to the mentality of the child and it is really quite wonderful to listen to a program given by very young students who use this system. There are pretty details, which to some might seem superflous, but which really awaken the musical understanding in a child, and hold its interest in a manner unobtainable otherwise. These features were demonstrated Wednesday evening, tone colors being represented in musical drills by Hazel George, Priscilla Fry, Helen Weller, Rovena Eyre, Marie Briggs, Marie Rostein, Ruth Page, Dorothy Esh. They were assisted in other exercises by Ieona Geer, Lorena Geer, Ruth Buckner, Margaret Wildwridge, Irene Greenbaum, Mary Cupper and Helen Marcus. Queen Melody was represented by Harriet Griffith, and Prince Harmony by Mabel Marcus, their attendants being Mildred Roberts and Louise Cupper, all in royal apparel who occupied the place of honor upon the platform throughout the evening. The program follows:

Pink roses, ocean spray and fern were used profusely to decorate the auditorium of the First Baptist church, when Miss Margaret Fisher presented her piano pupils in recital. A parasol drill and action song was a feature of the program, Helen Pollock, Helen Arkpe, Clema Sauder, Lois Fellows, Helen Walcher, Dorothy Hobson, Odile Matthews, and Louise Schaefer taking part, frocked in pink and carrying pink parasols. Beatrice Koelsche and Charles Koelsche played evenly and accurately in the opening number, "A Summer Ride," by Bonheur. "In the Twilight," by Gaenschals, was played by Dorothy Hobson in a composed and thorough manner. Helen Walcher in "Little Volunteers," by Ferber; Helen Arpke in "Frolic of the Lambs," by Engleman, and Odile Matthews in "Echo Waltz," by Brainard, all did good work. Malcolm Graber, in a Krogman number, "Vesper Bells," displayed confidence and understanding. "Happy Hottentots," by Antony, was played in good time by Louise Schaefer, who had studied less than one year. "The Little Prince," Krogman, by Joe Gilbert, and Lawson's "Tinkleing Bells," by Clema Sauder, were characterized by good time and tone. Much musical ability was displayed by Helen Pollock in "Dixie Land," with variations, Lindsey, by Helen Pollock. A duet, "High School March," by Spencer, was well executed by Zola Birdwell and Thelma Birdwell. Lois Fellows gave a Forman composition, "Dance of the Wood Spirites," brilliantly for a young pupil. Claude Litchfield, a conscientious student, gave Spaulding's "The Mill Wheel." Gertrude West, in Voigt's "Friends Again," Elizabeth Dyer in Rathburn's "Twilight on the Mountains," and Lois Nye in Kern's Valse Episode," played correctly and with beautiful expression. "Golden Roses," by Heins, was confidently played by Ruth Peck, who is a gifted young musician. The "Glide Waltz," by Vanderbeck, was cleverly interpretated by Frederick Arpke. Ida Anderson put much beauty into her "Sounds of Springtime," by Wenzel, as did also Elizabeth Dyer, Lois Nye and Ruth Peck in the "Polonaise," by Kramer. Robin Fisher, in "Constant Devotion," by Gelbel, was much appreciated. Mildred Douglas closed the program with a brilliant interpretation of Larregla's "Coquetuela Mazurka." Miss Marion Emmons, a violin pupil of Miss Joy Turner, assisted with the "Serenade," by Gounod, and was warmly applauded.

It is pleasant to record that Miss Vera Kitchen, a former Salem girl, the Portland pianist, at a musical examination held last week at Los Angeles, California, under the auspices of the National Federation of Music clubs, won first choice of all piano students competing from Pacific coast states. This is a notable honor. Miss Kitchen is at present a piano student with William R. Boone, of Portland, graduated in 1906 in piano from the Northwest Normal College of Music, Salem, Oregon, under direction of Dr. Z. M. Parvin, and she also studied piano in Salem with Mrs. Josephine Sharp. She resided in Salem with her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, going to Portland with them sohrtly after her graduation. Miss Kitchen's ability was recognized during her residence in Salem and she was heard frequently on musical programs. Before entering the final contest at Los Angeles, Miss Kitchen will be featured as soloist on a program to be given at the Federation convention June 25. Miss Kitchen writes to Oregon friends that the contest was very spirited. Her closest competitor was Miss Elmira Boelker, of Salt Lake City, who made a score of 78 points. Miss Kitchen's points number 85½.

The appearance of Alma Gluck, who sang in Salem this year on the musical artists' course, at the Harvard performance of "Siegfried" will be the last in a long time as Madame Gluck has signified her intention to retire from the public for a year for the purpose of devoting herself to a bit of home life. Madame Gluck, who under the circumstances is entitled to her name of Mrs. Zimbalist, has ideas about the duty of a mother to her child and she will attempt to carry these out during the next year. She is now located in her country home on Lake George where she and her husband have determined not to allow even the harmless tinkle of a piano.

Commenting on the presentation recital of Miss Greta Phillips, Joseph MacQueen, the music editor of the Oregonian, publishes the following: "Miss Greta Phillips, an accomplished young vocalist, of Salem, Oregon, was presented in a song recital last Monday by Miss Minnetta Magers. Miss Phillips possesses a soprano voice of excellent quality and range and she has dramatic ability. She gave four pleasing numbers and was frequently encored. Mrs. Vera Schaupp Frickey assisted with a brilliant piano solo from Liszt, and Mrs. Anna Rogers Fish gave an interesting reading. Mrs. George H. Burnett, Mrs. B. J. Miles and Miss Magers were in the receiving line and little Margaret Lewis attended the door. Misses Ruth Fugate and Rose Pratt were the ushers.

The Oregon Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae club gave their annual luncheon and musical at the Benson Hotel Saturday afternoon, with Mrs. R. Monroe Gilbert, and Miss May Steusloff as representatives from Salem. The Oregon club was organized and the charter granted them in April. They started their club with 30 charter members. The Tyrolean room was prettily decorated in the sorority colors, red and green. Red carnations adorned the luncheon table. On the place cards and programs were clever pen and ink sketches, including the Greek monogram. Others present at the luncheon were: The Misses Ernestine Hislop, Helen Wegmann, Lanna Pauley, Mildred Croat, Ada Reed, Edith Cathcrwood, Faith Hauthorne, Agnes Redmond, Grace Woodworth, Mrs. H. W. Hopkins, Mrs. J. E. Withrow, and Mrs. Ray Shinn, all of Portland; Miss Lyetra Tagg, of Warrenton; Mrs. Henry G. Mitchell, of Memphis, Tennessee; Miss Alice Streets, of Medford; the Misses Geraldine Newins, Gertrude Nolan, Leona Kerr, of Corvallis, and Miss Elizabeth Howitt, of Gresham.

Kersey C. Eldridge, of Independence, Oregon, and Miss Lucile Mae Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Berry, of Portland, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Monday night, Rev. H. C. Marshall, of North Yakima, officiating. Mrs. Alice B. Marshall played the wedding march and the bridesmaid was Miss Nora Wann, of Salem. The bridegroom's brother, Edwin Neville Eldridge acted as best man. The rooms were a bower of pink and white roses, maidenhair and sword ferns. Miss Mable Downey sang "Oh, Promise Me" preceding the ceremony, and during the reception which followed, sang several other solos. The bride was gowned in white satin, veiled with shadow lace, and her silk tulle veil was wreathed with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a gown of pale yellow satin, with overdrape of imported lace, and her bouquet was of yellow roses and ferns. Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held, and a buffet supper served. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. William Woodham, Mrs. L. J. Robeson, of Tacoma, and Miss Ethel Blatchley, of Hillsboro. Misses Edith Daugherty and Hazel Hoyt presided at the punch bowl. The bridegroom is a representative of the Independence Creamery company and the couple will make their home in Independence.

Miss Frank Splitstone (Miss Carrie Goode) of Linesville Pennsylvania, arrived last night, called here by the illness of her father, J. F. Goode. Mr. Goode was considered in a very serious condition several days ago but has been gradually recovering, and it is thought that he is now past all danger. Mrs. A. E. West, of Portland, another daughter of Mr. Goode, was here yesterday, as were also Mr. and Mrs. John Steelhammer and their children, of Woodburn. A son, J. D. Goode, of San Francisco, arrived last week and will remain until Mr. Goode is entirely recovered.

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo. — "I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

ST. PAUL NEWS

Dr. Edwards was called to the bedside of his mother in Portland last week, she having suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Joseph and George Hiller received the sad news of the death of their younger brother, who was serving in the German army.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman, formerly of this place, now residing near Salem, was thrown from their buggy last week, receiving a severe shaking up but no serious injury. The accident was caused by colliding with an auto.

The road supervisors on the Broadacres end of the St. Paul-Broadacres road have a number of teams hauling gravel and expect to gravel the greater portion of their part of the road this season. This will make an excellent road to the Oregon Electric.

One of the best ball games ever pulled off in St. Paul was played last Sunday between the Portland Giants and the local team. The grandstand was filled to overflowing with an enthusiastic crowd of rooters from all sections of the country, and Sam, the Giants' coach, kept them from going to sleep by a running fire of comment and comic antics throughout the game. The final score was three to two in favor of the visitors, neither side scoring after the third inning.

The closing exercises of the St. Paul public school were held last Friday. The program was an interesting one, the pupils presenting several dialogues, songs, character sketches and recitations with an ability far above the average. F. N. Coleman, of the school board, presided, presenting the diplomas to the graduates and the spelling certificates to those winning in the county spelling contest. Those graduating from the Eighth grade were: Lorne Kirk, Edward Bunning, Frances Opitz, Irene Clarno and Andrew Connon. Those winning spelling certificates were: Joseph Opitz, Irene Clarno, Vincent Clarno, Frances Opitz, Louise Kerr, Edward Bunning, Luella Hornbeck, Clement Van de Wiele, Herbert Hughes, Ralph Welch, Alphonse Brentano, Arthur McDonald and Elmer Hughes. County Superintendent Smith addressed the school, presenting a school banner and complimenting the school board, teachers and children on the excellency of the school and explaining that but 30 schools in the county succeeded in winning a banner this year. Superintendent Smith was followed by Supervisor Smith of Woodburn, who gave both the children and the elders an interesting talk. Father Chabot made a short address, announcing the winners for the best catechism, a contest which he had inaugurated and for which he furnished the prizes. The winners in this were Joseph Opitz, Vincent Clarno, Arthur McDonald and Ralph Welch of the Fourth and Fifth grades, and Edward Hughes and Frances Opitz of the Eighth grade.—Woodburn Independent.

LOSES HOUSE BY FIRE.

C. J. Thomas' house near Gooch was totally destroyed by fire last Wednesday, June 9, at about 1 p. m.

Mr. Thomas was at home at the time, but his efforts to put out the fire, which probably started from the kitchen flue, were unavailing.

He not only lost his house and furniture but regrets most of all the many keepsakes from his numerous friends and relatives. There was no insurance. —Stayton Mail.
