Explosion Kills Many Japanese Laborers Working On Decks

Tokio, July 29.—Eighteen carloads of powder and light bombs exploded at Shimonoseki while they were being loaded on a ship today.

Thus far thirty are known to have been killed and 50 injured. The ship was practically wrecked and houses for some distance were flattered. A passing passenger train was badly damaged. Five passengers on the train were killed. The cause of the explosion has not yet been ascertained.

Most of those killed were stevedors engaged in loading the ship with the explosives.

BELIEVE CONGRESS WILL MAKE DRAFT AGE FROM 19 TO 40

Opposition Will Develop Against Cutting Age For Service Below 21

Washington, July 30.—Senate and house military committee members believed today congress will pass draft age extension proposals and that registration will be accomplished in time to avoid drawing upon class two, three and four.

Opposition to lowering the ages is gradually disappearing, but a house attempt to prevent men below 21 from being sent abroad is certain.

Many members would be agreeable to some form of universal training for men below this age, making them available as trained soldiers when they come of age.

Although no word has come from Secretary Baker to indicate what limits he will ask, there is a general feeling on the bill that he will request registration of men 19 to 40, or possibly 45 years of age. Men in touch with the war department, however, think the upper limit will more likely be around 35. In this connection it is pointed out that for the older men the draft law would develop largely into a work or fight proposition, giving the war department considerable control—without so labeling it—over the disposition of available men.

This the department is anxious to avoid. The original class one will be exhausted in September but there are the June 5th, 21 years old to draw up on and it is expected a new registration will be held in September for 21 year olds, so it is likely the nation will tide over until congress will act, without taking deferred class members.

This means, however, that adoption of extension must be made and registration done before the first of the year according to the general view.

COUNTER ATTACKS ARE BUT EVIDENCE OF DESPERATION

Von Hindenburg Forced To Make Showing by Gloomy Feelings In Berlin

By J. W. T. Mason
(United Press war expert)

New York, July 30.—Von Hindenburg's counter attacks started this morning north of the Ourcq, give evidence of being primarily magnified rear guard actions, for the purpose of trying to prevent the allies from breaking through the German front.

Between Soissons and the Ourcq is Von Hindenburg's most dangerous sector. If General Foch succeeds in penetating the German lines near Soissons a real disaster would overtake Von Hindenburg's forces.

That Von Hindenburg has suddenly tried to seize the initiative in this quarter indicates a haunting fear on his part of the perilous situation in which he is forced to continue.

Since the retreat from the Marne began, Von Hindenburg has concentrated his heaviest reinforcements around the Soissons corner of the Aisne-Marne salient. He unquestionably has a very strong force at present in that area. He might believe that a lavish slaughter of German troops at this moment would perhaps result in bending the allied front southwestward from Soissons in the general direction of Paris.

A serious offense of this character, however, would run into the strongest positions the French have prepared for defending the roads to Paris.

The Villers-Cotterets forests are but five to seven miles away and east of the forest, General Foch sensibly improved his positions by local attacks before he began his Marne drive, should Von Hindenburg therefore have been suddenly overcome once more by his periodic mania to reach Paris, he will undoubtedly be quickly involved in serious difficulties.

Von Hindenburg has got to do some thing to try to stem General Foch's relentless pressure. The Berlin war office has at last been forced to tell the German people that the German Marne army is in retreat. Von Hindenburg's attack today followed hard on this admission. It may well be due in part to an intensity of depression among the kaiser's subjects. The kaiser perhaps is despairingly counting on a few yards advance between Soissons and the Ourcq to save the failing morale at home.

Women Relatives May Go To France

Washington, July 30—The ban on women relatives of officers and men in the American expeditionary forces going to France as Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., or similar organization workers has been lifted. Hereafter passports will be granted such a woman when it is shown she is qualified by training for the position she is to fill, General March announced today.

The organizations to which the woman belongs will be held responsible for returning her to America in case she violates any of the rules. If the worker marries an officer or a soldier in the expeditionay forces after her arrival in France she will be automatically ordered back to the United States.

Shortage of help in France for the organizations is responsible for the change in the ruling.

STATUS OF COLLEGE CLEARED BY DECISION

Upon Reaching Draft Age He Become Subject if Special Registration

Washington, July 30.—The military status of the college man in the ranks of the student army training corps and his relation to the draft have been cleared up by the war department decision. The student soldier is enlisted already in military service of the United States.

Upon reaching draft age he becomes subject to registration whenever the president directs. He is then placed in class five D, by his local board. The draft board will not include him in calls for induction as long as he remain in the S. A. T. C.

On the day the order number of the student soldier is reached, the fact is reported to the village president, to the commanding officer and to the adjutant general. A report on the man's record as a student soldier and as a scholar is put before the war department's committee on education and special training with the recommendation that he be called at once to an officers' training camp, called to an army camp or permitted to complete college training by transfer to the enlisted reserve corps.

Wheat Flour Substitutes Will Be Reduced

Washington, July 30.—Food administration officials said today they expect orders soon reducing the percentage of substitutes which it is necessary to purchase with wheat flour.

Food Administrator Hoover is now in London conferring with allied food controllers. Orders will come from him based on information collected.

With a 30-per cent larger wheat crop than a year ago in prospect and increases expected in other cereal crops, the outlook is bright, However, it is not considered at all possible the conservation program can be abandoned or moderated to any great extent.

It is expected the first great reduction in the amount of substitutes required will be from 15 to 20 per cent.

PAPER MILL STRIKE CALLED OFF

Washington, D. C. July 26.—(Special)—After a hearing today, the War Board declined to render final decision in the matter of labor difficulties in the paper mills at Oregon City, Camas and Lebanon, but telegraphed the employe's organization saying that the board is convinced that the employers are sincere in their effort to adjust differences, and asking the employes to call off the strike and resume negotiations for an amicable settlement. 8-1
