SOCIETY

By GERTRUDE ROBISON

COMPLIMENTING Lieutenant Lamar Tooze who arrived in Salem last evening after an eventful two years in the service, a group of friends and relatives gathered at the Marion hotel last night and enjoyed a delightful dinner party. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Tooze Sr., Captain and Mrs. Walter L. Tooze Jr., and small son Walter L. Tooze III, Major and Mrs. Carlton Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Campbell of Hermiston, Oregon, Bert Cohen and Lieutenant Tooze. Major Smith, Mr. Cohen and Mr. Campbell were all members of the 91st division, the same in which Lieutenant Tooze and his twin brother, Leslie, saw service.

The lecture tour which has been arranged for the lieutenant in the interest of the woman's building at Eugene will begin next week with Roseburg as a probable starting point. This evening he will be one of about 40 new members to be initiated into the Salem lodge of Elks.

A "Health Pageant" is the newest production released by the pageant and drama department of the Y. W. C. A. under the title of "Shining Goddess" it was presented last week by the girls of the west side branch of the Y. W. C. A. at a private estate in Van Courtland park, New York city.

The idea of the pageant which was part of the program of the social educational department was to present in an allegorical way the various things that make for good health and right living. Proper foods, exercise and clothing were symbolized in a very attractive way. "Fresh Air" was a breezy little figure made chiefly of balloons and bubbles. "Rest" was a somber person in trailing veils of grey.

Miss Clara Sackett who wrote, costumed and produced the pageant says that the girls who presented it took a keen interest in it's teaching. They were particularly interested in the various kinds of clothing and shoes which the character of "Good Taste" prescribed. They were eager to understand the kinds of food which made for the best health, and how to present them to the greatest advantage.

McLoughlin Eliminated From Newport Tourney By Voshell

Newport, R. I. Aug 7—Maurice McLoughlin, famed "comet" of the old days of international tennis cup competition, is out of the Newport Casino's invitation tennis tournament He was put out after a hard match by S. Howard Voshell, a man who, despite long years of play, has reached the upper ten in the national association's ranking but once. It required five sets for Voshell to defeat the Californian.

McLoughlin's greatest weakness was his proneness to smash overhead which generally resulted in outs.

Today the round before the semi-finals will bring together Clarence Griffin and Voshell; William Tilden, II and Richard Norris Williams II; William M. Johnston and Wallace Johnson.

ABSENCE OF QUORUM MAY DELAY ADDRESS

Possible Hitch Forseen In President's Plan To Appear Befre Congress.

Washington, Aug. 7.—President Wilson will confer late today with the committee of cabinet members and other high government officials who drew up the recommendation on which he is basing his food price message to congress.

Although the purpose of the conference was not announced it is believed Wilson intended to read to these officials the message he will present to congress at 4 p. m. tomorrow.

President Wilson's appearance before congress may be delayed by the absence of a quorum in the house.

Calls have been sent to about 250 members by both republican and democratic leaders, but there is a possibility that a roll call tomorrow will show more than half the members vacationing.

The situation is causing leaders worry because Representative Blanton Texas, is determined to have a quorum here tomorrow. Under the rules of the house the roll must be called to see if there is a quorum, and should a quorum not be found, adjournment or arresting members is the only course.

The president's message is practically completed and is being revised before it is sent to the printers.

Wilson hopes it was said, to have laws passed greatly extending the authority of the federal government to cope with the whole living cost situation.

The president wishes also it was hinted, to have measures passed designed to reach the small individual profiteer. This, it is thought probable, would reach the retailer who extorts an excessive profit.

Carrying out of his program, it was said would require enactment of three or four additional laws by congress.

STATE HOUSE NEWS

Communications were received by Governor Olcott yesterday from two more members of the Oregon legislature regarding the special session. These were Senator F. H. Porter of Linn and Senator M. D. Shanks of Sherman and Wheeler. The former is unqualified in his support, while the latter is opposed to serving without pay, holding that the matter of woman suffrage is of sufficient importance to warrant the state in going to the expense of the session. However, he agrees to serve if the finances of the state are in such condition that per diem cannot be paid. He suggests that if the session is called that it be after harvest season.

Following the issuance of blanks for classification, Deputy Secretary Kozer has received returns from six institutions of the state that are open to returned soldiers and sailors. These are Willamette University, the Capital Business College, Salem; Pailomath college, Philomath; Eugene Business college, Eugene; Pacific University, Forest Grove; Behnke-Walker Business college, Portland.

In its compilation of statistics as to its beneficiaries, the industrial accident commission has found that out of a total of 563 women who have become widows since the establishment of the department, only 24 have re-married. The act provides that when a widow remarries her monthly compensation ceases, though she is allowed a lump sum of $3000 on her marriage, while is there are children their payments are continued.

Following an informal conference with assistants of the Attorney General's office yesterday, the Public Service Commission has announced a hearing to be held in Portland August 27, for the purpose of investigating the authority of the recent advance in telephone rates. The commission has received a copy of the new schedule, which in many instances makes radical advances and affects almost every town in the state, but there is nothing about the schedule to indicate precisely when it was authorized by the Postmaster General, nor was there enclosed a copy of the specific orders issued in connection with it by the Attorney General. Prominent attorneys of Portland has gone so far as to state that in the absence of such copies the authority of the schedule is in question and that patrons are justified in refusing to pay the advance. All interested persons in the state are invited to attend the hearing in Portland and undoubtedly there will be a wide representation. Should the Commission demonstrate that it has jurisdiction in the matter it is assumed that they will restore the schedule as authorized by them last May.

C. F. Stone of the Fish and Game Commission was a visitor at the state house recently, in conference with officials with regard to the proposed construction of a power dam at the end of Link River in Klamath county to furnish power for the California Oregon Power Company. It is shown by Mr. Stone that if the dam is constructed it will flood the lands of the Klamath Water Users Association and ruin them.

INDIAN MEDICINE MEN

In the Indian tribe one finds the "Medicine Man"—one versed in the healing art of roots, herbs, leaves and barks. In these he discovers emollients astringents, laxatives and tonics, all of which are prepared and offered to sufferers among the tribe. To such good, old fashioned roots and herbs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most efficient remedy in the world for female ills, owes its success. For forty five years it has been restoring the women of America to health, until it is now recognized as the standard remedy.
