PORTLAND MINISTERS MEET.—At a meeting of the Portland Ministerial Association, held yesterday morning, in the Y. M., C. A. Auditorium, a motion was adopted by which the Visiting Nurses' Association is to be given the support of the Ministerial Association. In making the motion, Dr. William H. Foulkes spoke of the excellent work the Nurses' Association is doing, adding that Rt. Rev. Archbishop Christie, of the Catholic Church, had promised to aid the cause by giving it a stated Sunday's collection. A committee of three was appointed to decide upon the day on which the collections from the Protestant churches are to be devoted to the Nurses' Association. At yesterday's meeting it was also decided that several ministers from the smaller churches should also be given places on the committee which will visit the Federated Transitions. STLAND MINISTERS MEET.-At ting of the Portland Ministerial places on the committee which will visit the Federated Trades Council, and which originally was intended to include only ministers of the largest churches of

RAID ON CHINESE GAMBLING DEN.—A successful raid was made on a Chinese gambling den, at 28 Second street, last night by Acting Detectives Kay and Klenlen, Special Policeman Gifford and Policeman Anderson. Heavy doors, the thickest ever seen by Chief Gritzmacher in his experience of 39 years as an officer, were smashed down before the squad effected an entrance. After battering down the heavy doors and picking their way through all sorts of dark, small alleys, the officers found 12 Chinese in a room, and all were arrested on charges of gambling. Ah Jim, charged with being the keeper of the place, was also booked. All were released on ball, pending their 'rials in the Municipal Court. Considerable evidence of gambling was confiscated. dence of gambling was confiscated.

East Side Push Clubs Meet.—At the meeting of the United East Side Push Club, at the Sargent, corner Grand and Hawthorne avenues tonight, the question of purchasing the waterfront and erecting a concrete seawall will be among the subjects considered. The improvement of streets, the municipal ownership and operation of rock crushers, the attack made on the initiative and referendum and a great variety of important topics will be taken up. The clubs are all interested in the second Bull Run pipe line and a high bridge to replace the present Madison bridge. Some action will be taken on these projects. C. Ben Riesland says that the meeting will be one of the most important held for some time, and urges all clubs to send their delegates to the meeting.

Policeman Run Over.—The fact that J. J. Fitzsimmons is a special policeman did not sufficiently impress Tom Crow-ley, a teamster, to cause him to check his horses, at Fifth and Washington his horses, at Fifth and Washington streets, late yesterday afternoon, and as a result the officer, who was mounted on a wheel, was run over. The bleycle was demolished. Its rider was sent sprawling over the pavement, and for a time it was feared that he was seriously hurt, but he was quickly on his feet, and is able to attend to his duties. Crowley was taken in tow by Crossing Officer Gle Nelson, and is now facing a charge of reckless driving. He was released without ball, as Councilman Driscoll stood sponser for him.

DISCLAIMEN FROM ATHERTON.—Frank Atherton, a member of the local Mystlo Sunshiners, disclaims any connection with the operations of J. M. Dickey, the founder of that organization, who is now repudiated by many of the members, who say that their leader is not all that he should be. In discussing the affairs of the circle a few days ago, a member spoke of Mr. Atherton as president of the State Spiritual Association, and office Mr. Atherton does not now fill, but did about two years ago, before Dickey had anything to do with the organization, as SET FIRE FOR REVENUE.-Investigation SET FIRE FOR REVENUE—Investigation by Acting Detective Price yesterday revealed the fact that the stone-crusher plant of Ganloff. Flynn & Co. at the head of Sixth street. South Portland, which was destroyed by fire Sunday night, was set on fire by a discharged employe. The name of the suspect was placed in the hands of the police, but the members of the firm declined to sign a complaint against him. Insurance of $2000 was carried, and the damage is estimated at $5000.

At the Vaudeville Theaters

TO keep the audience laughing seems to be the object of Manager Errickson of the Grand, and it must be said for him that he has succeeded, for this week's hill at that vaudeville house is simply one round of laughter from the time the first act goes on until the close of the bill. And of all the acts the Fox and Foxic Circus with and Foxie Circus, with a menagerie com-prised of one cat and two dogs and its performers limited to one man, can do more to dispel-the blues than any other act ever presented at a local vaudeville

Fred Duprez, a monologuist, who calls himself the "Ezra Kendall of Varieties," is also instrumental in keeping the audience amused during his time on the stage, and draws a laugh from every portion of the house. Harry Botter and Company, in a clever skit, "A Matrimonial Bilzzard," prove themselves topnotchers, and do their share to make the bill a success. Harry Antrim and Yetta Peters, introducing singing and wocal imitations, the Freeman Brothers in a singing and dancing act and Warren and ing and dancing act and Warren and Faust doing a clever clog-dancing act, are well worth seeing. ## Unselfish Motives of Doctors.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 7.—(To the Editor.)—One of the evening papers in a story on school inspection innocently attributed the generous conduct of the physicians who had volunteered such valuable service to com-mercial motives. As a matter of fact, the work was directly against their commercial interests. Its object is to guard the health of our children and to limit the spread of disease. These men and women are doing this because it is the public duty next to them: because they are wise enough to see the need and big enough to do the work without waiting to ask, What is there in it?

THE Californians opened the sixth week of their engagement last night in Sidney Rosenfeld and Baldwin Sloane's comic opera of oid New Orleans, "The Mocking Bird." The plece was originally written for Maybelle Gliman whose name will go ringing down the ages as one of the wives of William E. Corey. There is abundant singing opportunity in the plece for a company of first rate light opera people and the performance at the Marquam last night was, barring that of "The Gelsha, the best the Californians have given us.
