the choice of selecting his own box, ac-cording to priority of application. The work of constructing the boxes and reserved seats has progressed, rapidly and teamsters will start this morning hauling dirt into the show ring. Mr. Downing was informed yesterday by Architect Cederberg that he would have the ring ready at least ten days before the date of the opening of the show. The stables are ready for occupancy now and already sufficient applications for stalls have been received to convince Mr. Down-ing that it will be necessary to construct an additional 100 stalls in addition to the 200 already constructed. It is the inten-tion of Mr. Downing to have the ring ready as soon as possible so as to give the people who are to exhibit their hornes a chance to get their horses familiar with the surroundings. familiar with the surroundings.

Reports from Seattle, where nine Port-land horses are being shown at the brose show, are gratifying. There is general regret among the club members over the sudden illness of Scott Brooke's Joe Jewett, one of the entries in the saddler class. So far the Portland exhibitors have not carried off any first prizes, but Antipope, ridden by Miss Maude Hahn, received a ribbon for being third in class 148 and A. M. Cronin was third in another

Everything in connection with the coming horse show is running along smoothly and the entries so far indicate that Portland will show more horses than at Seattle. One thing that the club offi-cials are particularly anxious about and one that they wish to urge upon the ex-hibitors, is that they rush in their en-tries. President McGrath especially desires this, in order that work can be crasted at once on the percenture. started at once on the porgramme

CLAIM IRREGULAR MOTION The Young Men's Christian Associ-NOT READ IN OPEN COURT, BUT LEFT WITH CLERK. Thought Plot May Have Been Formed by Attorneys to Mix Up Rulings.

PENDLETON, Or., Oct. 17.-(Spe-cial.)-Following the decision of Judge Bean today in overruling the motion for a new trial in the Horseman case and pronouncing sentence of 10 years in prison for the killing of Clarence McBroom, there developed a little plot on the part of some of the attorneys concerned in the recent criminal cases to mix up the rulings and proceedings and perhaps nullify the sentence for the present.

When Horseman was convicted, Attorney Fee, for the defense, at once proceeded to the motion for a new trial. The arguments were made last week by both the state and defense, and the court took the matter under advisement until this morning, when the overruling and sentence came, In the case of Michael McCarthy, convicted and sentenced to four years for robbing Editor J. P. McManus, as soon as sentence was pronounced At-torney Pruitt filed a motion for a new trial, contrary to the usual practice, in order to aid the Horseman attorneys and to enable them to secure a decision and sentence under the old law relating to new trials. The McCarthy mo tion was not made in open court, but was quietly left with the clerk. Now that the motion for a new trial in the Horseman case has been overruled, instead of perfecting an appeal this time the attorney for the defense will go into court again and make another motion for a new trial under the new law of 1907, which provides for filing of the motion after instead of before sentence is passed.

CUT LEADS TO LOSS OF LEG

Traveling Man Receives Wound Ac- cidentally Inflicted by Wife.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 17.-(Spe-cial.)-From a slight wound inflicted accidentally by a penknife in the hand of his wife, E. M. Bauer, a traveling man from Iowa, has lost a leg. Bauer and wife were waiting at La Crosse, Wash, for the O. R. & N. train for Spokane. Bauer had his lower limbs crossed and in attempting to arise when he heard the train approaching his leg struck the blade of the open knife, which was the blade of the open knife, which was resting in his wife's hand on the seat. The blade penetrated the left leg for an inch at the knee joint. The trip was abandoned, a physician was sum-moned, but blood polsoning followed, and yesterday, at Colfax, the leg was amputated at the middle of the thigh.

They should make it a practice to use some tried and reliable remedy like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, that will ald Nature and not force it and will take care of the sudden attacks of acute indicestion.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a patent medicine, but are com-posed of the very elements which na-ture provides the healthy stomach to do the work of digestion-pepsin, diastase, golden seal, etc. There is no secret in their preparation-they are absolutely pure and therefore all the world uses them.
