PORTLAND SOCIETY ACTIVE

Organization Arranges for Loan Exhibitions, to Be Sent From Boston, of Best Specimens of Handicraft of Other Cities.

The Society of Arts and Crafts, recently organized in this city, has now perfected its organization and is engaging in active work. The aim of the soclety is to encourage and develop a taste for articles of use and beauty that are made by hand. It is found that a great many persons in Portland are capable of designing and executing artistic work, and through this association opportunities will be afforded for exhibiting and selling their handlwork. At the same time, the exhibitions, lectures and demonstrations that will be given under the auspices of the society will cutivate the love of the beautiful and elevate the standard of the work are dured.

The society has allied itself with the National League of Handlersft Societies, whose headquarters are at Boston, Mass one of the benefits from which is that the Boston society will send to Portland for purposes of exhibition, from time to time, some of the best specimens of handicraft work executed by craftsmen of other cities. These exhibitions will prove very interesting to the public, as well as to the workers, and will comprise articles made by hand, from original designs, in metals, leather, wood, glass and other materials.

DAY FOR THANKSGIVING

Governor Chamberlain Asks Deliverance From the "Knockers."

SALEM, Or., Nov. Is.—(Special.)—In his annual Thanksgiving proclamation Governor Chamberlain made a very pointed though indirect reference to the financial trouble. The proclamation is as follows: The Precident has set apart Thursday, the 28th day of November, A. D. 1807, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. Therefore, I. George E. Chamberlain, as Governor of the State of Oregon, do proclaim said flay as a holiday in this state.

Let it be proposity observed. There God. Let it be properly observed. Thank God for the manifold blessings we enjoy, and pray him that we may have more confidence.

In our neighbors so that the good things we have may continue to abide with us.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused the great seal of the State of Oregon to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Salem, this lith day of November, A. D. 1907.

F. W. Bennon, Secretary of State. GOVERNOR NAMES DELEGATES

Oregon Men to Attend Rivers and Harbors Congress.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 14 .- (Special . - One of the most important delegations Governor Chamberlain has appointed to represent this state at an unofficial gathering of citizens of the United States is the delegation to the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which will meet December 4 of this year at Washington, D. C. The appointment of this delegation is important because Oregon is deeply interested in river and harbor improvements, and because this convention will be held while the United States Congress is in session, and the representatives will have an opportunity to do personal work in behalf of this state.

The delegation named by the Governor is composed of: E. Hofer, Salem; Walter Lyon, Marshfield; B. F. Irvine, Corvallis; Ira A. Phelps, Harrisburg; W. A. Messner, Independence; Alex Lafoliette, Wheatland; William Glistrap, Eugene; J. L. Stockton, Sa-lem; James McEvers, Salem; A. Huck-

Sunday Theaters Illegal.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 14,-The Supreme Court yesterday reversed the Superior Court of Pierce County and declared Sunday theatricals illegal. "If the law compelling theaters to close on Sunday is enforced, since it has been held to be constitutional, a score of vaudeville and stock company houses will be closed permanently and hun-dreds of people thrown out of employ-ment," said Manager Herald, of the Tacoma Theater, when he learned of the Supreme Court decision.

I will now make you a most interesting and instructive address. I make this announcement at this time, because, if I failed to do so, you might not notice it later on. I was the first man on this continent to shout, 'A million dollars a year for missions.' Chaplain McCabe shouted it later than that, but it makes a big difference who

There was continued laughter ever Dr. Forbes' witty sallies, which inspired him to make further humorous remarks.

Seriously, Dr. Forhes gave a brief outline of the great work of the general committee, of which he is the executive head, and pleaded for the continuation of the preaching of the Gospel, for better singing and for more carnest prayer, and for more gifts to the missionary cause. He was followed by Dr. Ward Platt, first assistant corresponding secretary of the general responding secretary of the general

PROCEEDINGS OF FIRST DAY

Dispute Whether This Is First or Second Annual Session.

Whether this is the first or second an nual session of the general committee on home missions and church extension on home missions and church extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was a question that arose at the meeting yesterday afternoon when Bishop A. G. Andrews, presiding, called the distinguished ecclesiastical gathering to order. A discussion followed, and that a great division of sentiment on the subject prevalled was at once evident. No decision was reached on the point, which will probably r at until the general conference, which meets in Baltimore next ference, which meets in Baltimore next

Bishop Andrews, the venerable presidas corresponding secretary, arose and said that the meeting of last year was regarded, and he thought rightly, as the first annual session of the newly-consolidated organizations—the old Church Extension Society and the Home Missionary Society. It made the appropriations, he said, and they stood. Bishops Andrews and W. F. McDowell took the view that this is the first annual session, and Bishops J. W. Hamilton and T. B. Neeley, as well as Dr. Forbes and others, declared it to be the second annual session. Presiding Bishop Andrews shut off further debate on the question, however, saying he thought it needless to discuss the matter, as it was evident tion, which is really of great importance. especially as to church history. Business of Opening Session.

The session at Taylor-Street Church began shortly after 2 o'clock, with Bishop Andrews in the chair. The latter announced that, in accordance with the laws of the church, the bishops had elected Dr. Robert Forbes to the position of corresponding secretary, to succeed the late Dr. James M. King. Dr. Ward Platt, of Philadelphia, the headquarter Platt, of Philadelphia, the headquarters of the general boards, was named to succeed Dr. Forbes as assistant corresponding secretary. Additional corresponding secretaries and field agents will be elected or appointed later. Their positions were left with a special committee, as there is a technical matter to be investigated.

Recording Secretary A. G. Kynett called the roll of members, and there was responses from many of the bishops, all the officers of the board at Philadelphia. representatives from the board and from the representatives of the 14 general conthe representatives of the 1s general con-ference districts, making up a brilliant assembly. Many distinguished editors and churchmen from all over the country were also present, as well as most, of the Portland ministers and many promi-nent laymen. The session continued until 4:39 P. M., when adjournment was taken o'clock this morning, when the until 9 o'clock this morning, when the second business session will occur.

After, the rollcall, Bishop McDowell moved the appointment of committees, which was adopted, and also asked for information as to whether or not there were any rules of order in existence for the conduct of the general committee. This was the point that created the most theresting discussion of the session, but interesting discussion of the session, but which passed unsettled, although Bishop Andrews, when asked why it was not settled, replied:

"I have already settled it in my own mind," evidently meaning, from his utterances while occupying the chair, that he regarded this as the first session of the general committee, and that therefore no rules for its conduct, existed.

Change in Appropriations Opposed

Dr. Forbes, who is one of the most distinguished churchmen on the general com mittee, introduced a resolution which h said he thought would create considerable discussion, and it did. There was so much discussion that he finally withdrew his paper. It was, in effect, a most far-reaching move, had it carried, for it changed the appropriations, making them effective from the first of January. This would make the general committee's work come under the calender year, whereas, come under the calender year, whereas, the church organization is conducted by conference years. Not all the bishops spoke on the subject, but all who did speak were opposed to the change; in fact, none but the office force, located at Philadelphia, favored the change. They argued that as appropriations are now given it is about two years after date. given, it is about two years after date that the funds are finally sent out, in many instances. They wished a system, they said, that would clean up the funds every year. At this juncture, Bishops Andrews in-troduced Dr. Homer Eaten, of New York; Dr. H. C. Jennings, of New York; Dr. A. B. Leonard, of New York, and Dr. H. K. Carroll, of New York, all distinguished Methodists.

Reports From 60 Leading Cities Show Conditions Better.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.-Comparatively sound conditions in commercial and man-ufacturing interests are indicated by special reports to R. G. Dun & Co. from sixty or more of the leading cities of the coun-try. Conservatism in accumulating stocks is reported in most cases, and there are many in which working hours are being reduced and men laid off. As a rule, how-ever, the reduction in production is taken rather as a measure of precaution than because of greatly diminished orders. All New England points report reduc-tions in production of cloth, but do not tions in production of cloth, but do not indicate any serious crisis. On the contrary, the usual report is that industrial conditions are fair. The check system has been introduced in a few cases in New Tork and Pennsylvania.

and Pennsylvania. Conditions farther west are more fa-vorable than when the money stringency first became acute. From Grand Rapids, the large furniture center, it is reported that all factories are running fully. Some reductions in output and in number of men employed are reported from Detroit and Milwaukee. It is reported at Detroit that confidence is returning in the monetary situation, while at Grand Rapids sufficient cash is available for many collections because checks are in pay-rolls. Clearing house checks are in use at Milwaukee in small denominations. Collections are generally reported good throughout the West. Favorable reports are received from many Southern points. Falling off in business is reported at Atlanta and Dailas and to a limited extent at other points. The system of clearing house certificates is extensively in use in Georgia, where they are accepted without question in small denominations. It is notable that failures from nearly all points of the United States are reported to be only normal and collections are better than would be indicated by the stringent condition of the money market.
