THINKS CRISIS IS PAST

Louis J. Wilde returns from Omaha and discusses money stringency.

Louis J. Wilde, president of the German-American Bank, has returned from an extended trip through the Middle West and California. He takes an optimistic view of the general situation and declares the worst is over and that there is great improvement in industrial conditions all along the line. Mr. Wilde was in Kansas City and more than once declared of Commerce closed its doors, but says the situation really improved immediately after, for many people had been expecting this disaster and experienced a sense of relief when the bank closed. After spending some time in Southern California, Mr. Wilde visited Kansas City and the cities of Nebraska and Minnnesota. "Omaha banks are in a most satisfactory condition," said Mr. Wilde, "with large reserves of 40 and 50 per cent on hand. San Diego was the only large city on the Pacific Coast that did not resort to asset currency and deposits in the banks of that city have been piling up right along. Mr. Wilde was pleased with the general situation and said he was satisfied that the trouble is over, unless some unexpected complications set in.

Make St. John a Dry Town.

John Methodist Church, does not hea-tate to say that the saloons of St. John will be put out of business at the June election. He says that prohibition was beaten at the last election by the June votes. Mr. Young thinks that the recent case of Louis Richards, whose saloon the license was withdrawn, has helped the temperance campaign more than all the speeches. He says that 75 per cent of the people of St. John want the ordinance passed putting the lid on the saloons and such places on Sunday, but which the Council has refused to act on at all.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—After a voyage occupying over a year, during which the crew was scattered by hurricanes ever felt by the oldest hands on board, the British ship Dymonore left Montevideo for England, November 21, 1896, and met with no unusual weather until getting well down the East Coast of South America. She encountered heavy weather while the vicinity of Cape Horn was reached, and by May 19 many members of the crew were partly disabled.
It was on May 19 that the Dymonore encountered the heaviest weather she has ever known. The vicinity of Cape Horn was reached, and by May 19 many members of the crew were partly disabled.
The fore topgallant yard fell through the deck and nearly killed a man who was sleeping in the forecastle. By May 20 the sea was a deluge. The decks were flooded with wreckage that the heavy seas made it impossible to clear. For five days all hands lived in the cabin aft.
After that the work of clearing away the wreckage began, and while superintending this Captain Proctor received a serious injury to his back. The hurricane deftly declared the ship was to be sunk. The work of clearing away the District Attorney to Institute Proceedings Against Her Bondsmen.

Larry Sullivan and "Mysterious Billy Smith."

Since Grace Reed, colored, who was convicted of stealing $500 from a man named Johnson in the North End, jumped her bond of $100 and escaped trial, the bond has remained unpaid, as well as that of Jessie Earl, alias Burns, Deputy District Attorney Adams has prepared suits for filing against the bondsmen and will take the matter into the Circuit Court and force payment unless payment is made immediately.

The case will be heard January 3.

As Lloyd Burtis has surrendered himself to the authorities the bondsmen will not have to settle for the bond, although Mr. Adams had prepared to sue them also in case they did not make prompt settlement.

ESTATE IS WORTH $23,999

Appraisers Complete Inventory of Property of Late J. T. McDonnell.

According to the appraisement of George A. Bredie, J. F. Smith and Frank Hoberg, the estate of John T. McDonnell, late of the firm of McAllen & McDonnell, is worth $23,999.22. Of this amount $23, 692.82 is his interest in the business of a dry goods firm, and $300 is personal property.

The appraisers assert that the real estate and personal property belonging to McAllen & McDonnell is worth $7,523.24.
The indebtedness of the partnership is $38,475.50 for merchandise and $14,000 on a note, or a total of $52,475.50. According to the appraisement, on October 29, 1907, Daniel McDonnell drew from the firm $15,523.20, and between October 29 and December 27, 1906, he drew from the firm $2,000.00, making a total of $17,523.20.
Three hundred dollars was drawn from the partnership estate by the widow upon the order of the court.

Mr. McDonnell left the entire estate, according to his will, to the widow, with the exception of $1000 of his personal effects, which go to his nephew.

Will Test 10-Hour Law.

Deputy District Attorney H. E. Adams and William D. Fenton are to start for Washington, D. C., within a few days to appear before the United States Supreme Court in the state case against Curt Muller, a laundryman of this city.
The case will be a test case of the ten-hour female labor law. Muller was charged with employing women for more than ten hours a day, and the case was fought out in the Circuit Court several years ago. The Manufacturers' Association, because of the far-reaching effects of the decision supports Muller, while the Labor Commission is supporting the state's position.

Mr. Adams and Judge Louis D.
Bradley, of Boston, will defend the case in Washington, where Fenton will be assisted by Attorney Henry H. Gilroy, of Washington, D. C.

Sues on Lumber Contract.

P. T. Davis has brought suit in the Circuit Court against W. E. Potter to recover $175,000, which is alleged Potter owes for lumber furnished by the McAllen & McDonnell lumber company, of which Davis was a partner.
He says in his complaint that between January and May of this year the company furnished Potter with 145,222 feet of lumber for which he was to pay $12 a 1000. It is asserted that he has paid only about $600 on his bill.

Court Notes.

The estate of Jeremiah O'Leary has been appraised by T. D. Dinan, C. J.
Concepcion and H. G. Schneider at $4500.

The Leona Mills Company has filed an attachment suit in the Circuit Court against W. E. Potter for $400.27 alleged to be due the mills for lumber and ties delivered between December 22, 1905, and January 4, 1906.

Mrs. E. E. Windle filed a suit for divorce from James C. Windle in the Circuit Court yesterday, alleging that her husband deserted her August 29, 1906.
They were married December 26, 1875.

On the eve of his departure with the troops for the Philippines Harry West-erwell Grege, of Vancouver Barracks came to the Courthouse yesterday and obtained a license to marry Harry Hohn Sheldon.

E. C. Hochapfel has also brought an attachment suit in the Circuit Court, against Floyd S. Ervorts and Frank Carr, of Eugene & Co., for $400.27 alleged to be due the mills for lumber and ties
January 4, 1906.

Judge Webster yesterday denied the petition of George C. Flinders that he be appointed guardian of D. M. Flinders, the aged man having died at the Insane Asylum between the time the petition was filed and the time it was taken up for consideration. D. M. Flinders was formerly in the real estate business in Albion.

C. O. Pick has been made the defendant in a suit brought against him in the Circuit Court by Eilers Piano House to recover $3000. It is alleged that the piano company bought the instrument from Mrs. W. P. Moorman, November 21, but that the transfer company refuses to surrender it.

The Diamond Match Company is suing Charles H. Chick in the Circuit Court to recover $1000, which it is asserted the company paid in taxes on a piece of property in Grand Rapids, Mich., purchased from Chick. The complaint alleges that the property was purchased December 30, 1897, and the taxes paid February 1, 1898.

Alleging that she was cut and bruised by the overturning of a stage on the Blue Mountain Rapid Transit Line, between Canyon City and Austin, Mrs. S.
S. Phelps has brought suit in the Circuit Court against Frank Metzchan, proprietor of the line, to recover $2000 damages.
The accident occurred November 3. Mrs.
Phelps asserts it was because of carelessness on the part of the driver.

The sold fever still influencing them, they made their way back to California in 1856, by way of the Panama route.

After staying a few years, Mr. Peake again returned to Missouri, by stage, to be with his mother during her last illness and death. Again crossing the plains, driving his own team, he engaged in mining, continuing in this fascinating work until the year 1884, when he moved to Clackamas County, Oregon, taking up a homestead near the one on which his sister, Mrs. J. Herlick, was living. There, brother, Edward, joined them, the brothers making their home together.
They sold out in 1886 and moved to Portland.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 27.—Judge L. Willey, of the United States Court at Shanghai, China, against whom charges of improper conduct of his court have been preferred at Washington, arrived in San Francisco this morning on the Pacific Mail line's Manchu, from the Orient, and after a stay of two days in this city will proceed to the National Capital.

On board the Manchuria with Judge Willey is Dr. E. H. Bradley, Washington, who has filed an action for $50,000 damages at Honolulu, charging the head of the court in the "Far East," together with the clerk, L. R. Hickey, with conspiracy in stopping the practice of Brooks in Shanghai.

Judge Willey denied that he was going to Washington to meet the charges preferred against him.

"I am going to Washington," he said,
"to aid in drawing an act that will extend to Americans in China a more complete body of laws than the now hazy laws. The laws now in force comprise little more than is embodied in the common law and are so indefinite as to be absolutely useless. It will be the duty of the Congress that the California code of laws be made to extend to China, wherein such laws are applicable.

"In addition to this matter, I am journeying East that Congress may be asked for an appropriation for a proper Federal building at Shanghai, where the American Consulate and courts may be under one roof."

PLANS A FINE GRILLROOM

Modern Features to Prevail in Reconstructed Perkins Hotel.

While plans for an elaborate grillroom proposed for the basement of the reconstructed Perkins Hotel are being prepared, the new owners are so much occupied with alterations in the rest of the house that they state nothing definite will be decided upon with reference to the basement for some weeks. Mr.
Swetland said yesterday that the rumor connecting his plans with those of the basement of the Rothchild building on the opposite corner across Fifth street, was news to him and that such intention is farthest from his present plans which, he added, were confined to making the Perkins a modern, first-class hotel.

When the time comes for the property at the northwest corner of Alder and Fourth streets to be transferred to the syndicate, referred to yesterday in "The Oregonian," it is said plans for the proposed hotel to be erected on the site will provide for a grill, or rathskeller, which will be connected with the main building by a modern, first-class, appointment to anything on the Coast.

Death of F. S. Peake.

F. S. Peake, born in Virginia, January 17, 1850, died in Portland Christmas day, at the age of 77 years and 11 months. His parents moved from Virginia when he was 5 years of age. Living at Palmyra, Va., he came to Oregon in 1870, and moved from there to the frontier of the state, where he grew to manhood. When the discovery of gold was made in California, he went to the old time placer mines, and in the Spring of 1850. After mining for four years in Shasta and Trinity counties, the two brothers returned to Oregon by the way of the mountains, taking their mother and remaining two years.
