

MINERS IN RIOT AT FAIRBANKS

Deputy Sheriff Forced to Use Gun to Quell Disturbing Federationists.

NUMEROUS ARRESTS MADE

Nonunion Men Molsted on Their Way to Mines—Marshal Perry Determined Laborers Seeking Work Shall Be Protected.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 16.—A special cable to the Post-Intelligencer from Fairbanks, under date of March 15, says:

Members of the Western Federation of Miners engaged in a riot this morning. They molsted and threatened nonunion men on the train to the creek to work and prevented railroad men loading baggage on the train. The Deputy Marshal was hurriedly called and found it necessary to club the rioters in maintenance of the law.

Louis Daazat took five shots at Deputy Phil North, who was reported to have been injured except a number of Federationists, who were clubbed.

Daazat was arrested. Tom Steffen, organizer, leader of the Western Federation; W. E. Preistley, editor of the miner's paper, and Frank Cullen, secretary of the local union, were arrested for harboring prisoners in union headquarters after the shooting. Their bonds were set at $5000 and they were sent to jail, as bonds were not furnished.

Members of the Western Federation of Miners engaged in a riot this morning. They molsted and threatened nonunion men on the train to the creek to work and prevented railroad men loading baggage on the train. The Deputy Marshal was hurriedly called and found it necessary to club the rioters in maintenance of the law.

DEAD OF THE NORTHWEST

John Buchanan, Who Located in Lewis County in 1853.

CENTRALIA, Wash., March 16.—(Special.)—John Buchanan, pioneer, died Sunday at the age of 76, death being due to cancer of the stomach. Mr. Buchanan was born in Henderson County, Ill., in 1832. In 1853, with his wife, he came to this country, settling at Boldest, this county. Six years later Mr. Buchanan returned to Illinois to be married, returning to this county in 1863. He crossed the plains were made by wagon over the old Oregon trail. In 1884 he settled in this city and was engaged in the mercantile business. Mr. Buchanan was married three times, his last wife, with whom he has not lived for several years, surviving him. He leaves two adopted children, Fred Buchanan and Mrs. G. W. Noll, both of this city, and two brothers and one sister residing in Tacoma.

OREGON CITY GETS WICKED

Chinamen Engaged in Funtan and Are Gathered in Raid.

OREGON CITY, Or., March 16.—(Special.)—The inauspicious amusement of the Chinese gamblers has reached out to this city, and in a raid tonight Special Officer E. A. Miles gathered in seven Chinamen from the quarters of St. Bernard, where a full-fledged fantan game was in progress.

Brick Block for Cheshals.

CHEHALIS, Wash., March 16.—(Special.)—Dan W. Bush and J. C. Bush have awarded a contract to F. K. Giesman, of this city, for the erection of a two-story brick block on Market street, to be 50x108 feet in size. The building will be modern in every way, equipped with hot water heating plant and other conveniences, and will cost, when completed, $18,000. Emil Kruger, contractor, is completing a two-story brick block on Cheshals avenue for John Garbe at a cost of $12,000.

Benjamin Athey.

OREGON CITY, Or., March 16.—(Special.)—Benjamin Athey died yesterday at his home near Stafford, in his 78th year. He was an Oregon pioneer, and is survived by a wife and three children, Mrs. Eva Borland, Mrs. Clara DeNeul, Mrs. Flora DeNeul, of Clackamas county, and Mrs. Dora Borland, of Clark county, Wash.

Mrs. Julia Lawlor, Aged 97.

MARSHFIELD, Or., March 16.—(Special.)—Mrs. Julia Lawlor, aged 97, and one of the oldest Coos Bay pioneers, died today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Kronmoller, in this city. She was a native of Ireland and had lived in Oregon since 1838. She was the oldest white resident of Coos county.

ASKS TO BE LEFT ALONE

Jere Knode Cooke Confesses and Excuses His Ill-felt Love.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—Jere Knode Cooke, the unrooked pastor of St. George's Church, Hempstead, L. I., who eloped about a year ago with Floretta Whaley and who under the name of "Balcom" is now occupying a flat on the outskirts of this city, with the girl and their baby, told the following story of his life today.

"My parents died when I was very young, but, young as I was, I remember distinctly my mother making me promise to enter the ministry. As I grew older the calling appealed to me more and more, and I decided to enter the church. I was adopted by a man named Cooke, whom I took upon as an uncle, and attended the public schools. When I was 15 years of age I was apprenticed to a painter and decorator and there I learned the trade. I am now following the little I have learned, and eventually I had enough to allow me to enter Yale. Life was an uphill struggle then. I had to work my way through college, and on graduation was appointed curate of a church in Baltimore.

"While there I met and married the woman to law calls my wife. Thora I made my first big mistake. Physical reasons forbade her marrying, and when, three days after our wedding, she coldly informed me that she had married me simply as a stepping stone to social success, and that she saw in me one who was going to rise, I recognized the bitterness of my lot.

rector of St. George's Church in Hempstead, L. I. The position was a good one and one that highly pleased my wife. She had some opportunity to further her social aims, and it was pleasing to me also, inasmuch as it was in accord with my personal ambition to succeed.

"As pastor of St. George's I met Floretta Whaley, she was a maid child then, and grew under my eyes. I always regarded her as a child until one day I awoke to the fact that she was a woman, and that I loved her. At this stage I might say that, though 16 years of age, Floretta Whaley was one of the type that matures early. Her orphan life and surroundings had made her remarkably precocious even as a child, and at 15 she was in her womanhood. I say this in the face of the criticism heaped on me in regard to eloping with one so young.

"I wish it to be remembered that at this time I was at the height of my success. The near future promised me all the sacerdotal world had to offer. I threw aside everything and took the girl.

"I knew exactly what the payment would be. I knew the storm that would follow. I knew I became a criminal. I knew it all, and I did it.

"Here in San Francisco I learned the difference between the East and West. In the East I would have been stoned and put in jail; in the West people came to my aid to help me out. They understood that I had only one course to pursue, which was to stick to the mother of my child. I expected a hounding, and instead I received nothing but kindness and offers of help. And now all I ask is to be allowed to live my life, not as Jere Knode Cooke, unrooked pastor of St. George's Church, but as Jere Balcom, painter and decorator who draws a week's wages for a week's work."

PUBLIC PRINTER RESIGNS

Charles S. Stillings Quits—Will Give No Reasons.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Public Printer Charles S. Stillings today tendered his resignation to the President, and it has been accepted.

Mr. Stillings' successor has not yet been named. Mr. Stillings declined tonight to discuss the matter for publication.

Welcome in Australia.

MELBOURNE, March 16.—Preparations already have begun to welcome the American battleship fleet next Winter and a royal reception is assured.

The Federal Ministers are planning entertainments and the state governments have promised to co-operate.

HOBART, Tasmania, March 16.—The legislative council has adopted a resolution asking the Tasmanian government to invite the American fleet to visit Tasmania.

Indictments Are Upheld.

RENO, Nev., March 16.—Judge Langan in the District Court at Carson today upheld all the indictments against T. B. Riekey, ex-president of the State Trust Company. The defense has made a motion to quash the charges because it was alleged that some members of the grand jury were across the plains were made by wagon over the old Oregon trail. In 1884 he settled in this city and was engaged in the mercantile business. Mr. Buchanan was married three times, his last wife, with whom he has not lived for several years, surviving him. He leaves two adopted children, Fred Buchanan and Mrs. G. W. Noll, both of this city, and two brothers and one sister residing in Tacoma.

FEARS PREMATURE BURIAL

Boston Physician Has Been Engaged to Make Tests.

Boston Dispatch to New York World. That the fear of being buried alive is not confined to the ignorant is asserted by Dr. John Dixwell, of this city, who says that he has been engaged by a Quaker court officer, said to be United States Supreme Court Judge, to make certain that each of these men is dead before his casket is lowered into the earth. He himself was once pronounced dead by several physicians in consultation.

This fear has crystallized into a bill now before the General Court of Massachusetts, which, if it passes, will compel all bodies pronounced dead to be submitted to no less than ten tests, the most certain known to medical and scientific men, of no less than two practicing physicians, before final disposition can be made.

The startling assertion is made at the legislative hearing that no less than two persons in every 1000 pronounced dead are buried alive, and when the opponents of Dr. Dixwell's theory declare that embalming certainly is its possibility, the doctor replies that such measures are nothing short of murder when applied to persons not really dead.

Benjamin Athey.

OREGON CITY, Or., March 16.—(Special.)—Benjamin Athey died yesterday at his home near Stafford, in his 78th year. He was an Oregon pioneer, and is survived by a wife and three children, Mrs. Eva Borland, Mrs. Clara DeNeul, Mrs. Flora DeNeul, of Clackamas county, and Mrs. Dora Borland, of Clark county, Wash.

Mrs. Julia Lawlor, Aged 97.

MARSHFIELD, Or., March 16.—(Special.)—Mrs. Julia Lawlor, aged 97, and one of the oldest Coos Bay pioneers, died today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Kronmoller, in this city. She was a native of Ireland and had lived in Oregon since 1838. She was the oldest white resident of Coos county.

ASKS TO BE LEFT ALONE

Jere Knode Cooke Confesses and Excuses His Ill-felt Love.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—Jere Knode Cooke, the unrooked pastor of St. George's Church, Hempstead, L. I., who eloped about a year ago with Floretta Whaley and who under the name of "Balcom" is now occupying a flat on the outskirts of this city, with the girl and their baby, told the following story of his life today.

"My parents died when I was very young, but, young as I was, I remember distinctly my mother making me promise to enter the ministry. As I grew older the calling appealed to me more and more, and I decided to enter the church. I was adopted by a man named Cooke, whom I took upon as an uncle, and attended the public schools. When I was 15 years of age I was apprenticed to a painter and decorator and there I learned the trade. I am now following the little I have learned, and eventually I had enough to allow me to enter Yale. Life was an uphill struggle then. I had to work my way through college, and on graduation was appointed curate of a church in Baltimore.

"While there I met and married the woman to law calls my wife. Thora I made my first big mistake. Physical reasons forbade her marrying, and when, three days after our wedding, she coldly informed me that she had married me simply as a stepping stone to social success, and that she saw in me one who was going to rise, I recognized the bitterness of my lot.

TURNS OF SCREWS

Mayor Miller Issues "Blue Law" Orders to Police.

RED LIGHTS ALL PUT OUT

Illuminating Signs Removed From Restricted District—City Ordinances Will Be Enforced Against Gambling.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 16.—(Special.)

Mayor Miller on the day of his inauguration ordered the removal of all lights and illuminated signs in the restricted district. Captain Irving Ward was appointed acting Chief of Police, and instructed to order all lights and illuminating signs in the tenderloin removed.

As the result of this order, the district was practically in darkness tonight, the only lights allowed being inside the houses. Mayor Miller stated that this was the first move in cleaning up Seattle's tenderloin.

The police department were also instructed to enforce state laws and city ordinances against gambling and gambling devices, and to clean up the most sweeping ever issued by a chief executive in this city and it is announced by Mayor Miller that his first instructions are to be followed within a short time by orders removing the tenderloin entirely from its present location.

RAWHIDE WANTS BURNS FIGHT

Offers $20,000 for Match on Railroad Day in Four Months.

RENO, Nev., March 16.—Joe Eagan, formerly private secretary of Jim Corbett and now a wealthy mineowner of Fairview, this state, has organized a club at Rawhide and has offered a purse of $20,000 to Tommy Burns to fight there on Railroad Day, within four months. He says this is business and that the fight will be a go.

QUEER DISAPPEARANCES

Men Who Incur Wrath of Governments or Secret Societies.

London Answers. Wild as the theory may seem, it is by no means improbable that individuals who have incurred the wrath of governments or secret organizations who have sought shelter in the metropolises have been kidnaped practically in open day.

Only a few years ago Dr. Sun-Yew-Sen, a prominent member of the now powerful "Young China party," was seized in broad daylight in Portland Place by two of his compatriots and hustled into the Chinese Embassy. He had incurred the enmity of the Empress, and he had been kidnaped according to her instructions and conveyed to the embassy, with the ultimate intention of placing him on board a ship in the Thames and transporting him to China, where he would inevitably have been beheaded.

MAKING OVER A CITY

Leavenworth, Kan., Is to Try Government by Commission.

When the business men of Leavenworth paraded the streets in the rain to the noisy salute of whistles and bells, they were celebrating the downfall of the old Leavenworth city government.

For the adoption of the commission form of government at the election yesterday means—or should mean—the substitution of a new form of city government by liquor agents through a circumlocution office.

Leavenworth, Kan., Is to Try Government by Commission.

When the business men of Leavenworth paraded the streets in the rain to the noisy salute of whistles and bells, they were celebrating the downfall of the old Leavenworth city government.

Leavenworth, Kan., Is to Try Government by Commission.

When the business men of Leavenworth paraded the streets in the rain to the noisy salute of whistles and bells, they were celebrating the downfall of the old Leavenworth city government.

Leavenworth, Kan., Is to Try Government by Commission.

When the business men of Leavenworth paraded the streets in the rain to the noisy salute of whistles and bells, they were celebrating the downfall of the old Leavenworth city government.

Leavenworth, Kan., Is to Try Government by Commission.

When the business men of Leavenworth paraded the streets in the rain to the noisy salute of whistles and bells, they were celebrating the downfall of the old Leavenworth city government.

Leavenworth, Kan., Is to Try Government by Commission.

When the business men of Leavenworth paraded the streets in the rain to the noisy salute of whistles and bells, they were celebrating the downfall of the old Leavenworth city government.

Leavenworth, Kan., Is to Try Government by Commission.

When the business men of Leavenworth paraded the streets in the rain to the noisy salute of whistles and bells, they were celebrating the downfall of the old Leavenworth city government.

Leavenworth, Kan., Is to Try Government by Commission.

When the business men of Leavenworth paraded the streets in the rain to the noisy salute of whistles and bells, they were celebrating the downfall of the old Leavenworth city government.

Leavenworth, Kan., Is to Try Government by Commission.

When the business men of Leavenworth paraded the streets in the rain to the noisy salute of whistles and bells, they were celebrating the downfall of the old Leavenworth city government.

Leavenworth, Kan., Is to Try Government by Commission.

When the business men of Leavenworth paraded the streets in the rain to the noisy salute of whistles and bells, they were celebrating the downfall of the old Leavenworth city government.

Leavenworth, Kan., Is to Try Government by Commission.

When the business men of Leavenworth paraded the streets in the rain to the noisy salute of whistles and bells, they were celebrating the downfall of the old Leavenworth city government.

Commissioners elected at large on the first Tuesday of April each year numbered seven. The term of office is two years. Nominations are made by ballot primaries or by petition and the names of candidates are placed on the ballot, not in party columns, but in alphabetical order.

In cities of between 15,000 and 30,000 population the salary of the Mayor is not to exceed $1500 a year; of Commissioners, $1000. The Mayor presides at the weekly meetings of the commission, but has no veto power. He is ex-officio Commissioner of the police and fire departments and is vested with a general supervision of city affairs.

The Commissioners have practically full control of the municipal business. Their functions correspond to a degree to those of the directors of a corporation. By majority vote they designate one of its members to the department of finance and revenue, another to that of public works and street lighting, a third to that of streets and improvements and the fourth to that of parks and public property.

The Commissioner of Finance and Revenue is the chief financial officer of the city. He is responsible for the construction, maintenance and operation of the water works owned by the city, and for any system of street lighting.

The Commissioner of streets and public improvements has charge of streets and alleys and all public improvements made in them, such as sidewalks, paving, bridges and sewers. To him naturally falls the supervision of the engineering department and of the manner in which franchises are granted to Missouri Cannel, and for any system of street lighting.

The Commissioner of Parks and Public Property has charge also of the health department and is directed to see that all public buildings and public grounds are kept in sanitary condition.

Any further assignment of city business is left to the commission as a whole. It is the duty of the commission to plan it has worked out on a business basis. That is, every Commissioner has been virtually in charge of his own department.

Some important matter should come up in some department requiring an ordinance to take care of it. The commission would briefly outline his reasons for the ordinance and members of the board would discuss it and then it would be adopted.

This, James Smith, Street Commissioner, said today in a free hand in taking care of the streets. If he got results people would know who was responsible and they would say: "No City Attorney, Clerk, Treasurer, Auditor, Superintendent of Parks, Assessor, and such assistants and other officers as may be deemed necessary."

Again, in other cities, this plan has been in operation. The commission is at the head of a department to select his subordinates subject to ratification by the board as a whole.

Franchises and the conduct of public service corporations are especially provided for under the commission plan. The commission may grant or refuse the commission for a term longer than 20 years. Further, no franchise can become effective until the expiration of 60 days after the date of its passage.

It is a petition signed by 10 per cent of the voters may compel the calling of a special election, the expense of which must be borne by the company asking the franchise. If a majority of the votes cast at the election shall be in the negative the franchise shall become null and void.

This franchisee grabs are effectually blocked. In dealing with public service corporations the commission has the power which was granted to Missouri Cannel by the enabling act, adopted at the special session of the Legislature.

The commission may regulate the charges and services of the public utilities; it may require railroads to build and maintain viaducts and approaches and pay the land damages when they have been established by condemnation proceedings.

The plan here outlined is essentially that which is being increasingly adopted. The chief modifications in it are those provided in the new Iowa law which is to become effective in Des Moines next month. That provides for the "recall" of Commissioners by a special election which they prove delinquent and also institutes a scheme for the initiative and referendum.

But everywhere the idea is to get simplicity and direct responsibility—to cut out the red tape. Undoubtedly the commission plan will not give efficient and honest government. It administered by incompetent or dishonest men. But it will give the people a chance to know which of their commissioners are particularly efficient and to recognize at once a worthless man or a boodler. There can be none of the present dodging of responsibility.

McCredie has decided wisely to institute his new era of efficiency by putting up a citizens' ticket under the direction of the Greater Leavenworth Club. The Republicans, at least, have agreed to make no nominations, so it ought to be possible with the April election for the city to start the new regime under the best possible conditions.

The voters will be keeping with the vote in which the city adopted the new motto of American municipalities—Efficiency!

Show Up in Fine Form

Chances Are Good for the Portland Team Being Well Up in the Race for the Pennant—Some Comments on the Way the Players Work Out.

SANTA BARBARA, March 16.—(Special.)—Two games with the second teams of the Chicago White Sox gave me a good line on the ball tossers that McCredie has surrounded himself with.

It is a pleasure to hear that the players that the players who will wear Portland uniforms will give a good account of themselves. We may not win the Pacific Coast League pennant, but we can give a good account of ourselves.

McCredie is still anxiously awaiting the arrival of Kinless, Raftery, Madden and the Indian, Pinnoch. Raftery has been balking and did not leave Chicago until Thursday. Madden is with him. McCredie is not worrying about Raftery, for if he isn't a good dog, both Kennedy and Malloy are ready to slip into his uniform.

Little Red Walsh will do for one of the catchers. I watched him closely in two games and am convinced that he is all right. He has a wise Irish head on his shoulders and is in the game every minute. Walsh will make good with the Portland fans, because he is full of pep and is always encouraging his catcher. He and Bloomfield will make the smallest battery in the league and they look as much alike as brothers.

Whalen, the other catcher, is lazy and I doubt whether he will make the team. He will have to ginger up the team, for Carr will not be able to get Cooney's place, although he is a fair infielder. Cooney is lightning fast and is a head-basher. He was the sorest of the bunch, but Kennedy took him in a hand and has rubbed him until he is all over it. Kennedy, by the way, has been a jewel. He spends several hours a day rubbing the kinks out of some muscles and joints and he does it freely and willingly.

Unless there should be a kinkup with Raftery, I have my doubts about Malloy wearing the letter. He is a swell outfielder. He will make the team. McCredie is trying to teach him the safe lining them out. McCredie would like to get a good third baseman out of his crew. He would like to make a utility infielder out of one of his men, because Johnson can play any position well and is better than the average pitcher. The beauty of Johnson is that he can sure pitch. Of course, the regulars will be Groom, Kinless, Bloomfield and Marshall. The battle will be between Pernoll, Lakoff and Harmon. Pernoll and Lakoff are southpaws, while Harmon is a right-hander. Lakoff seems to have a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two left-handers, so both may make the team. Harmon will have to go to one Johnson, because Johnson has a better break to his curve ball than Pernoll. He pitches with the whole body, while the Grants Pass lad uses his soubonee entirely. It is McCredie's intention to carry two