OREGON ENTRIES FOR TRACK MEET

State University Athletes Will Compete in Games at Columbia Saturday.

MULTNOMAH HOPES TO WIN

Portland Clubmen Put Faith in Forrest Smithson, Who Will Try to smash Several More Indoor Records.

The receipt of the entries from the University of Oregon for the big indoor field and track meet to be held at Columbia University Saturday, disposes of any doubt existing as to whether that institution would be represented. The fact that the splendid athletes from the State University will be on hand to compete against their formidable rivals from the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club and the Oregon Agricultural College assures more spirited competitions than has ever before been witnessed on the track in this city. Captain Oherle Kuykendsli and his famous Oregon team will be on hand, and the "Farmers" will be gratified in their desire to meet their old-time rival in the first big meet of the scason. Trainer Bill Hayward will accompany the team.

The Multnemah Amateur Athletic Club will be represented by the greatest aprinter and hurdler of the Northwest for Forrest Smithson, the crack Oregon athlete, will wear the club colors and on him is placed the club's reliance for a victory. The University of Oregon will send several splendid athletes against Smithson, as will the Oregon Agricultural College, and, while they do not expect to defeat the Multnemah representative, each institution hopes to gather in enough seconds and thirds in the events to entitle them to the handsome banner.

Entries in the Sprints.

Kuykendall, Moores, Huston and Moon will run for Oregon against Smithson, The "Farmers" will send Swann, Greenhaw, Farnsworth and Brodle against the champion. While Smithson is figured to win the Brodle against the champion. While Smithson is figured to win the aprints, it is certain that the events will be atrongly contested. Friends of Smithson are hoping that he will be in perfect condition and smash a few of

The distance events will witness strong competition between O. A. C. and Oregon, for both institutions will be represented by the best distance and cross-country runners on their teams. The mile run should prove an interesting contest, for there are more entries for this event than in any other evenifor several years. Multnomah Club will have five distance runners on hand to strive for the mile honors, while O. A. C. will be present with seven and Oregon by her crack quartet of milers.

Oregon Will Take Weights.

Zacharias, Meulien and Meintyre, of the University of Oregon, are looked upon as the most formidable men in the weights, but O. A. C. and Multimomali are said to flave some dark horses entered in those events who may depose the Eugene stars.

The events at Columbia are scheduled to start promptly at 1:30 octock Saturday afternoon. This is done in order to permit spectators to reach the city in time for dinner. Owing to the fact that a large crowd is expected Saturday, arrangements have been made with the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company for a large number of extra cars and trailers to be placed on the St. John reute on Saturday.

The University of Oregon entries, which were received yesterday, are as follows:

GETTING IN SHAPE FOR MEET

Corvallis Track Athletes Working Hard Before Columbia Contest.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Or., April S.—(Special.)—The track men are fast rounding into shape for the indoor meet at Columbia next Saturday, Schroeder, whose best time in the past in the 100 has been 10 2-5, is to do better than that if present indications mean snything. He is also expected to show a correspondingly greater speed in show a correspondingly greater speed in the 50- and 250-yard dashes. Carl Wolff has already increased his distance in the shotput, and, in view of his short time in the event, will make a good record at Columbia. Forcest Smithson is giving

C. Moores, Crack Sprinter of the University of Oregon Track

Physical Director Heater some aid in carrying on the work. He himself is training hard for the California meets, and will incidentally enter the Columbia meet representing Multnomah Athletic Club, of course. He has not signed up at O. A. C. for claus work, and probably will not, as his California trip will take him away for about ton days early in May, and an attempt to carry on class work under such circumstances would be of little value.

Chit-Chat of the Sporting World.

BY WILL G. MAY RAE NLESS those McCredle colts get busy pretty soon and win a game. Chit-Chat will have to take a change of base. He has been threatened with assassination and has been roasted to a fare-you-well since Saturday last.

Joe Gans and Battling Nelson are flirting again. This is what the fight fame over the country want, and it will be a battle that will be worth seeing.

McCredle made a mistake in sending Billy Bloomfield against the Seals. His arm hasn't been right since he won the White Sox game.

The Portland team may not be winning games, but one thing is sure, the receipts of this open week will be welcome to the management. Eight thousand fans saw the Sunday game and 2500 saw the Oakland game.

Pope said: "Hope springs sternal in the human breast." Just at present our hopes of winning the pennant are at low tide.

The Indiana man who recently died at the age of 73 and boasted of never having a pain in his life could not have been a baseball fan.

Why is it that some baseball mag-nate hasn't signed up Ronl de Castel-bane as a spit ball pitcher? Perhaps they are waiting for a second inseting between Bont and Helle de Sagan, so as to get a better line on his control.

Officers of the Hunt Club are figur-ing on holding its Spring meet at Hills boro. They will race there in case the

—The Beavers were stung again this afternoon for the fifth consecutive time since the opening of the season. The game was a prize-walloping match, with both teams in strong with the big stick. Thirteen hits were gathered from the deliveries of both Jones and Pernoil. The Scalis managed to win because of a hideously wide peg by Catcher Madden, and also for the reason that they showed plenty of speed on the bases, while the Beavers loafed and soldiered and thus tossed off many a run.

Portland was leading 3 to 2 in the third inning, when Williams got a walk and Melcholr beat out a bunt. Mohler dispatched a hot grounder into left field and Williams bluffed for a dash home. Baskey made a perfect tons, so Williams hugged the bag. After Catcher Madden got the ball he thought he saw a chance to catch Melcholr happing off second. He tossed the ball ten feet over Casey's head and as none. ten feet over Casey's head and, as none of the outfielders intercepted it, the sphere went to the center field fence and the three runners scored.

This mistake took all the pepper out of the Portland players and they never got into the game again. The Seals centinued to assail; the offerings of University to Furnish Public Speakers When Desired.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., April 8.—(Special.)—The public speaking department of the University speaking department of the University will shortly inaugurate a miniature lyceum. On each holiday or public oc-casion, the University will make a business of furnishing speakers, if do-sired and these will thus have an op-portunity of cultivating an acquaint-ance with the art of addressing an audience from the platform. Eight em-bryo Websters will be sent out to the different public schools of the city on Grant's birthday to introduce the new plan. This system is in use at Syra-cuse University, and is found to work admirably. The country for miles around is supplied with speakers.

School, With the exception of the sixth iming, when Columbia had a big lead, Locke was invincible. Locke's battery mate, Glesson, was the shining light of the game, for he distinguished himself by catching several difficult fouls and also by pegging accurately to the bases on attempted steals. Dooley was the star with the stick, securing three safeties, two of which were beautiful long drives. MyDonald in the outfield also did brilliant

Columbia etarted off by securing two runs in the first inning. The High School players were nervous and contributed several errors that helped the opposing team. Columbia made another taily in the third and rapped Word for two more in the fourth. A trie of runs were chased over in the fifth, and one each in the sixth and seventh. Locke eased up in the sixth and the High School tallied three runs.

Jamieson, the High School shortatop was the bright star for the losers. He really seemed to be the only member of that team who was in the game, for he played gill-edged ball while his teammates were off color. Sutton and Patterson annexed most of the High School's
