Two Arrests Made in Gallagher Dynamite Case.

Tells Police Suspicious Pacts Concerning J. Kerr, a Blacksmith. Other Prisoner's Identity Is Not Known.

DAKLAND. Cal. April 24.—The first arrests in connection with the dynamiting of former Supervisor Gallagher's home were made last night, when detectives placed in custody J. Kerr, a blacksmith, and another man, whose name will not be given. Kgrr went hato a drugstore Thursday and tried to buy some filtric acid. The cierk, who had been warned by the police, as had been done in all drugstores, draw the man into conversation and found he had a good knowledge of explosives. Police readquarters was notified and detectives arrested the man. Who the other prisoner is and where and when arrested the police decline to state. Chief of listectives Peterson said this morning in connection with the dynamiting of the home of Former Supervisor Gallagher in Oakland on Wednesday night, that the Police Department was satisfied it was premeditated crime, and it is working on that basis. He says he has not asked for any assistance from any source and will not Pieces of cloth, wire and a number of other things found in the debris are being examined today by chemists in the hope of finding out whether nitroglyperine or dynamite was used. The police have forn the chimniery of the house down, piece by piece, and have gone over every portion of the wreck-

Ex-Office-Boy Tells How Ford Met Abe Ruef.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.-In the SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—In the trial of Tirey L. Ford, general counsel for the United Railroads, before Judge Lawlor, on the charge of bribery in the board of supervisors the prosecution today, by the testimony of Charles Haggerty, Abraham Ruef's office boy, showed that General Ford called upon Ruef at the latter's office about a week after the earthquake and fire in April, 1996.

Ford was accompanied by Thornwell Mulially, assistant to President Patrick Calhoun, of the United Rail-coads. Ruef took Ford and Mulially into the bathroom, where the three talked together for about a minute. The witness did not hear any of the onversation conversation.

Two new witnesses were called. One was Frank F. Morris, a bookkeeper in the Western National Bank Safe Deposit Vaults. He testified that Abraham Ruef on May 25, 1896, rented a third safe deposit box, coincident with the drawing by Ford of $50,000 in small bills at the mint on that date, which, it is alleged by the prosecution, was the money given to Ruef for the passage of the trolley ordinance on May 2.

May 2.

The other new witness was State Senator George B. Keane, formerly cierk of the boodling board of supervisors. Keane's memory was vague on some points and very little of importance was elicited from him.

Other witnesses, who repeated their former testimony, were W. K. Cole, cashier at the mint. E. D. Hawkins, bookkeeper at the mint, and Nathan Sellg, Hawkins associate. Another witness was William M. Abbott, sesistant general counsel for the United Rallroads.

A. A. Moore, chief counsel for Ford brought out that Abbott was jointly indicted with the defendant and upon this showing objected to Abbott testifying and advised him not to answer the questions propounded by the Assistant District Alternation sistant District Attorney.

Abboit testified under protest and told of accompanying Ford to the mint upon two occasions to draw money, but stated that he did not know what his chief did with it or what it was intended for.

Heney Causes Ex-Convict to Be Excused From Service.

SAN FRANCISCO. April 24.—Morris Haas, a liquor-dealer, one of the accepted jurous in the trial of abraham Rinef, was denounced today by Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Heney as an ex-convict and was dismissed by Judge Dooling. The incident caused quite a sensation in court just before adjournment at noon, denny arose and dramatically forced Haas to admit that he had served two years in San Quentin for embezglement, Haas was sent up from this city in 1888 and was pardened two years later by Governor Waterman. Frank J. Murphy, of counsel for Ruef, brought out that Haas' accuser afterwards committed suicide.

Haas was deeply affected by the laying hare of his record in open court. He stated that he several times and asked to be excused from sitting on the jury. lass is the second ex-convict drawn on

No new prors were sworn teday, and on account of the elimination of Hass, the case is further away from trial than it was yesterday, leaving three vacancies to be filled.

HYDE'S PROMISES BROKEN

Confession of Land-Grabber's Agent Repeated in Land-Fraud Trial. Says Hyde Refused Him Share of Profits.

WASHINGTON, April M .- The pro ion reached a progressive stage today is he Hyde-Benson-Dimond-Schneider land the Hyde-Benson-Dimond-Schneider land fraud cases, when W. J. Burns, the secret service agent, who took a leading part in unearthing the scandal, was called in advance of the time set for him to appear, in order to introduce evidence of the confessions made by Joost Schneider with reference to Hyde and Benson. Justice Stafford ruled on a vital point when he told the jury that Mr. Burns' testimony was to be regarded only as against Schneider. The court ruled that it must first be established that Schneider knew that school land obtained by him for Hyde was to be used as a basis of exchange for other lands. "Schneider said he had made millionaires out of Hyde and Benson," testified

Other points in Mr. Burns' testimony related to an interview between Mr. Burns. J. Knex Corbett and Joost Schneider at Tucson, Ariz. Mr. Burns said Schneider admitted to him that he had written letters to Commissioner Binger Hermann of the land office exposing the transactions of Hyde, Dimond and Benson. Mr. Burns stated that posing the transactions of Hyde, Dimond and Benson. Mr. Burns stated that Schneider admitted the truth of the statements made in the report of Special Agent Helsinger and said further that he had turned against Hyde because the latter refused to give him his promised share of the profits in the lieu land. Schneider, it was also testified, admitted ha had been connected with Hyde and Benson in their lieu land operations from 1897 to December, 1901. 1897 to December, 1901, Nevada Supreme Court Renders De cision Against Miners' Union.

CARSON, Nev., April 24.—The Supreme Court of Nevada today handed down a decision which renders boycotts in all forms illegal and also makes it possible for parties injured to recover damages against any party, individual or corporation who inefitutes a boycott. The case in question is that of L. C. Branson, of Goldfield, vs. the industrial Workers of the world. The I. W. W. and the Gold-field Minors' Union declared a boycott against Branson, who conducted the Goldfield Sun, it a newspaper. The efforts of the unions ruined Branson and he sued the I. W. W.

The trial court ruined that as the union was a voluntary unincorporated body, it could not as a body be sued. The Supreem Court reversed this decision and decided; "Neither at common law nor under the statutes modifying the common law doctrines is it lawful for workmen to combine to injure another's business by causing his employes to leave his services by intimidation, threats, molestation or coercion.
