BT WILL G. MAC RAE.

Any old time you can't hit the ball and the other fellows are slamming it around the lot when hits mean runs, the team that clouts the ball is the one the team that clouts the ball is the one to win. This is why the Seals, fresh from a double defeat of Sunday, handed us a collection of horse collars, while the fellows on the San Francisco pay roll fattened their batting averages off Bobby Groom and chased four runs over the pan. The Seals sent a shattered line up into the fray. McArdie was switched to first on account of Nick Williams bad ankle and Curtis lined up at third.

The shattered combination, with the wendrous work of Mr. Sliver Henley, who hurled them down the grove, was good enough to win. Portland never had a chance from the time that Umpire Jack a chance from the time that Umpire Jack O'Connell, looking hale and hearty after his long disappearance from our midst, sang out the "batteries for today."

Unable to Hit Henley

Mr. Henley didn't seem to be working very hard, yet McCredie's hired men were shamelessly helpless in trying to solve the mysteries that the visitor passed down ine alley to them. Not once during the nine finings did a Portlander get a chance to stick his spikes in the sack at second, and only two died on the stations. Danzig, Casey and McCredie, who batted for Groom in the closing spasm, were the only ones to hit Henley safely, while Groom was located for a total of while Groom was located for a total of Four ripping double plays ilvened up the otherwise dull matines. Portland worked a two and the Seals two. The unp was called upon to render a couple of tight called upon to render a couple of tight decisions at the plate and when they went against the Seals there was a howl of protest. Willis became so grieved over the calling out of Hildebrand at the plate that he vented his displeasure on the poor old broom. The ump felt sorry for the plate swab, so he shooed Willis out of the lot. Willis hadn't seen a ball game for so long that he wanted to stay and tried to make believe that he couldn't open the gate. O'Connell stopped the proceedings until Willis found his way out.

Curtis walked and Melchior forced him at second. Zeider singled to right and Piper to left. Bassey booted Piper's single and Melchlor kept - a coming home. A quick double play wound up the Seals

Berry's walk became a run in the fifth. while Groom, Casey, Madden and Cooney were doubling out Hildebrand and Mohler. Curtis opened the sixth inning with a single. Meichlor sacrificed him a peg. Curtis scored on an infield out. This was The score:

Nelson's automobile has made the same distance in 8 hours and 45 minutes, and if it can negotiate the mountains in Northern California and Southern Oregon in good time, the machine should reach Portland before 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The Southern Oregon roads are in fairly good condition, and, unless an extraordinary amount of rain has fallen recently, the tourists should find the roads fairly adaptable to good time. Several of the auto enthusiants of Portland are planning an excursion to Oregon City this morning, where they will meet the Nelson car and escort it to Portland. The car will be met at Springfield, Or., by J. B. Kelly, of Portland, who will drive it on the last lap of the journey.

If the machine reaches Portland before affightfall it will have accomplished a journey that has been scouted as impossible by a large number of autoists who have been over the route, but in view of the record time made to Redding, it was generally believed iast night that it would arrive in this city some time this afternoon, if not before.

Ex-Sheriff's Bondsmen Not Liable for Loss of Tax Money.

SALEM Or., May 26.— (Special.)—
The Supreme Court today decided against Wheeler County in the suit brought by the county against exSherlif P. L. Keeton and his bondsmen to recover $1024.82, the amount of taxes collected and not turned over by the Sheriff. It is held that the suretles on the general bond are not liable for the defalcation of the Sheriff as tax collector, for the reason that the statute requires that two bonds be given—one as Sheriff and one as tax-collecter—and that if the second be insufficient recourse may be had to the first, but in this case no second bond was required, hence the bondsmen on the first are not liable. A second suit for $1707.97 against another set of sureties is also decided against the county. Justice Moore wrote the opinion, affirming the judgment entered in the court below by Judge Bradshaw.
