BLAMES BARTNET

Brown Says No Other Living Person Directed Him in Management.

Refers to Ex-Business Associate as a "Dirty Dog" and "False Friend"-Secrets of Bad Failure Revealed.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17 .- In the middle of a severe cross-examination by Attorney Geary for the defense, J. Deizell Brown, principal witness for the prose-cution in the trial of Walter J. Barknett, today heatedly referred to Bartnett as a "dirty dog." Testimony had just been wrung from Brown to the effect that it was on information furnished by Allan Griffith, brother-in-law of Bartnett, and by Bartnett himself, that the indictments were brought against Brown which resulted in his plea of guilty to embezziement of securities held in trust by the California Safe Deposit & Trust Company, and his sentence of 18 months in the neutentlary. the penitentlary.

All the morning session was taken up with Brown's cross-examination by At-torney Geary. He divulged many secrets of the conduct of the bank in its later days, when it was slowly but surely going to the wall. Brown refused to admit that he told Receiver Lebreton that he himself sold the securities and that Bartnett did not know of their sale until he re-turned here from New York. It was at this point that he said Bartnett was a "dirty dog." He said that he had given the false receipt to "help a false friend." Sold Bonds in Trust.

From Brown the admission was gained that the bank sold a number of Western Pacific bonds belonging to various per-sons and placed in the bank for safe-teening.

During the re-direct examination of Brown at the afternoon session an at-tempt was made by the prosecution to establish the fact that Bartnett had control of the bank up to the time of its fallure, although he was in New York at the time and for months before. Letters and telegrams to prove this were, how-ever, ruled out by the court.

Brown testified that no living person except Bartnett directed him in the af-fairs of the bank, giving the impression that the spirits of Jay Gould, Collis P. Huntington and Ellen M. Colton had something to do with his direction.

Handle Millions Lightly.

Sums ranging into the hundreds of thousands and even millions were lightly spoken of by attorneys and the witness while he was testifying as to the manipu lation of the books and the loan accounts of the bank, just previous to the failure John C. Lynch, one of the State Bank Commissioners, testified as to a meeting, in his official capacity, with Bartnett and Brown, when he was told by both of them that the Colton securities were some of them burned in the big fire and the balance sent to New York and placed in a safe deposit box. Previous testimony had brought out the fact that the securities had already been sold when this meeting took place.

CHILDREN REHEARSE PLAY

"The Toyshop" Promises to Be a Great Success.

What a fuss and flutter was going on around the stage entrance of the Heilig Thenter yesterday afternoon! And no wonder for a stage rehearsal of the "Toy Shop," to be given Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, next week, was in progress. And many of the small actors vere being introduced for the first time to stage mysteries. It was a splendld re-learsal, taking the most of the two acts, and all the little people were found to be well up in lives and action.

"The Toy Shop" will be a great social event, as well as an artistic performance, for many of Portland's most prominent society women are interested from one standpoint or another. Some are patron-sses, some are chaperones of different groups and some are mothers of children the cast, so a crowded house is assured for the first night.

Something new, written by Mrs. Gaynor specially for the Portland performance will be introduced for the first time a this production. Last year, after the very successful production of "The House That Jack Built," given for the benefit of the Institute Club settlement work when the women were talking of a returning agement, some one suggested that not y shop would be complete without a supply of Teddy Bears. Miss Martin wrote to Mrs. Gayner of the request and she and Mrs. Biley gladly responded and wrote the song which will be given for the first time Monday night. The Bears will be impersonated by Hoyt Colgate and Her-bert Hill. Miss Winnie Lewis, Malcolm Mac Ewan and the chorus will do the song. There will be four performances of the "Toy Shop," Monday and Tuesday evenings and Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, June 22, 23 and 24. Seats will be on sale Friday morning at 10 o'clock

HOPE FOR ADOPTION OF IN-JUNCTION PLANK.

Will Not Support Secretary Taft Unless Placated With Favorable Action, Declares Mr. Harris.

Organized labor in this city is following with interest the progress of the anti-injunction plank that has been proposed for the platform to be adopted, probably today, by the Republican National convention in Chicago. It was this plank that called for considerable discussion and vigorous opposition by members of the sub-committee on platform at its meeting Tuesday. The fate of the measure and particularly the form in which it will be sub-mitted by the committee. it will be submitted by the committee to the convention is what trades-unionists are watching closely. "The members of organized labor al-

The members of organized labor always have considered that President Roosevelt has been sincerely in earnest in his advocacy of legislation curbing the use of the injunction," said R. A. Harris, editor of the Labor Press, yesterday. "If he had not been undoubtedly he would not have invited Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and other leaders of the American Federation of Labor personally to attend the Chicago convenpersonally to attend the Chicago conven-tion and appear before the committee in advocacy of their anti-injunction plank. But as a rule trades-unionists are doubtbut as a rule trades-unionists are doubt-ful that the President with his 'big stick' will be able to force the measure into the platform as it has been recommended by the representatives of labor and which conforms to his own ideas on the sub-

"Organized labor throughout the country is not friendly to the candidacy of Secretary Taft for the Presidency. The laboring classes charge it against Taft that he was the first member of the judiciary to abuse the power of injunction. Labor most certainly will demand the adoption of a strong anti-injunction plank in the Republican National platform if trades-unionists are to be pacified and reconciled to Taft's candidacy in any measure." "I looked over this crowd," said Dr. Brougher. "to see which is the more curious, men or women. I think it is about even, for there are fully as many men here tonight as women. Evidently they are just as curious as the same of the canine contingent, and all doggies found without duly licensed to save will pass into the "sweet subsequently". Evidently they are just as curious as

Dr. Brougher took as the basis of his remarks the story of Zaccheus, the man of short stature, who, when he saw Jesus coming, climbed into a tree in order that he might get a better view of the stranger passing that way. Zaccheus had curiosity of a good kind, and it led him into a life of Christianity, said the speaker, but there is a kind of curiosity which leads nen away from the paths of righteous-

Dr. Brougher then showed that curiosity would lead people to become Christians. He said that he believed in the use of curiosity for leading men to Jesus Christ. He told of a number of instances where noted characters bad become Christians through first naving their curiosity excited to hear and see the preacher.

Independent Packers Propose to Establish Plants in All Parts of the United States-May Revolutionize the Meat Industry.

NEW YORK, June 17.—(Special.)— The packing trade is not at all sur-prised that the aggressiveness of the Schwarzschild & Suizberger Company, manifested most recently in its decision to establish a large plant at Portland, Or., has aroused the ire of the so-called "beef trust." Six months or more ago the Schwarzschild & Suizberger Company, hegan negotiations. berger Company began negotiations for the acquisition of a plant within the city limits of Portland, known as the Zimmerman abattoir. As soon as the Portland representatives of the "trust," whose plants are focated outside of the city limits, got an inkling of what the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger people were trying to do, vigorous opposition was stirred up and sufficient influence was brought to bear upon the City Council of Portland to cause that body to enact an ordinance forbidding slaughter-houses within the LEMOINE IS A FUGITIVE Aged Woman Leaps From the Morrison Bridge.

RESCUED AND WILL LIVE

Would-be Suicide, 60 Years Old, Recovers Sufficiently at the Hospital to Give Her Name as Mrs. Davis.

While the Morrison-street bridge was bustling with people last night at 7 In the presence of Mr. Wernher the court then opened the envelope said to contain Lemoine's formula. The paper inside was read, but it contained only a number of fantastic and sounds. poorly dressed, whose hair was streaked with gray, paused abreast of the gate-keeper's station on the east side of the draw, clambered over the guard rail to the north walk and, with a whispered prayer trembling on her lips, plunged headlong into the river below. As a slient witness of the sorrow and want which had weighed her down, she left behind her a little faded black pured.

whose only contents were a nickel and a frayed handkerchief. Pedestrians were so shocked that for a moment no alarm was given. Then their sureams warned the gatekeeper, who pushed the warning signal to the en-gineer in the house overhead. The en-gineer's shouts were heard by Frank merrill, of Merrill's boathouse, and by J. M. Conley and E. B. Hayden, who were also standing on the boathouse float. Together the three men put out swiftly to the rescue.

They reached the woman while she was still floating. Her clothes had prevented her from sinking out of sight but her
