Fill. UP East Third Street.—East Third street will be filled between Hawthorne avenue and East Oak street, a distance of II blocks, by the Pacific Bridge Company. On East Third street a temporary trestle is now being built from East Salmon street north, to carry the gravel trains. The result of this fill will be to open up another important street through Central East Portland. It will be the longest fill yet undertaken on the East Side. At East Oak street it will concet with the hard-surface pavement now being put down from East Oak to East Burnside street. The trestle on East Third will also carry the track for the gravel cars for other fills. East Salmon also will be filled between Union avenue and East Water street. This street leads directly to the gravel dock. The intention is to fill all the streets in the warehouse district at once, and the blocks afterward. By doing this the owners of the blocks can bond their property to pay the cost of the street fills.

Railroad Blocked by Horseradish Patch

Court Issues Injunction Against Oregon Electric on Petition of E. F. Bennett, Hillsboro Farmer.

EMPLOYES of the Oregon Electric Railway are restrained from digging up the horseradish in a patch near Beaverton by a temporary injunction issued by Judge Bronaugh in the Circult Court, yesterday. The patch covers 20 acres, and is the property of John Henry. He leased it to E. F. Bennett, in whose name the injunction was issued. A. J. Derbyshire represented Bennett's interest yesterday, the latter beng out of the state. The railway company is to show cause in court to-day why the injunction should not be made permanent.

Derbyshire testified yesterday that the property is beaverdam land and very fertile, raising a crop netting between $600 and $700 annually. The railroad company has assembled 25 men at the edge of the tract, and threatens to cut a 60-foot right-of-way through the horseradish patch with spades and mattocks. Derbyshire has 18 men asmattocks. Derbyshire has 18 men assembled to protect Bennett's interests, and said a clash would result if the Court did not take action. A $1900 bond was put up to protect the railroad company against loss.

Naturally the plot is a gauzy affair, having to do with a mining venture, a most opportune rain storm, a meeting under a streetside awning, a few hurdles on the read of true love and what we used to call "a Garrison finish" to the affair de coeur. Collier is more than in customary form as the principal figure of the play. His art has become consummate. He apparently has never before reached the full powers of his gift for making people happy. His every inflection, gesture, expression of face and whatever else it takes to make a comedian leave no room for suggested improvement or captious criticism. It is Cox immediately departed after th cox immediately departed after the killing. A pursuing posse of 30 men was organized yesterday morning. The posse was augmented today and Sheriff J. D. Logan assumed command. Cox left on foot and it is thought that he has not gotten far. Cox is tall, slight, fair-haired and has a very youthful appearance. He is about 21 years old.
