BOTH FISH LAWS TO BE ENFORCED

Measures Passed by Voters for Protection of Salmon Soon Take Effect.

STATEMENT BY M'ALLISTER

Master Pish Warden Says Provisions Must Be Rigidly Observed-Public Letter by Secretary Rosenberg of Fishermen's Union.

Rigid enforcement of both initiative laws regulating salmon fishing in the Columbia River is promised by H. C. McAllister, master fish warden, as soon as the measures become operative following the official proclamation by Governor Chamberlain that they have been adopted. The bill proposed by the lower river fisherman and which puts the fish wheels out of business, will go into effect August 25, the date the fishing season closes. The second bill presented by the up-river fisherman. and which seriously curtails the opera-tions of salmon catchers on the lower river and its mouth, does not become effective until September 10, or imme diately following the closed season. Governor Chamberlain has not issued his official proclamation declaring the passage of the various initiative meas ures proposed at the recent election.

"It will be my purpose to enforce the provisions of both of the fish bills when they become operative, following the Governor's proclamation," said H. C. McAllister, master fish warden, in discussing the subject yesterday, "As I announced when I accepted the office. I shall insist that all laws relating to this industry that are now on the sta-tute beoks or may be enacted, must be

Rosenberg, of Astoria, secretary of the United Fishermen of the Pacific, issued a public letter in which he extends the thanks of the organization for the generous support of the voters of the bill against the fish wheels, which was supported by the fishermen's union he represents officially. Secretary Rosenberg predicts that the Oregon Legisla-ture next Winter will enact further legislation that will add to the effectlegislation that will add to the ellectiveness of the bill proposed by the fishermen of the lower river in the interest of a general protection of this important industry of the state. The letter of Mr. Rosenberg follows:

Secretary Rosenberg's Letter.

Latest reports show that initiative bil 332, prohibiting fishing for salmon in the Columbia filver above the mouth of the Sandy, received 36,130 votes for and 30,28 Sandy, received 50,130 votes for and 30,280 against, receiving thus a majority of nearly 26,000. It can be safely said that the fish wheels in the Columbia River are doomed, because with Oregon having decreed by such an overwhelming vote that this method of fishing must stop, Washington will no doubt in the near future likewise prohibit commercial fishing above the Sandy, especially as about 50 per cent of fishwheel fishing is carried on along the Oregon shore and Oregon fishwheels had an almost absolute monopoly on all seed fish trying to pass the Ceilio Palls. Washington has passed some very effective legislation for Puget Sound and can be expected to do what is right for the Columbia.

This great victory for salmon protection has been went through the standing given

This great victory for salmon protection has been won through the standing given hill 352 by the men serving as officers of the Columbia River Salmen Protection Association. Misrepresentation, trickery and fraud employed by agents of the fishwheel ewners failed to shake the confidence of the voters in the sincerity of the purpose of the men who gave their services for the preservation of one of Oregon's great industries.

As executive officer of the United Fishermen of the Pacific, the organization which has set itself the task to secure legislation for the protection and preservation or our food fishes. I most sincerely thank you for your valuable aid toward securing the passage of bill 332.

Compromise Bill Favored.

But I also ask you to help to preserve what has been gained by the passage of this bill. Because through misrepresentation, trickery and fraud, initiative bill 318, the fishwheel owners' trick hill, received 46.582 votes for and 40.720 against, thus receiving a majority of nearly 6000 votes, the claim is being set up that a "compromise" measure should be passed at the next Legislature. And a few of our best friends, believing that the trick hill is enforcible and thus almost absolutely will stop salmon fishing in the Columbia, are somewhat favoring a compromise.

Now closest observation and study of the fishwheel method of fishing has convinced

Now, closest observation and study of the fishwheel method of fishing has convinced me that if the salmen of the Columbia are to stay the wheels must go fishing by all methods must stop where the Columbia be-comes so marrow that the necessary seed fish cannot get to our hatcheries and spawaing grounds.

Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of the Leisand Stanford University, and generally accepted us the most learned and withai the most independent authority on the food sinkes of our country, through letters and telegrams sent me, materially helped to carry bill 352, his condemnation of the fish wheels being strong and to the point. Under date of June 17, Dr. Jordan writes me that he has been asked by the United States Secretary of State to serve as International Commissioner of Fisheries and that he probably will visit Astoria and Seattle some time in August.

Thus we can depend on Dr. Jordan's aid in holding on to our bill stopping fishing bove the Sandy. ove the Sandy. As to bill 318, we can show that trickery of fraud of the grossest kind were em-loyed in misrepresenting the scope of this

Believed Law Cannot Be Enforced.

Believed Law Cannot Be Enforced.

I am convinced that it was the understanding of fishtrap men who made themselves allies of the fishwhoel men in the campaign that, under the decision of our Federal Court in the case of state against Denjelro, the trick bill could not be enforced, if passed. If they thought it could be enforced, the dead line prescribed therein for fishing and running from a point near Astoria across the river to Point Ellice, would prohibit fishing by several hundred traps located between Point Ellice and the bar funder the states' concurrent furisdiction over the whole river; but acting evidently under the impression that it could not be enforced, committees representing owners of these traps worked with the fishwheel owners for the passage of the trick bill, which otherwise would have been directly against their interest.

I am of the belief that the application and validity of trick bill 31s are for determination by the courts and that the Oregon Legislature next Spring will pass such salmon protection measures for the lower columbia as will add to the value of bill 32—provided the provisions of this bill are left in full force and not compromised away.

I have also protested against the appointment of an "independent" commission to suppliant the fishery commission appointed by the Oregon Legislature.

CLAIM WHEEL BILL IS VOID

Lower River Fishermen Will Not Heed Its Provisions. .

ASTORIA, Or., June 29 .- (Special.) - As ASTORIA. Or., June 23.—(Special.)—As the wheel-owners initiative fish bill, according to its own provision, does not become effective until September 10, it is impossible to state now just what the lower river fishermen will do relative to observing it. However, it is undertooned to the Courthouse, and especially in the office of the County Clerk. In orstood they will continue to operate, claiming the measure is so conflicting in its provisions as to be inoperative and also claiming that although it was passed by the people, it was in reality defeated through what is known as the gillnetters' conflicting bill, receiving the muc

SELL CLAIMS, NO TIMBER

TWO MEN ARRESTED FOR WORKING OLD GAME

J. D. Duback Taken In by R. R. Mc-Adams and T. B. Bidwell and Swears Out Warrant,

R. R. McAdams, of Kern Park, and T. B. Bidwell, of 247 Harrison street, were arrested vesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Detectives Price and Coleman, on a warrant charging them with obtaining money under false pretenses, sworn to by J. D. Duback, of the Oregon Optical Company, 174 Fourth street. Both men are said, by the police, to be professional crooks, who have been operating in the city for nearly a year.

To sell locations on timber claims that were barren of anything that looked like timber is said to have been their game, and their victims are supposed to number more than a score.

Duback was victimized by McAdam and Bidwell last December when he paid $700 down as a location fee for two sections of timber land at Molalia. One of the locations was taken out in the

LEAP YEAR IS BLAMED FOR SCARCITY OF JUNE BRIDES

How Experts at "Joy Counter" of County Clerk's Office Account for Falling Off in Marriage Licenses.

EAP . ear, or some other baneful | employed in the Clerk's office have de influence on the matrimonial market, has played havor with the marriage business in the license department of the County Clerk's office during the month of June.

At the happy counter, where Deputy Clerk Rose presides, there have been fewer marriage licenses issued during June this year than in the corresponding month for several years. For a week or nore business in that line has been praciteally at a standstill and Mr. Rose says it's because this is Leap Year.

"You see, most of this talk about women proposing is all loose jargon," he explains, "and the records since the beginning of this Leap Year might prove Including those recorded yesterday, only 279 marriage licenses have been issued at the County Clerk's office since the first of the month. For the same month first of the month. For the same month-last year there were at least 60 more, so there must be a reason for the decrease. "Besides the purely sentimental reason which I have pust stated," continued Mr. Rose, "there may be another more sordid and commercial reason. You know there are said to be a great many young mar-riageable gentlemen who are out of jobs of the present time, and have been since at the present time, and have been since the first of the month, and indeed before. That might be another explanation, but

In the list of 220 brides in this month of June, two of them are only nearbrides. The licenses were issued and everything in readiness for the weddings, when—bingo! it was all off. The prospective groom of one was cast into jail and the rear-bride in the other case had

The other near-bride took her license back also, saying that she wouldn't ever marry a man who had been to fall. Neither asked for a refund of the license fees, and, indeed, an interesting point might have been raised if they had, for the grooms deposited the fees in both instances.

Three sailors from the big fleet of war vessels that visited this port during the month were among the number to whom licenses were issued. Several soldiers also took advantage of the month to secure a bride.

A really unusual feature in connection with the licenses is the fact that a large number of those issued were to persons under the legal marriagable age. Many Auto Trip to Seaside Off.

The auto trip to Seaside, which had been planned by M. C. Dickinson, Louis Russell, L. Therkelsen, Henry Wemme, Lynn Keady and several other members of the Portland Automobile Club, has been indefinitely postponed, owing to the condition of the roads between Rainier and Seaside. Advices received yesterday in-formed the autoists that it would be impossible to get through over the proposed route with a wagon, and much less with an automobile. On this account the auto enthusiasts decided to postpone the trip until later in the season, when the roads will have been dried up.
