LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—District Attorney J. D. Fredericks today furnished a surprising development in the complications growing out of the charges made by City Prosecutor Thomas L. Woolwine against the Mayor and Police Commissioner by reappointing Mr. Woolwine a deputy District Attorney to appear before the grand jury and prosecute his own charges.

MARRIED FOR 57 YEARS

Wedding of Pioneer Couple Took Place in Portland.

Abram B. Stuart, ballist in Judge Morrow's department of the Circuit Court, and his wife, Johanna, celebrated the 57th anniversary of their wedding yesterday. They were married by Dr. Lyman, October 13, 1851, at the First Presbyterian Church. At that time the church was located at Third and Washington streets. They claim the distinction of having been married longer than any other couple whose wedding was celebrated in Oregon. Of 18 children nine are living. Seven of these are boys and two girls. All but three are married.

Mr. Stuart was born in New Jersey in 1828, coming to Oregon in 1849, on the same vessel as that which brought Governor Lane, the first Territorial Governor of Oregon. Mrs. Stuart was born in Maine in 1831. Mr. Stuart met her after coming West. They now reside at 389 Lowndside street.

DENIES CHARGE MADE

Dr. Cardwell Says She Reported Diphtheria Case in Question.

Dr. Mae Cardwell denies that she was remiss in reporting a case of diphtheria charged against her. She says that she was called to treat a case of mild sore throat which afterward developed into diphtheria, and then was immediately reported to the Board of Health. She says this statement can be verified by reference to the books of the board. Dr. Cardwell, who formerly was a member of the Board of Health, insists that no law was violated, either moral, legal or ethical.

DANIEL J. KEEFE GRILLED

Accused by American Federation Lobbyist of Sending Anonymous Letters to Taft, Assuring Him of Support of Unions.

Declaring that existing industrial conditions made it necessary for organized labor actively to engage in politics for its own protection, Andrew Furuseth, for 18 years lobbyist for the American Federation of Labor before Congress, in an address before 1500 people at the Armory last night vigorously attacked the injunction and severely censured Daniel J. Keefe, international president of the longshoremen and one of the vice-presidents of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Furuseth accused Keefe of being the author of certain anonymous letters that had been written to Mr. Taft, purporting to have come from a prominent official of the American Federation of Labor and assuring the Republican nominee that organized labor was not united in its opposition to his candidacy. The audience consisted almost entirely of voters, not more than 50 women being present.

Just keep quiet a minute," requested Mr. Furuseth, after having been interrupted for about the 20th time, when one of the men wearing a red tie suggested that the only way for the American laborer to get any consideration in the way of remedial legislation was to elect a Socialist.

Refers to Boycott Case.

Mr. Furuseth referred to the celebrated Loewe boycott case in Connecticut and charged that in this case the right of organization by laboring men for their own protection had been denied by the courts. The failure of the Republican National convention to adopt the anti-injunction plank, in fact, was a blow to the laborer, and the political freedom assured him in the Constitution of the United States.
