CHICAGO TAKES WORLD'S SERIES

Championship Baseball Honors Go to The Cubs Once More.

DETROIT IS OUTCLASSED

Fifth and Final Game Is Captured by Chance's Men by Masterful Pitching of Overall, Who Allows Tigers but Three Hits.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 14.-By defeating Detroit this afternoon, 2 to 0, the Chicago team of the National League retained its title of champion baseball team of the world. The present series differed but little from that of last year. In the previous series Detroit managed to get one tie game and went down in to get one tie game and went down in four straight defeats. In the present series Detroit snatched one victory out of the five games played. The Chicago team, according to critics, showed superior baseball in every department of the game in the series as a whole, although this superiority was not so apparent on the day that Detroit batted a victory out of Pfeister's curves. Detroit was handicapped by Schmidt's inability to cut down runners at second and by the failure of her heavy-hitting outfield to bat at critical moments when hits meant runs. None of Detroit's pitchers seemed able to puzzle the Chicago battsmeant runs. None of Detroit's pitchers seemed able to puzzle the Chicago batsmen, for even Mullin, who pitched Detroit's only victory, was found for seven hits. Throughout the series Chicago's hitting was hard and opportune. The occasions were rare, with men on bases and runs needed, that the Chicago batterns were not there with the needed. batsmen were not there with the needed

Few Decisions Questioned.

Few Decisions Questioned.

The games were singularly free from squabbling, and on only two or three occasions were the decisions of the umpires questioned. At no time was it necessary for a player to be sent to the bench to enforce discipline and good order. The series, however, created less interest in the two cities most affected than that of last year. The attendance may be taken as a guide. The paid admissions were only $2,232 for the five games, and the receipts totaled but $24,586, as compared with $101,000 last year. The attendance at the final game this afternoon was but $210, with gross receipts of $557.50. Of the money taken in, the players of the Chicago team, the winners, get $17,569 and the Detroit players $18,446. The club owners get $19,681 each and the National Commission $2607.

when the last man on the Detroit side went out today the pendulum of victory ceased its awinging between the two teams. In 1903 the world's championable emblem went to Boston of the American League. In the succeeding series New York brought it back to the National League. In the following year the Chi-League. In the following year the Chi-cago White Stockings recaptured it for the younger organization. Last year the Chicago Cubs brought it back to the Na-tional League by defeating Detroit. But this year the pendulum did not swing back and the flag remains as the proud-est exhibit which President Murphy has to display at the West Side ball park in Chicago.

Only three hits were made off him and one of these would have been an easy out had the ball not taken an erratic and unexpected bound as it approached Steinfeldt. He was wild at times, giving four bases on balls, but, on the other hand, his strikeouts numbered ten. One of these atrikeouts, however, occurred when Rossman made a swing at a wild pitch cnabling him to reach first safely. It is probable, however, that Chicago would have run up a larger score had it not been for the brilliant work of the Detroit infield. A base on balls was primarily responsible for Chicago's second and last run. Kling walked on four wide ones, went to second on Overall's sacriftee and scored on Evers' double. Detroit threatened to score but once. Coughlin was safe when his grounder to Steinfelt took an awkward bound and he went to third, when McIntyre doubled not the left field crowd. But the needed hit was not forthcoming from either O'Leary or Crawford, for the former flew out to Hofman, who had Coughlin at third by a beautiful throw home, and Crawford struck out.

CHANCE PRAISES DETROIT

Cub Manager Declares, However, That the Best Team Won.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 14 .- "I want to say for the Detroit club that they played clean baseball; they played fast baseball; and they played it like gentlemen and sportsmen. I cannot say too much in praise of their sportsmanship and courtesy. Throughout the entire series there was not even r small dispute between the two teams. The friendliness existing during the five days of intense rivalry was all that could be desired. Manager Jennings has a great team, but I think the Chicago team is greater. I firmly believe that no team in the world could have beaten us with the kind of ball we played during the world's championship series."—Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago world's champions.

Show Better Than Last Year.

The show this year will be better in

The show this year will be better in every way than that of last year. There are many more entries, more horses will be shown in the ring and there will be more local interest because many fine teams to be exhibited are now owned by Portland people.

Finely appointed stables were practically unknown here last year and interest in this line of sport was not awakened until the Hunt Club gave its first show. The stables that are now owned by Portland people and their splendid appointments will give those who attend the show some idea of how quickly interest in fine horses and fine stables has taken hold of the prominent people who could afford to spend money.

Farrell, of the Maplewood Stock Farm, has sent his celebrated jumper Fox Catcher and his stable-mate Fayetts to the show, together with several crack harness horses. Under the skilful riding of Jockey Harris, Foxcatcher has been jumping exceptionally well. His appearance here last year was a keen disappointment to Mr. Farrell and
