Instead He Gives Diaz 24 Hours to Resign.

ATTACK ON JUAREZ DUE TODAY

Rebel Leader Deaf to Pleadings of Delegates.

Delegation of Friends of Both Parties Even Offer Surrender of Juarez, but Ultimatum About Diaz Is Unchanged.

EL PASO, Tex., April 20.—Unless the Federals make an attack on the rebel army, F. I. Madero says there will be no assault on Juarez until after 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. If by that time he has not received assurances from Porfirio Diaz that he will retire from the presidency, Madero declares that the Juarez fight will take place at once.

"I will give Diaz 24 hours to resign," he said this afternoon, when a delegation of El Pasoans and Mexican citizens called upon him in his camp in the hills near Juarez and asked him to consider peace terms. The latter assertion was not only a reply to the volunteer peace commission, but also to Gonzalez Garza, secretary-general of the revolutionary junta, who carried a message from Dr. Gomez in Washington asking for a delay in the attack. He said it was his final reply to all attempts to secure peace; that Diaz must surrender the presidency.

Diaz Must Go, Juarez Surrender. The volunteer peace commissioners who visited the provisional president and insisted commander went under the permission of the Federals and made the trip in two automobiles with white flags. The Associated Press correspondent was in the camp when Madero met them.

After the conference Madero dictated the following: "The peace commission came unofficially and asked under what terms I would make peace. I said I would agree, as I have already said to Dr. Gomez that in the interest of peace I would resign as provisional president of Mexico. But only if I consider that the will of the people has been satisfied, otherwise the revolution will continue, notwithstanding my peace negotiations."

"I know the people want the retirement of Diaz and no re-election. For that purpose I will accept as provisional president any one of the members of the present cabinet who will call a new election."

GOULD TIE CALLS ISLAND PRINCESS

MRS. DAVID KAWANAKOA ON WAY TO NEW YORK.

Dusky Member of Royal Hawaiian Family to Attend Coronation After Miss Graham Is Bride.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—(Special.)—The Pacific Mail liner Siberia arrived at noon today from the Orient via Honolulu. Among the prominent passengers was Princess David Kawanakoa, who will marry in San Francisco but one day before continuing to New York, where she will attend the wedding of Jay Gould and Miss Annie Douglas Graham, April 29.

The Princess Kawanakoa, who was the beautiful Abby Campbell of Hawaii and San Francisco, is not a good sailor and never has become inured to the rigors of sea travel. She was among the first to walk down the plank and expressed her pleasure volubly at again being on land. She was met by Mrs. Kate Voorhies Henry, her most intimate friend in San Francisco. Mrs. Henry is as beautifully fair as the Princess is dusky, and the two attracted much admiration as they walked to their waiting limousine.

Immediately after the Gould-Graham nuptials, the Princess and Mrs. Henry, who will accompany her East tomorrow, will sail for England to attend the coronation ceremonies. The Princess carries the distinction of being the only American woman to be "commanded" by King George and Queen Mary to attend the coronation. The command was made as a courtesy to the royal Hawaiian family, which as a dynasty became extinct when the islands came under the domination of the United States.

CHALONER TO PAY EX-WIFE

Novelist Amelle Rives, Now Princess Troubetsky, Gets $3600 Yearly.

NEW YORK, April 20.—(Special.)—Princess Troubetsky, who was Amelle Rives, the novelist, took the witness stand before Referee George M. MacKellar today in support of her claim for an allowance of $3600 a year from her ex-husband, John Armstrong Chaloner, on the ground that when she got her divorce from Chaloner in South Dakota in 1895 she made no claim on him for about $70,000 or her earnings that he had invested.

Princess Troubetsky testified that she got $30,000 from her writings at various times and that Chaloner understood it was to be returned to her and promised many times to return it. In answer to a question by the referee the Princess said that in consideration of payment of $3600 a year, which is to be increased to $6000 when Chaloner is able to pay it, she will release him of all claims against him.

INTERVENTION NOT DESIRED

Wilson's Question Causes Surprise to de la Barra.

AMERICAN ARMY FEARED

Minister Tells Deputies Shooting at Agua Prieta Was Done by Americans in Lopez' Army—United States to Be Mollified.

MEXICO CITY, April 20.—Mexico tonight, through Minister of Foreign Affairs de la Barra, modified her reply to the note of President Taft regarding the Agua Prieta incident. Minister de la Barra requested Ambassador Wilson to notify the State Department at Washington that he desired to recall that portion of his recent note in which he expressed the surprise felt by Mexican officials at the crossing of the international boundary by "individuals of the American Army."

He referred to the incident of Captain Gaudet and Lieutenant Moore who entered Agua Prieta on the day of the fight and accepted the surrender of a body of federal troops. In view of the late reports, the Minister declared his belief that the officers did not cross the line to attack the garrison to surrender. The Minister asked the American Ambassador to call at the department and briefly he outlined the character of the modification he wished to make. He had read in the afternoon papers the story from Washington in which it was said the note from Mexico had created an unfavorable impression.

Intervention Not Desired.

Discussing the attitude of the Washington officials, Ambassador Wilson asked Minister de la Barra if he was expected to understand that Mexico was attempting to force the United States to intervene. Expressing his surprise, Minister de la Barra assured him that nothing of the kind was intended. He assured the Ambassador it was the desire of Mexico to avoid any possible misunderstanding growing out of the controversy.

He desired to have the United States understand that nothing that had occurred, either in the affairs on the frontier or in the correspondence growing out of it, would justify the impression that Mexico desired the interference of the United States.

Mr. Wilson assured the Minister he would immediately forward the request of the Department of Foreign Affairs to Washington. Mr. de la Barra, the Minister of Foreign Relations, made a report to the Chamber of Deputies on relations with the United States, in which he stated Mexico's defense in regard to the shooting of American citizens at Agua Prieta and made frequent allusions to the large American Army assembled

New York Insurance Commission Advises Board to Defer Elevation of Vice-President, Pending Changes but Is Disregarded.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Against the advice of Superintendent Hotchkiss, of the State Department of Insurance and its trustees, the Equitable Life Assurance Society, by vote of its board of directors today, elected W. A. Day, J. Pierpont Morgan's candidate, to succeed the late Paul Morton as president of the society, at a salary of $50,000 a year, as against the $80,000 a year paid to Mr. Morton. No vice-president was chosen to succeed Mr. Day.

The board continued the present committee on mutualization and instructed it to co-operate with the State Department of Insurance, with the trustees and with Mr. Morgan. The vote stood 36 for Mr. Day and three against and later was made unanimous. Thomas Spratt, chairman of the committee on reorganization, said after the meeting that there had been no opposition to Mr. Gray on personal grounds but that the trustees and Superintendent Hotchkiss believed the election should have been postponed until a definite mutualization plan had been effected.

Hotchkiss Makes Address.

For an hour, Mr. Hotchkiss addressed the directors. "The majority of shares in this society—to be exact 502 shares out of 1000," he told them, "is now owned by J. Pierpont Morgan and for him held by three trustees. I believe that Mr. Morgan favors mutualization, in fact, he has told me so; but Mr. Morgan is 74 years old, and we all know what distrust, unrest and anxiety have attended a change in control of the society in the past. "Here we have a corporation with 500,000 policyholders in this country, Canada, Great Britain, Australia, India, all over the world, as nearly permanent, one may say, as any corporate institution in the world can be. "If this corporation is to be sold and resold at the will of an individual owner, perhaps to be exploited, certainly to be intrigued for, or to be enfranchised and own itself."

Resolution Is Adopted.

Following Mr. Hotchkiss' address the directors adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, that it is the sense of this board that mutualization, as suggested by Superintendent of Insurance Hotchkiss in his letter of January 15, to (Concluded on Page 2.)

Werlein and Lombard in Sharp Debate.

COUNCIL CALLED BAD TRUST

City Treasurer Says Rival Is Betrayer of City.

PAVING CONNECTION CITED

Sharp charges were hurled at Gay Lombard by his Republican opponent for the Mayoralty nomination. City Treasurer Werlein, at a joint discussion between the candidates in the Masonic Temple before an audience of 300 persons last night. Thomas J. Fording was chairman of the meeting, which was the largest gathering of voters in years. Councilman Hurlight, the third Republican candidate for Mayor, was not present.

Council Called "Trust."

Ignoring the personal references of Mr. Werlein, Mr. Lombard delved into serious discussion of municipal affairs which he censured severely and recommended the adoption of a commission form of government as the only remedy. He denounced the present charter as "obsolete and old-fashioned." He reiterated his charges against the present City Council, which, he said, under the present charter constitutes "the greatest trust with which the people of Portland have to deal." He made the assertion that the new crematory plant was "a political job gotten up in payment of a political debt, no matter whether the Health Board or anybody else did it."

Paving Bases Attack.

Betrayal of the city through his activity in introducing before the Council all resolutions calling for street paving in view of the fact that a bonding company, of which Mr. Lombard was president, bonded the contractors, was among the charges made by Werlein against his opponent.

Werlein further charged Mr. Lombard with lack of knowledge of the provisions of the charter.

Mr. Werlein defended the present city charter, which, he said, was one of the best documents of its kind in the country. He asserted that it should be given a thorough trial by good men having the courage of their convictions. Faults now found in the administration of the city government, declared Werlein, were due, not to the charter itself, but to the men who were responsible for its interpretation and application to municipal affairs. With good men in the Council and the provisions of the charter correctly applied, Mr. Werlein argued, the general public would be satisfied with the results.

Sympathy for Council Felt.

Mr. Lombard, in his argument, accuses Mr. Werlein of evading Lombard's demand that he inform the voters what he thought of the members of the present Council. In his rebuttal, however, Mr. Werlein said he "had deep sympathy for these men (Councilmen) who are doing the best they know how, but the best they know how is not very good."

Introducing the discussion, Mr. Werlein, who spoke for 30 minutes, said no patent form of government known to the ingenuity of man would give satisfactory results unless administered properly. He said that under the present charter the funds of the city were being squandered and dissipated, not through dishonesty, but because the men directing the city's affairs did not understand the charter provisions.

Tax Increase Cited.

Quoting statistics, Mr. Werlein showed that the taxes of the City of Portland had increased from $890,222.54 in 1906 to $1,124,986 in 1910 and $1,647,187 in 1911, or an increase of 80 per cent during the last 12 months. "Relief from increasing taxation," said Mr. Werlein, "cannot be expected as long as those closest to the Council continue to get their hands into the city treasury. There is no justice in paying one employee $100 a month and another $150 for doing the same class of work. I would not be parsimonious, but would pay for every job the salary that the work is worth."

Overpaid Are Assailed.

"I am not after the men in the street cleaning department, who are earning the wages they receive, but I am after the men 'higher up,' who, under the present system, are building up a system of 'ring rule and boss politics.' Under this system men are now in the (Concluded on Page 2.)
